

What's Right For You?

---

Thoughtfully answer the following questions and consider how each relates to the various ways of getting experience: Part Time Work, Internships, CO-OP, Job Shadowing, Volunteer Work, Student Organizations/Leadership Positions.

Would job shadowing first help me to further solidify the type of work experience I'd like to get?

Are there activities/organizations on campus that would make sense for me to be involved in? Which?

Are there leadership positions on campus that I could see myself holding? Which?

Do I need to earn extra income while in school? How much?

Would I be willing / able to volunteer or intern somewhere without pay to get experience?

How many hours a week can I work and successfully keep my grades up?

Would I be willing / able to sit out of classes and possibly defer graduation a semester in order to participate in Co-op?

Would I be willing to take a co-op position somewhere other than locally?

Would I consider going to work full time after graduation for the company who would employ me as a student?

Which alternative would be looked upon most favorably by the profession I'm considering? (ie. volunteer work would look positive to social services, practical experience through co-op might be more appropriate for banking.)
