PALMETTO COLLEGE CAMPUSES ALCOHOL AND DRUG POLICIES

ALCOHOL POLICY

The policies described below govern the student consumption of beer, wine, and distilled spirits on the Palmetto College Campuses of the University of South Carolina and in or at any University owned or controlled facility. These policies are based on a concern for the welfare of all members of the University community and are in keeping with the laws of the State of South Carolina which state that the possession, consumption, and distribution of alcoholic beverages by persons under the age of 21 is illegal. As members of the University community, students are expected to comply with and abide by the policies and guidelines as stated below, as well as the laws of the State of South Carolina. Information on South Carolina Alcohol Beverage Laws is included in this publication.

These policies are subject to change to comply with new local, state, or federal laws pertaining to the possession and consumption of beer, wine, or distilled spirits.

USC Lancaster

The facilities, grounds, and parking lots at USC Lancaster are patrolled as public areas where open containers, sale, consumption, or underage possession of alcohol is illegal unless otherwise designated by permit. Persons not in compliance with the law are subject to arrest, prosecution, and loss of use of University facilities. Students are also subject to University sanctions for non-compliance. In order to comply with South Carolina alcohol legislation, USC Lancaster does not sell or otherwise provide alcohol at student activities on or off campus including academic field trips.

USC Salkehatchie

It is the policy of this campus of the University of South Carolina that alcohol (beer, wine, distilled spirits) will not be included in any student activities; i.e., academic field trips, club events, student government activities or athletics and field events; whether on or off the immediate campus.

Beer and wine or distilled beverages are not to be transported in a state vehicle.

Special events that relate to the greater community such as luncheons, support gatherings, and theater events shall be exempt from the above policies. However, monitoring of those attending who drink must be assured.

For special events, those beverages included may not be sold; however, a contribution may be taken at the point of delivery.

USC Sumter

Alcohol: Alcoholic beverages may be served at events sponsored by USC Sumter on or off campus. No one will be served or consume alcoholic beverages who is under the age of twenty-one (21) or who appears intoxicated.

The Student Government Association of the University of South Carolina Sumter will determine the alcohol policy for USC Sumter student sponsored events, subject to approval by the Palmetto College Campus Dean. Current policy prohibits the distribution and consumption of alcoholic beverages at student events, programs and activities on and off campus including academic field trips.

Non-USC Sumter groups/organizations authorized by proper authority to use USC Sumter facilities may serve alcoholic beverages at specified events upon securing permission from the appropriate university official.

It is the responsibility of the sponsoring individual or organization to insure that the policies of the University of South Carolina and USC Sumter, and the laws of the State of South Carolina are enforced and complied with at events where alcoholic beverages are served and/or consumed.

Drugs: USC Sumter prohibits the unlawful possession, use, and distribution of illegal drugs (such as marijuana, amphetamines, cocaine, barbiturate, opiates, hallucinogens, etc.) by students and employees on or off campus. Students charged with drug related offenses off campus must report the incident to the Director of Student Life within three (3) class days.

USC Union

USC Union has developed a policy prohibiting the consumption of alcoholic beverages, by students, at any University function on or off campus including academic field trips. This decision was made in recognition of the fact that most "traditional" USC Union students have not reached the legal age of consumption of alcoholic beverages in South Carolina.

If the legal age for consumption of alcoholic beverages changes, the Student Affairs committee and the campus administration will review the current policy. Until then, no alcoholic beverages will be allowed at student functions.

Sanctions

Student organizations or individual students who violate University of South Carolina policies, and state or federal laws, are subject to civil, criminal, and University proceedings and sanctions. The University campus is not a sanctuary that relieves students of their responsibilities as citizens to abide by local, state, and federal laws, or University regulations, policies, and procedures. University penalties may include but are not limited to cancellation of the activities, forfeiture of organizational license, and University disciplinary action. Violation of state or federal law may lead to an arrest or a fine.

DRUG POLICY

The University of South Carolina, as a matter of policy, prohibits the unlawful manufacture, distribution, dispensation, possession, or use of illegal drugs or controlled substances by University students as set forth in South Carolina Code of Laws, Section 44-53-110 et seq. This policy prohibits possession or sale of drug paraphernalia (such as roach clips, bongs, water pipes, cocaine spoons) as defined in South Carolina Code of Laws, Section 44-53-110 and Section 44-53-391; the non-prescribed use of anabolic steroids as defined in South Carolina Code of Laws, Section 44-53-1510 et seq.; and the distribution or delivery of an imitation ("look alike") non-controlled substance represented as a controlled substance as defined in South Carolina Code of Laws, Section 44-53-390.

The University must maintain its primary function as a center of learning. At the same time it must be clear that local, state, and federal laws apply equally off campus as well as on campus.

Regional Palmetto College Campuses have additional requirements. They are stated below.

USC Lancaster

Use, possession, sale, or purchase of drugs on or adjacent to University property may result in criminal prosecution and University sanctions including but not limited to permanent expulsion from the University. University and community services to assist individuals with alcohol and drug dependency problems are available:

USC Salkehatchie

Possession, except on a physician's or dentist's prescription of stimulant, depressant, narcotic, or hallucinogenic drugs and other agents having a potential for abuse violates University rules and is prohibited. The selling, bartering, exchanging, and giving away of such drugs to any person not intended to possess them is also prohibited.

