SEVENTH ANNUAL CONDUCTORS INSTITUTE IN CHINA
June 25–July 8, 2017
Dr. Donald Portnoy, Director

LOCATION: SHENYANG, CHINA

The seventh annual Conductors Institute in China is a two-week conducting program in one of China’s most exciting cities. Shenyang has long functioned as the educational and cultural center of the Northeast. The city houses more than 20 universities and colleges. In addition to theatres and libraries, there are also music conservatories and an Institute of Fine Arts. Tourism has become increasingly significant in Shenyang. The central attraction is the city’s Qing-era Imperial Palace Complex, which in 2004 was added to an existing world heritage site.

Directed by Dr. Donald Portnoy, the two-week program is designed for conductors with moderate to advanced conducting skills. All participants will work with the professional Shenyang Symphony in a series of rehearsal and public performances. In addition to daily orchestra rehearsals and concerts, a daily critique session is included in the program. All rehearsals and concerts will be videotaped. Time will be allowed for touring. Working conditions for the participants and the hospitality offered during the stay are exceptional. It is a rare opportunity for podium development in an historic environment.
