USC Chamber Music Day and Competition with the Parker Quartet

For advanced high school string quartets

SATURDAY

March 21, 2015

Competition Prizes:

1st Prize: $500

2nd Prize: $300

3rd Prize: $150

Take advantage of a unique opportunity to work with the world-renowned Parker Quartet, in residence at USC. The Quartet will mentor pre-formed student string quartets through intensive coachings and master classes throughout the day, leading to a performance and competition in the evening.

Coaches will be members of the Parker Quartet – Daniel Chong, Ying Xue, Jessica Bodner and Kee-Hyun Kim and USC string faculty – William Terwilliger (violin), Rebecca Hunter (violin), Daniel Sweaney (viola) and Robert Jesselson (cello).

REPERTOIRE for the day will include one substantial movement of a major work from the quartet literature. In order to work on the highest artistic level, advance preparation is expected of each quartet prior to the event.

ENROLLMENT will be limited to 8 string quartets. All quartets are eligible to compete in the competition, but are not required to.

TUITION is $120 per quartet for all activities. Lunch will be provided, and each group will be given a CD of their performance.