USC Sumter

USC Sumter policy prohibits (1) the unlawful manufacture, distribution, dispensation, possession, or use of illegal drugs or controlled substances, including the non-prescription use of anabolic steroids, (2) the possession or sale of drug paraphernalia (such as roach clips, bongs, water pipes, cocaine spoons), and (3) the distribution or delivery of an imitation ("look alike") non-controlled substance represented as a controlled substance by University students as set forth in the South Carolina Code of Laws. The term "controlled substances" when used in this policy shall refer to those drugs and substances whose possession, sale, or delivery results in criminal sanctions under South Carolina law.

The University of South Carolina Sumter is deeply committed to the well-being of our students, faculty, staff and visitors. To provide a safe, healthy environment in which our community can flourish, and in accordance with the university's commitment to public health and sustainability, the University of South Carolina Sumter is a completely tobacco-free campus. This policy is to cover all university property. The intent of this policy is to create an environment that is conducive to quitting tobacco, promoting the prevention of tobacco use and preventing the risks associated with exposure to secondhand smoke. This will be a cultural change within the university campus and will be supported by ongoing communications and cessation programs for those who desire to quit or abstain from tobacco. Enforcement for this policy is the responsibility of each member of the USC Sumter community. Faculty, staff and students are expected to enforce the policy for their facilities and/or sponsored activities.

As citizens, students have responsibility for knowing of and complying with the provision of state law and University policy referenced above. Any student who violates any of these laws is subject to prosecution and punishment by civil authorities as well as to disciplinary procedures conducted by the University, which may precede criminal or civil proceedings. The USC Sumter Disciplinary Process is outlined in the USC Sumter Student Handbook. It is not "double jeopardy" for both the civil authorities and the University to proceed against and sanction a person for the same specified conduct.

Students who are apprehended and charged by law enforcement agencies with felony criminal conduct (which includes drug-related offenses) on or off campus, are required to inform the Director of Student Life of such matters.

USC Union

Possession, except on a physician's or dentist's prescription of stimulant, depressant, narcotic, or hallucinogenic drugs and other agents having a potential for abuse, violates University rules and is prohibited. The selling, bartering, exchanging, and giving away of such drugs to any person not intended to possess them is also prohibited.

Sanctions

The University considers any violation of the drug policy to be a serious offense. The University will respond to all reported violations of this policy in accordance with published disciplinary procedures. Sanctions imposed may be influenced, in part, by mitigating or aggravating circumstances. The sanctions imposed by the University include but are not limited to: suspension held in abeyance with conditions, summary suspension and permanent suspension from the University. The continued enrollment of students not immediately suspended will be subject to conditions and restrictions recommended by the appropriate disciplinary committee or its designee.

I. Policy

- A. This document sets forth the University of South Carolina policy prohibiting the unlawful manufacture, distribution, dispensation, possession or use of illegal drugs, other controlled substances unless prescribed by a licensed medical practitioner, and alcohol on its property or as part of any activities by faculty, staff and student employees regardless of status, pursuant to state and federal law. This policy is implemented in compliance with Drug-Free Workplace Act of 1988, the Drug-Free Schools and Communities Act Amendments of 1989 and the South Carolina Drug Free Workplace Act of 1990.
- B. No employee shall report for duty or remain on duty under the influence of any illegal drugs, unauthorized prescription medication or alcohol. Violation of this policy by academic employees, regardless of tenure status, will lead to disciplinary actions up to and including termination based upon the criteria in the Faculty Manual of the campus, and may have legal consequences.
- C. Violation of this policy by staff employees will be cause for disciplinary actions up to and including termination, pursuant to Human Resources Policy 1.39, “Disciplinary Action” and may have legal consequences.
- D. Violation of this policy by student employees will lead to sanction detailed in the Student Drug Policy of the campus.

- E. Faculty, staff and students employed on a grant or contract are required to abide by the terms of this policy as a condition of employment on the grant or contract.

II. Procedure

- A. A copy of this policy will be made available to each new employee of the University of South Carolina at the time of their orientation and annually to all employees.
- B. Grant or contract employees are required to notify the Vice President for Human Resources or the Campus Human Resources Office, as appropriate, of any criminal drug statute conviction for a violation occurring in the workplace no later than five days after the conviction. Federal law requires the University to notify the granting or contracting agency of a criminal drug statute conviction in the workplace within 10 days of the date the University received notification. Therefore, upon receiving notice, the Vice President for Human Resources will notify the Vice President for Research so the notice requirement to the granting or contacting agency may be satisfied.
- C. The University of South Carolina recognizes drug and/or alcohol dependence as a treatable illness. Notwithstanding Section I., and Sections II., A., B., of this policy, employees are encouraged to seek assistance for drug and/or alcohol problems before there is an incident which would cause the University to impose sanctions. Assistance may be sought through the University's Employee Assistance Program (EAP) or other programs and/or treatment facilities licensed by the State of South Carolina or by the state in which the program and/or treatment facility is located.
 - i. Referrals to such programs may be self-referrals or supervisory referrals. If a supervisory referral is made which includes satisfactory participation in a rehabilitation program as a condition of continued employment, the referral must be made through the Division of Human Resources or the Campus Human Resources Officer.
 - ii. Referrals and records of referrals will be handled with the same degree of confidentiality as for medical records.
- D. The University of South Carolina has established a drug-free awareness program to inform employees about the dangers of alcohol and/or drug abuse in the workplace, available drug counseling, rehabilitation and employee assistance information and the penalties that may be imposed for alcohol and/or drug abuse violations.

