The SIPA Freedom of the Press Award was initiated in 1989 to recognize an adviser or staff for exercising First Amendment rights on the high school level.

The award will be given periodically when someone makes a strong stand for scholastic journalism. To nominate individuals or staffs for the award, please complete the form below.

Winners must be present at the 2017 SIPA Convention.

JOSEPH W. SHOQUIST FREEDOM OF THE PRESS AWARD NOMINATION

Please send materials that support this nomination.

Name: _____________________________________________________

Address: ___________________________________________ Phone: ________________________

________________________________________________________________________

Reasons for nominating this person or staff: __________________________________________

________________________________________________________________________

________________________________________________________________________

________________________________________________________________________

________________________________________________________________________

________________________________________________________________________

________________________________________________________________________

________________________________________________________________________