The Spanish Colonial Trail: Catawba Chiefs and Spanish Armies, 1566-1568

By: Dr. David Moore

450 Years ago the Spanish were the first Europeans to take up residence in the Carolinas.

Dr. David Moore received his B.A. from the University of California Berkeley and his MA and Ph.D. from the University of North Carolina. He served as the North Carolina Office of State Archaeology's Western Office archaeologist for 18 years before becoming a full-time faculty at Warren Wilson College in 2000. Dr. Moore leads the Berry site excavation project and serves as Senior Archeologist for the Exploring Joara Foundation. He is the author of Catawba Valley Mississippian: Ceramics, Chronology, and Catawba Indians. He is also co-author with Robin Beck and Christopher Rodning of the first book on the Berry site excavations entitled, Fort San Juan and the Limits of Empire.

Please direct any questions or comments regarding the series to Brent Burgin at 803-313-7063 or wbburgin@sc.edu.

Mr. Burgin welcomes suggestions and ideas for future talks and speakers.