Information and Resources

Alcohol and Other Drugs

This information is provided to meet federal standards set forth in The Drug Free Workplace Act of 1988 and The Drug Free Schools and Communities Act Amendments of 1989.

Health Risks

Students should be aware of health risks associated with:

- the use of cigarettes and other tobacco products,
- the use of alcohol, particularly high risk use,
- the use of illicit drugs,
- the misuse of over-the-counter and prescription medications, and
- the combination of two or more drugs.

The likelihood of negative physical and/or psychological effects is increased by:

- the type, amount, and strength of the drug or drugs used,
- interaction of two or more drugs,
- your physical and emotional state,
- physical differences in body size and condition, gender, age, and family history, and
- activities engaged in while under the influence.

Problems endangering health also occur if the use of mood altering substances is combined with activities involving coordination and judgment skills, such as driving. The use of some drugs, particularly cocaine, pose health risks if used during strenuous physical activity. The following sections more clearly define the major health risks associated with the use of the most reported drugs of choice.

Cigarettes pose the greatest threat to life, responsible for approximately 433,000 deaths per year in this country. Alcohol is responsible for approximately 115,000 deaths per year in the USA and is involved in over 50% of vehicle crashes and fatalities. A great percentage of the persons involved in these crashes are in the 16 to 24 year old age range. The following sections more clearly define the major health risks associated with the use of these “top four” drugs.

Alcohol

Alcoholic beverages, in the form of beer, wine, wine coolers, or distilled spirits, require no digestion and are absorbed directly into the blood stream from the digestive tract. Within approximately three minutes after drinking, alcohol may be found in the brain and all other tissues, organs, and body fluids. Alcohol depresses the central nervous system. At low levels, vision, judgment, and complex motor skills and behaviors are impaired, making it dangerous to drink and drive. Not only are persons under the influence of alcohol less able to perform the many complex tasks involved in safe driving, they cannot judge their own levels of impairment. Because alcohol decreases inhibitions, users may do things they normally would not do.

Long-term consumption of moderate to large quantities of alcohol can cause liver damage. Heavy drinking may cause serious nervous and mental disorders, including permanent brain damage.

Ulcers, heart disease, gastritis, pancreatitis, diabetes, malnutrition, and some cancers are also more common among chronic heavy drinkers than among the general population. Heavier users may also experience periods of amnesia called blackouts. During these periods, the person functions, but later cannot remember what he or she has done during this time. Physical addiction to alcohol can occur after many years of heavy drinking or, for some individuals, soon after the first drink. Addicted persons feel that they need alcohol for their brains to function normally, and they experience withdrawal when alcohol use stops. Moderate withdrawal symptoms include craving alcohol, anxiety, weakness, tremors, and perspiration. More severe withdrawal symptoms include nausea, vomiting, seizures, convulsions, hallucinations, and delirium tremens. Severe alcohol withdrawal can be fatal.

Other serious hazards associated with the use of alcoholic beverages are Fetal Alcohol Syndrome (FAS) and other alcohol-related birth defects. Drinking by the mother during pregnancy places the unborn child at risk, affecting the child's development. Conditions seen in FAS children include: (1) mental retardation; (2) a pattern of abnormal facial and body features; and (3) central nervous system abnormalities. Not all infants born to women who drink exhibit abnormal development. "Safe" levels of alcohol use during pregnancy have not been established, and it is currently recommended that pregnant women abstain.

Cigarettes and Tobacco Products

There are many hazards of tobacco use. The primary substances in tobacco responsible for these hazards are nicotine, tar, carbon monoxide and other gases. Nicotine is a highly addictive substance, and is rated by some experts as being as addictive as heroin. Nicotine is absorbed into the bloodstream from the lungs, and stimulates the central nervous system, causing changes including increased blood pressure and heart rate. Tar is the primary cancer-producing agent in tobacco, though there are many other cancer causing compounds. Carbon monoxide is absorbed into the bloodstream where it replaces a portion of oxygen in red blood cells, therefore reducing their ability to distribute oxygen to the body.

In South Carolina, over one quarter of all deaths can be attributed to cigarette smoking. Smokers experience twice the rate of coronary heart disease as non-smokers. They are also two to three times more likely than non-smokers to die from the consequences of heart disease. Lung cancer has long been the leading cause of cancer deaths in males, and now replaces breast cancer as the leading cause of cancer deaths in females. Cigarette smoking is associated with cancers of the mouth, throat, esophagus, and bladder.

Another health risk from smoking is the increased rate of chronic bronchitis and other respiratory infections. Passive smoking has also gained attention in recent years as a health risk. Those who are exposed to the smoke from others cigarettes on a frequent basis experience reduced lung capacity, higher rates of lung cancer, and a reduced life expectancy, as compared to their non-smoking counterparts who are not exposed regularly to "side stream" smoke.

Chewing tobacco is another substance used by some college students. Although smokeless tobacco users do not face all the health risks that cigarette smokers do, the risk of cancer is quite high. Cancers of the lip, mouth, and throat can develop very quickly among users of smokeless tobacco, sometimes in as few as two to five years.

