2012-2013 National Survey on First-Year Seminars

This survey is intended to gather information regarding first-year seminars. The survey should take 30-45 minutes to complete. You may exit the survey at any time and return, and your responses will be saved. In particular, you will be asked questions about the following related to first-year seminar on your campus:

- General institutional characteristics
- Types of first-year seminars offered
- Specific seminar information
- Student characteristics
- Instructor characteristics
- Administration of the seminar
- The course
- High-impact educational practices
- Assessment and evaluation practices

If you would like a copy of your responses, you will need to print each page of your survey before moving on to the next page.

Your responses are important to us, so please complete by December 17, 2012. Thank you.

1. Full name of institution: ___________________________________________________________

2. City: __________________________________________________________________________

Types of Seminars Offered

19. Select each discrete type of first-year seminar that best describes the seminars existing on your campus: (Select all that apply.)

☐ Extended orientation seminar – Sometimes called freshman orientation, college survival, college transition, or student success course. Content often includes introduction to campus resources, time management, academic and career planning, learning strategies, and an introduction to student development issues.

☐ Academic seminar with generally uniform academic content across sections – May be an interdisciplinary or theme-oriented course, sometimes part of a general education requirement. Primary focus is on academic theme or discipline, but will often include academic skills components, such as critical thinking and expository writing.

☐ Academic seminar on various topics – Similar to previously mentioned academic seminar except that specific topics vary from section to section.

☐ Preprofessional or discipline-linked seminar – Designed to prepare students for the demands of the major or discipline and the profession. Generally taught within professional schools or specific disciplines such as engineering, health sciences, business, or education.

☐ Basic study skills seminar – Offered for academically underprepared students. The focus is on basic academic skills, such as grammar, note taking, and reading texts.

☐ Hybrid – Has elements from two or more type of seminars.

☐ Other

20. Please describe the hybrid first-year seminar: [If “Hybrid” is selected for Question 19]

21. Please describe the other first-year seminar: [If “Other” is selected for Question 19]

Specific Seminar Information

22. Which of the following first-year seminars has the highest student enrollment at your institution?

☐ Extended orientation seminar

☐ Academic seminar with generally uniform content

☐ Academic seminar on various topics

☐ Preprofessional or discipline-linked seminar

☐ Basic study skills seminar

☐ Hybrid

☐ Other

You indicated that the first-year seminar type with the highest total enrollment on your campus is [Insert response from Question 22]. Please answer the following questions for only that seminar type.

[To be repeated at the beginning of each page]

23. Please indicate the approximate number of sections of this seminar type that will be offered in the 2012-2013 academic year:

☐ 1-10 sections

☐ 11-20 sections
The Students

24. What is the approximate class size for each first-year seminar section?
   - Fewer than 10 students
   - 10-14 students
   - 15-19 students
   - 20-24 students
   - 25-29 students
   - More than 30 students

25. What is the approximate percentage of first-year students required to take the first-year seminar?
   - None are required to take it [Go to Question 27]
   - Less than 10%
   - 10-19%
   - 20-29%

- __________________________________________

80. It is our practice to make available specific and general information gathered from this survey. In general, findings from the survey are reported in aggregate, but we may identify individual institutions that have agreed to allow their responses to be shared. Please select the appropriate response:
- You may share my school’s name and survey responses.
- Please do not share my school’s name, but you may share my survey responses.
- Please do not share my survey responses.

81. It is our practice to create a research report based on an analysis of the general information gathered from this survey. Would you like to be informed when this research report is made available?
- Yes
- No

82. Beginning with the 2012-13 National Survey of First-Year Seminars, the National Resource Center for The First-Year Experience and Students in Transition will be conducting its national surveys on a four-year cycle. This includes the administration of the National Survey of Sophomore-Year Initiatives in Spring 2014 and the National Survey of Senior Capstone Experiences in Spring 2016. More information about these national surveys can be found at http://www.sc.edu/fye/research/surveys/survey_instruments/index.html

The National Resource Center will be conducting the National Survey of Sophomore-Year Initiatives in Spring 2014. To ensure the survey will be sent to the individual on your campus who is in the best position to answer questions regarding sophomore-year initiatives, please provide this individual’s contact information below:
