I. Policy

The university has established a schedule of fines for damages or failure to make payment to the university.

A complete listing of current fines for damages or failure to make payment to the University is available electronically on the Internet from the University's home page (refer to student information). The schedule of fines is also contained in the University's Undergraduate Bulletin or can be obtained from the Office of Financial Services.

II. Reason for Latest Revision

To allow for a separate on-line schedule of fines to provide broad access to, and more timely updates of, University fine information. Update contact information.