Marijuana

The effects of marijuana use depend upon the percentage of delta-9-tetrahydrocannabinol (THC) present, the method in which the marijuana is ingested, and the expectations of the user. Researchers now know marijuana has a strong carcinogenic effect, greater even than smoking tobacco. Users may experience a rapid heart rate and rising blood pressure. Additional undesirable effects include drowsiness, dry mouth, bloodshot eyes, and an increase in appetite. High doses can cause confusion and double vision, and some users experience rapid mood changes and panic, although the latter is rare.

Marijuana is not known to be physically addictive, but individuals report that continuous use leads to a reliance on the drug to deal with stress and discomfort. If marijuana or any other drug is used to avoid dealing with difficult situations, the problem has become severe. Research has demonstrated that more than 90% of users of heroin, cocaine, and other drugs began with the use of marijuana as their first illicit substance. This should not be interpreted to mean that marijuana directly leads individuals to those drugs. Rather, the use of one illicit substance removes barriers, which may then lead individuals to try other illicit drugs.

Heavy smokers of marijuana risk lung damage and cancer as well as damage to the breathing tubes. Lesser doses may cause irritation of the throat and lungs. The influence of marijuana, just as with any other mind altering drug, makes it doubly dangerous for those who choose to drive while "under the influence." Marijuana causes a lack of coordination and a distortion of sensory perceptions, sometimes lasting more than 24 hours. The presence of any mind-altering drug tends to impair judgment so that the individual may not notice these deficits as they occur. The most immediate response for people who stop marijuana use is a greatly improved memory within three months.

Cocaine

Cocaine occurs in several different forms. Cocaine powder is usually inhaled through the nose, while "crack," a form of freebase cocaine, is usually smoked. Effects of cocaine use on the body include dilated pupils, constricted blood vessels and increases in blood pressure, heart rate, breathing, and body temperature. When cocaine is snorted over a period of time, the constrictive effect on blood vessels in the nose can cause cells of its mucus membrane lining to die, resulting in ulceration of the tissue, breathing difficulties, and possible perforation of the septum, the wall dividing the two halves of the nose. Smoking cocaine is the more rapid, dangerous, and potentially fatal way of use. It can cause lung irritation, swollen glands, and soreness in the neck, chest, and cheeks. Smoking the drug may also produce confusion, slurred speech, anxiety, and serious psychological problems.

Cocaine use has both short term and long term effects. Use stimulates the brain's pleasure centers and the user will often prefer the drug to food, sex, family, and friends. When the drug-induced euphoria wears off, depression results, causing the user to crave more cocaine. Use can produce strong psychological and a limited degree of physiological addiction. By overstimulating the central nervous system and producing an artificial euphoria, the drug causes a broad range of psychological effects, ranging from acute anxiety to full-blown cocaine psychosis with paranoia and auditory and visual hallucinations. Chronic users can deplete the neurotransmitters in the brain that allow a person to feel pleasure, power, and a number of other emotions. When this state of depletion occurs, the user can no longer feel these emotions.

Cocaine's physiological effects may include seizures, heart attacks, and cardiorespiratory collapse leading to sudden death, even in normal, healthy people. Chronic cocaine users may also experience severe mental disorders that can require long-term psychiatric care. Users who inject the drug run a high risk of contracting hepatitis or AIDS.

PHILOSOPHY ON THE USE OF ALCOHOLIC BEVERAGES:

The University of South Carolina is concerned with both the welfare of the University community and with the academic and personal development of each student. The University strives to create a healthy environment, one in which the high-risk use of alcohol does not interfere with learning, performance or development. Substance abuse disrupts the environment and places at risk the lives and well-being of members of the University community as well as the potential for students to contribute to society. It is important for all members of the University community to take responsibility for preventing the illegal or high-risk use of alcohol or other drugs from negatively affecting the community's learning environment and the academic, physical and emotional well-being of its students.

The University of South Carolina recognizes that the use of alcoholic beverages poses potential risks to the health and safety of members of the University community and to the community itself. Campus policies and procedures regarding alcohol availability and consumption should be designed to minimize these risks. The following principles, adapted from the South Carolina Department of Alcohol and Other Drug Abuse Services "Alcohol Policy Bill of Rights," are offered to serve as a guide.

Principle 1

Abstinence is always an acceptable choice.

Principle 2

Alcohol consumption considered to be high risk is actively discouraged.

Specific information on individual risk factors allows individuals to reduce their risks of developing alcohol-related problems. Individual risk is determined by knowledge of:

- Membership in high-risk groups;
- Involvement in high-risk situations; and
- Low-risk guidelines concerning quantity and frequency of use of alcoholic beverages.

The following guidelines can help identify persons in high-risk categories, either by membership in high-risk groups or involvement in high-risk activities. It is recommended that individuals possessing any of the following characteristics (List A) or involved in any of the following activities (List B) abstain from the use of alcoholic beverages:

LIST A

- Having a personal history of addiction to chemicals
- Being younger than the legal purchase age of 21
- Having a family history of depression, alcoholism or addiction
- During pregnancy or when considering pregnancy
- Being under a great deal of stress
- Having any physical or psychological condition which makes alcohol consumption unsafe or unhealthy

LIST B

- Driving or operating machinery
- Participating in work or recreational activities requiring alertness and coordination, such as boating, hunting, swimming, cooking, child care, hiking, etc.
- Currently using other central nervous system depressants or any other psychoactive drugs

Principle 3

Alcohol consumption considered to be low risk is acceptable.

