

SESSION 3

Reframing Failure

Is there a failure or mistake you find yourself still thinking about? Write about what happened and what still bothers you about it.

After re-examining the story for accuracy and thinking traps, take an opportunity to re-write the story here.

Who taught you about failure? What were you told about failure growing up, explicitly or implicitly?