International Travel Health Insurance

For faculty and staff on university related international travel, the University strongly recommends that you enroll in specialized international emergency health insurance through USC's policy.

We offer this coverage because most domestic insurance policies do not provide international coverage or consider it out of network. Additionally, domestic policies do not typically provide emergency response assistance in the case of a natural disaster or political unrest, or if you need to be medically evacuated. The cost is $18.56 per week.

You can find the short online enrollment form here.

If you have any questions about the insurance, please reach out to the Global Carolina Office at globalcarolina@sc.edu.