The following guidelines are offered for the low risk consumption of alcoholic beverages. In accordance with these guidelines, individuals who are not considered to be in a high-risk category or situation, as described above, may choose to:

- Abstain, or
- Consume no more than three drinks per day at a rate no faster than one drink per hour, no more than 4 days per week (guideline from the National Institute on Alcohol Abuse and Alcoholism).

Note #1—The relationship between the number of drinks per day and the number of days per week is important. "Saving up" drinks for use on one occasion, superseding the guidelines listed above, is considered high risk.

Note #2—While the guidelines listed above are accurate for the average 160 pound male drinker, based on recent research findings, women drinkers should consider using 45% of the amounts stated above as a maximum low risk level of use.

Note #3—Body weight is a significant factor on the effects of alcohol on the body. Those who weigh less than 160 pounds will be more affected by a given amount of alcohol and those weighing more will be affected less.

Note #4—One drink is considered to be approximately one, 12-ounce beer, 1.25 ounces of 80 proof distilled spirits or 4 ounces of 12% wine. Be aware that there is a wide variation in the percentages of alcohol contained in different alcoholic beverages. For instance, regular beer ranges from 3.5% to 5% alcohol by volume. Light beer, which sounds like it has a great deal less alcohol ranges from 2.5% to 4%. There are some light beers that contain more alcohol than some regular beers. Distilled spirits in the United States range from 40% to 50% alcohol in general, and some, as high as 75%. The range of alcohol content for wine is between 12% and 17% with some fortified wines rating much higher.

Principle 4

Heavy consumption of alcoholic beverages, defined as that which exceeds the guidelines listed above, is discouraged in all situations.

REDUCING YOUR RISKS: ALCOHOL

Impairment in any situation can lead to poor judgment. If you choose to drink alcoholic beverages or if you are with people who do, making low-risk, healthy choices can lower your risks of encountering serious problems, such as accidents, injuries, property damage, legal action, broken relationships and more. You want to do well in school and enjoy the college experience. You do not want additional problems to deal with.

Alcohol is involved in over 50% of motor vehicle accidents and fatalities. The greatest cause of death for individuals aged 16 to 24 is alcohol and drug related accidents. If you are part of a group of people who is drinking alcoholic beverages and needing transportation, plan ahead for safe movement from one location to the other. Don't ride with someone who is under the influence of alcohol or other drugs.

REMEMBER, CHOOSING NOT TO DRINK IS ALWAYS ACCEPTABLE!

If you do choose to drink, remember that individual differences affect your risks, and you can reduce risks in the following ways:

- Resist attempts by others to pressure you into drinking alcohol or drinking more than you want to drink. Carry an alcohol-free beverage if it helps.
- Put some food in your system. Having something to eat while you are drinking slows down the absorption of alcohol. Remember, carbonated beverages speed up the absorption of alcohol—so you are affected faster. Use non-carbonated beverages or juices as mixers.
- Alternate alcohol-free beverages with alcoholic drinks.
- Establish personal limits on how much you will drink during a night out or a party, and stick to them. Pace yourself at no more than one drink per hour and do not drink more than 3 drinks in one day. Remember that "one drink" is equal to approximately one 12-ounce beer, a 4-ounce glass of wine, or 1.25 ounces of 80 proof liquor.
- Plan a ride on the side. Plan to ride with someone else or find a place to stay if you do choose to drink alcohol. Do not ride with someone who is under the influence. Do not let friends who are impaired drive.
- Body size is an important factor in considering the effects of alcohol on individuals. Alcohol has a greater effect on persons of lower body weight. Don't try to keep up with people who are larger than you. Other biological factors that can increase your risk for impairment include: age, altitude, illness, tiredness, stomach content and other drugs.
- If you are under the age of 21, be aware of drinking age laws. In South Carolina you must be 21 to legally consume alcoholic beverages. Consider your relationship with the legal system and be aware of the penalties for underage possession and for the use of false identification cards.

- Be aware that stress can influence the effects of alcohol. Abstain or reduce your limit during an emotional time.
- Avoid drinking games. Many promote high-risk drinking behavior.
- Stop drinking alcoholic beverages 45 minutes to one hour before the end of an event.
- Be careful during the heat! Consuming alcohol when you are exposed to heat for an extended amount of time, such as tailgating and watching a Carolina football game, can be risky. The use of alcohol combined with high temperatures can place you at higher risk of having a heat stroke.
- Avoid drinking alcohol when using other drugs—even cold medicines. The effects can be greatly increased. For example, the use of marijuana suppresses the gag reflex. Your body may not expel an excess of alcohol, preventing an alcohol overdose. Some drugs combined with alcohol can also result in overdose because of the interaction effect.
- Alcohol affects women more than men. Consider size, fat to lean ratios and hormonal cycles influence the effects of alcohol on your body. Women have less of one stomach enzyme that helps to process alcohol than do men. Avoid drinking during pregnancy and if you are nursing a baby.
- Look at your family history, an important part of understanding the role of alcohol in your life. Children of alcoholics are four times more likely to become alcoholic than the general population. If one or both of your parents or grandparents have or had a chemical addiction, you are at a greatly increased risk of addiction.
- Plan wisely when hosting social events. If alcohol is planned at all, plan it as an addition to social activities rather than the primary focus of the event. Never advertise alcohol as the focus. Limit amounts and restrict access for underage persons. Plan for alternate ways home.
- If you are ever concerned about the medical safety of another person, call for medical assistance. Never place an intoxicated person laying face up or face down. Always place the person on his/her side and monitor breathing.

