Its purpose is to ensure that vending services are managed through approved contracts consistent with university and state procurement requirements, while supporting the accessibility, safety, and welfare of the university community.

DEFINITIONS

Vending Company: The contractor selected through a formal procurement process to provide vending and automatic retailing machine services (e.g., snacks and beverages) at a USC institution. Each institution's provider holds the exclusive right to operate vending services on campus unless otherwise permitted by contract or approved in writing by the responsible institutional authority.
