The Office of Equal Opportunity Programs was created to ensure that applicants for employment, employees, and prospective and enrolled students of the University of South Carolina are protected against discrimination on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, national origin, age, disability, sexual orientation, and veteran status. Qualified individuals are provided with equal opportunity in both employment and academic instruction.

Affirmative action consists of efforts to identify and eliminate barriers at USC to equal employment opportunity. The University of South Carolina takes positive steps to ensure that its policies and procedures provide employment opportunities for qualified minorities, women, persons with disabilities, disabled veterans and Vietnam era veterans. The affirmative action program at USC is administered under the Office of Equal Opportunity Programs.

The USC Equal Opportunity Policy is stated in the USC Policies and Procedures Manual. This manual is online at www.sc.edu/policies/ppmhome.html. Steps for the implementation of the affirmative action policy are described in the institution's Affirmative Action Plan which is available for review in the Office of Equal Opportunity Programs and Thomas Cooper Library.

The Executive Assistant to the President for Equal Opportunity Programs is appointed by the President of the University to develop and manage the affirmative action/equal opportunity plan and program.

The general public can obtain information about current non-academic positions online at www.sc.edu/employ.html. Job openings are also posted on campus in the Employment and Division of Human Resources Offices. Positions may also be advertised in the local press.

Faculty and administrative staff openings are advertised in professional journals and other national publications. Every effort is made to acquire a broadly representative applicant pool before the search for candidates is ended.

Employment decisions on hiring, promotion, transfer, etc. are based on qualifications and merit without regard to race, color, sex, age, religion, national origin, disability, sexual orientation, or veteran status.

The University of South Carolina does not discriminate in educational or employment opportunities or decisions for qualified persons on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, national origin, age, disability, sexual orientation, or veteran status. The University of South Carolina has designated as the ADA Title II, Section 504 and Title IX coordinator the Executive Assistant to the President for Equal Opportunity Programs. The Office of the Executive Assistant to the President for Equal Opportunity Programs is located at 1600 Hampton Street, Columbia, Sc; telephone 803-777-3854.