Student Campus Security Information

The Campus Security Act signed into law November 1990 contains several requirements. These requirements, along with campus responses, are listed below.

- (A) A statement of current campus policies regarding procedures and facilities for students and others to report criminal actions or other emergencies occurring on campus and policies concerning the institution's response to such reports.

Lancaster: When an accident, incident or other emergency occurs on campus the procedures and facilities for students and others to report them are as follows:

If an accident or emergency occurs, the Dean, an Associate Dean, the Director of Campus Law Enforcement & Security, the Building Director, or a nurse is notified and he or she makes an assessment of the injury and its severity. On-site treatment is limited to general first aid such as bandages and ice packs. The injured person is transported to the hospital or doctor by the Lancaster County Emergency Medical Service when proper treatment cannot be provided on site. The family is also notified of the accident if necessary.

If an incident occurs, the Dean, Associate Dean, Assistant Dean, or the Director of Campus Law Enforcement & Security is notified and he or she makes an assessment and responds to the injuries and the incident if it is of a civil nature. If the incident or accident is of a criminal nature (such as theft) or property damage occurs (such as an automobile accident) the City of Lancaster Police are contacted and take responsibility for investigation for the incident.

To consistently assure safety measures on campus, USC Lancaster utilizes the Carolina Alert System which can send SMS/text and voice messages to your cell phone, e-mail address and land-line phone in case of emergencies. To sign up, log onto your VIP account, click on the Personal folder, then Emergency Notification. For more information concerning emergency response go to USC Lancaster Emergency Response Guide. An additional emergency system, the LYNZ, is also available. This system links all hired-wired computers to the emergency first responders system.

Salkehatchie: All emergencies or criminal actions can be reported to any administrative office on campus. Administrative offices will report crimes or emergencies directly to the Director of Finance. During evening hours, emergencies can be reported to the library and the administrator on call will be contacted. During normal campus hours, a maintenance supervisor of each shift has an emergency cell phone on his person at all times. That number is distributed to faculty, staff and students to use in case of emergency as well. These individuals have direct contact with the Allendale and Walterboro police departments.

Sumter: ALCOHOL: Alcoholic beverages may be served at events sponsored by USC Sumter on or off campus. No one will be served or consume alcoholic beverages who is under the age of twenty-one (21) or who appears intoxicated.

Current policy prohibits the distribution and consumption of alcoholic beverages at student events, programs and activities on and off campus including academic field trips.

Non-USC Sumter groups/organizations authorized by proper authority to use USC Sumter facilities may serve alcoholic beverages at specified events upon securing permission from the appropriate university official.

DRUGS: Possessions, except on a physician's or dentist's prescription of stimulant, depressant, narcotic, or hallucinogenic drugs and other agents having a potential for abuse, violates University rules and is prohibited. The selling, bartering, exchanging and giving away of such drugs to any person not intended to possess them is also prohibited.

Sex Crimes Prevention Act

The University of South Carolina Regional Campuses, in their continuing efforts to maintain a safe academic and work environment for students, faculty and staff, is presenting the following information concerning campus safety and security. This information is presented to the University community with the knowledge that individual awareness and adherence to University security policies and procedures is the best method to maintain a safe campus environment.

Beginning on October 27, 2002, the Campus Sex Crimes Prevention Act (CSCPA) went into effect. The CSCPA is a federal law that was passed in Congress in October 2000 and signed by President Bill Clinton. Under this law, registered sex offenders must notify the state if they become employed, enroll as a student or volunteer at an institution of higher education.

Registered sex offenders are individuals who are convicted of committing sexually violent crimes or sexual crimes against minors. Although convicted sex offenders have been required to register with the sheriff's department in their home county for a number of years, this new legislation creates specific stipulations for those individuals who are members of a College or University community. Under the Campus Sex Crimes Prevention Act (CSCPA), when convicted sex offenders register with the sheriff's department, they must also notify them if they are enrolled or employed at an institution of higher education. This information must then be shared with campus law enforcement.

The information presented is designed to meet the guidelines of the College and University Security Information Act of 1989 and the Student Right-to-Know and Campus Security Act of 1999. Information concerning University security policies and procedures, crime rates and crime statistics can be obtained from the office of the Dean.

ENGLISH PROFICIENCY FOR TEACHING

The Uof SC regional Palmetto College campuses subscribe to the policy statement developed by the USC Board of Trustees entitled, "Certification of English Language Proficiency for Teaching." As described in that document, a part of the interview for all prospective faculty members includes a demonstration of English proficiency.

As also described in the policy statement, student complaints regarding the inability of instructors to be understood in their spoken or written English are normally resolved using the existing student grievance procedures outlined below for each campus. A second, anonymous grievance mechanism exists in the regular course evaluation procedure. In this procedure students are encouraged to make written comments on any strengths or weaknesses associated with their courses. The Academic Dean studies these comments each semester, looking for any criticism of faculty spoken or written English. For further information, please see the Academic Dean of the campus.

