“Native Beads and Burials” By: Seniors at the South Carolina Governor’s School Camryn Brown and Emily Geraghty

Brown and Geraghty’s summer internships with the Native American Studies Center fulfilled their mentored summer research requirement.

The presenters discuss their archaeological research during a pandemic, which focused their work on compiling a database of objects and burials found in various Native sites, including the Carolinas. The program features perspectives on the use and distribution of shell beads and commingled burials. This data can deepen our understanding of Native cultural practices and connections.

Please direct any questions or comments regarding the series to Brent Burgin at 803-313-7063 or wbburgin@sc.edu. Mr. Burgin welcomes suggestions and ideas for future talks and speakers.