Members will serve for a term of one calendar year (01 July – 30 June). One faculty representative and one alternate will be elected by each academic division at the final faculty meeting of the spring semester. Staff and student representatives (and alternates) are administratively appointed by the Dean of the USCL Campus, upon recommendation by the Associate Dean for Academic & Student Affairs and the Assistant Dean of Students, where appropriate.

RULES GOVERNING FORMAL HEARINGS

1. When a student chooses an option of a formal administrative hearing, or when a case is referred to a hearing, the Office of Academic and Student Affairs shall set a date and place for a hearing and notify those charged, the Council, and relevant participants as to the scheduling of the hearing.
2. The Associate Dean for Academic & Student Affairs will provide each party with the names of faculty, staff, and student representatives to the Academic Honor Code Council. Each party shall have the right to exclude any member of the Council in the event of a conflict of interest. In such cases, the alternate member will serve for the duration of the hearing.
3. The Academic Honor Code Council is charged with hearing and reviewing cases involving USC Lancaster students charged with violations of the Code of Student/Faculty Academic Integrity & Responsibility and will recommend sanctions based on USC and USCL policies and procedures.
4. Hearings shall be considered closed and confidential. All statements, information, or comments given during hearings shall be held in strictest confidence by Council members, University staff, witnesses, advisors, and observers before, during, and after deliberation in keeping with relevant law and policy. Video, audio, stenographic, or photographic recording of hearing proceedings are prohibited, except as authorized by University policy.
5. If any material facts are in dispute, testimony of witnesses and other evidence shall be heard. Each party is responsible for securing the presence and participation of witnesses relevant to its case.
6. A party charged with a violation is responsible for presenting his/her own case. Advisors are not permitted to speak or to participate directly in any hearing.
7. Prior to the first convening of the hearing, the Academic Honor Code Council will select one member to serve as Chair for the hearing. Any member of the hearing Committee may require the Committee to go into private session to discuss and decide a matter by majority vote. The Chair can recess the hearing at any time.

8. The party(ies) charged with a violation(s) and the Council members shall have the right, within reasonable time limits set by the Chair, to present questions for witnesses who testify orally. The Chair may require that questions by the charged party(ies) be addressed to Council members who can ask these questions of the witnesses.
9. All hearings shall be conducted in an informal manner and technical rules of evidence will not be applied. Witnesses (except for the charged party or parties) shall be present during a hearing only during the time they are testifying.
10. If the charged student chooses not to attend the formal hearing, that student may be considered as having waived his/her right to represent themselves in the hearing, and the Council may proceed with the hearing and reach decisions and impose sanctions without the student's participation.
11. An audio recording of the hearing shall be kept by the Office of Academic & Student Affairs until any appeal has been concluded, or ninety (90) days from the date of the hearing, whichever is longer. No typed record shall be required. The charged party(ies) and advisor shall have the right, upon request, to listen to the recording in the presence of a staff member from the Office of Academic and Student Affairs . The charged student or student organization representative may request a duplicate copy of the recording at his/her/its own expense within a period of ninety (90) days from the date of the hearing.

DELIBERATION AND DECISIONS OF THE COUNCIL

1. After hearing the evidence, the Council may choose to continue the hearing at a later date if additional evidence or witnesses are needed.
2. After all information has been presented and the charged party has made a final statement, the Council shall meet in private to discuss the case, reach its decision, and if appropriate, recommend a sanction.
3. The Council must render its decision within six hours of actual deliberation time, which may be spread over a period of one week, unless additional time is approved unanimously by the Council.
4. Decisions must be by majority vote, with the Chair voting only in the event of a tie. If the student(s) is(are) found guilty of violating the Code of Faculty/Student Academic Integrity & Responsibility, the Council may request any information concerning any past disciplinary record(s) of the student(s) in determining an appropriate sanction(s). The decision will result in a "hung" council if no majority vote for either principal may be obtained within the time limits outlined above.
5. Within three days of reaching its decision, the hearing Chair will submit its written decision (and, if appropriate, recommendations for sanction) to the Associate Dean for Academic & Student Affairs.

6. Within 24 hours of receiving the Council's decision and recommendations, the Associate Dean for Academic & Student Affairs will send a written notification of the Council's decision and sanctions to both principals and to the Dean of the Campus. The notice will include relevant information regarding the right to appeal and appeal procedures.

RECOMMENDATIONS FOR SANCTIONS

Each faculty member retains the right and authority to determine the appropriate "in class" sanction for students violating the Code of Faculty/Student Academic Integrity & Responsibility.

In addition to any sanctions imposed by the professor, the Council may recommend that the Associate Dean for Academic & Student Affairs impose the following disciplinary sanctions upon students found responsible for a violation of the Code of Faculty/Student Academic Integrity & Responsibility.

All sanctions may be imposed either singularly or in combination. The purposes of imposing sanctions are twofold: one, to protect the University community from behavior which is detrimental to the community and/or the educational mission of the University; and two, to assist students in identifying acceptable parameters and consequences of future behavior. The sanction(s) imposed is (are) intended to correspond with the severity or frequency of violations, as well as the student's willingness to recommit himself or herself to good citizenship through behaviors that fall within the guidelines of the Carolinian Creed:

Expulsion: Dismissal from the University without the ability to apply for re-admittance.

Suspension: Denial of enrollment, attendance, and other privileges at the University for a specified period of time. Permission to apply for re-admission upon termination of the period may be granted with or without conditions or restrictions. Students may be required to complete a period of disciplinary probation upon their return to the University. NOTE: Any student suspended or expelled for disciplinary reasons must vacate the campus within the period of time noted in the notice of suspension. The student may not return to campus or University property during the term of the suspension without prior written permission by the Associate Dean for Academic & Student Affairs or designee.

Conduct Probation: A period of review and observation during which a student is under an official warning that subsequent violations of University rules, regulations, or policies are likely to result in a more severe sanction including suspension or expulsion from the University. While on conduct probation, a student may be considered to be "not in good standing" and may face specific limitations on his or her behavior and/or University privileges (see Conditions/Restrictions).

Conditions/Restrictions: Limitations upon a student's behavior and/or University privileges for a period of time, or an active obligation to complete a specified activity. This sanction may include, but is not limited to: restricted access to the campus or parts of campus, denial of the right to represent the University in any way, denial of parking privileges, required attendance at a workshop, or participation in public service.

Written Warning: An official reprimand that makes the misconduct a matter of record in University files. Any further misconduct could result in further disciplinary action.

APPEALS – Office of the Dean

1. Decisions of the Associate Dean for Academic & Student Affairs or designee, or from a formal University Hearing, may be appealed to the Dean of the Campus by a student found guilty of violating the Code. The reasons for an appeal are limited to the following:

The Associate Dean or Academic Honor Code Council committed a procedural error in hearing the case which significantly prejudiced the findings; or,

New evidence, which could not have been available at the time of the hearing, and which is material to the outcome of the case, is available.

2. An appeal to the Dean of the Campus must be made in writing within five (5) University business days of receipt of the original written decision. A decision is assumed to be received three (3) University business days from the date of mailing. On appeal the Dean or designee shall review the appeal.

3. After review, the Dean or designee may either:

affirm the finding(s) of the original hearing authority, in which case the decision is final; or remand the case to the original hearing authority, in which case the decision is final; or may remand the case to the original hearing authority for further proceedings with directives to attend to procedural errors or new evidence.

4. In extraordinary circumstances, the Dean or designee may direct a new hearing before the Associate Dean or the Academic Honor Code Council. All deadlines expressed in any section are subject to change if exigent circumstances exist.
5. The Dean or designee shall send written notification of the decision regarding the appeal to the appealing party within fifteen (15) University business days of receiving the appeal barring special circumstances requiring an extension of this time limit. A copy of the decision will be sent to the original hearing authority.
6. Decisions of the Dean may be appealed in writing within five (5) University business days to the Vice Provost for Regional Campuses. The decision of the Vice Provost in all appellate matters is the final decision for the University. However, the President of the University has the discretionary authority to review decisions at the Vice Provost level or below, and the Board of Trustees has the discretionary authority to review decisions of the President.

Such review of disciplinary decisions will take place only in extraordinary cases, such as where serious procedural issues seem to have occurred or where the decision appears to be in direct violation of University policy.

7. Requests for such review normally will be considered only after the prescribed avenues of appeal have been completed.

Requests shall be made by written statement that includes the facts of the case, the type of hearing and appeal and the reasons justifying extraordinary review. Such requests must be filed in the Office of the President within five (5) University business days of the receipt of the appeal decision.

If review is granted, the reviewing authority will determine appropriate procedures.

New evidence will not normally be considered.

Student Grievance Policy - Non-Academic

Preface

The University of South Carolina Lancaster is committed to a policy of treating all members of the University Community fairly in regard to their personal and professional concerns. This procedure is designed to provide students an opportunity to address non-academic complaints and problems that they have not been able to resolve through other channels.

Purpose

The primary objective of the grievance procedure is to insure that concerns are promptly dealt with and resolutions reached in a fair and just manner. It is essential that each student be given an adequate opportunity to bring non-academic complaints and problems to the attention of the University administration with assurance that each will be given fair treatment.

Definition

A grievance is defined as dissatisfaction occurring when a student thinks that any condition affecting him/her is unjust, inequitable, or creates unnecessary hardships. Such grievances include, but are not limited to, the following problems: mistreatment by any University employee, wrongful assessment and processing of fees, records and registration errors, racial discrimination, handicapped discrimination, sex discrimination, as they relate to non-academic areas of the University.

The grievance procedure shall not be used for appeals of disciplinary decisions, residency classification decisions, or traffic appeals decisions, or any other type of decision where a clearly defined appeal process has already been established.

Process

1. Initiating a Grievance - The initial phase of the student grievance procedure requires an oral discussion between the student and the person(s) alleged to have caused the grievance. This discussion must take place within 10 working days of the incident that constituted the grievance.

2. First Appeal

a. If the initial oral discussion phase is not successful in resolving the complaint or problem, and if the student wishes to file a formal grievance, the grievance form must be completed and filed with the immediate supervisor of the person alleged to have caused the grievance. The grievance form must be filed with the person's immediate supervisor within five (5) working days of the initial discussion referred to in paragraph 1 above.

b. The supervisor shall immediately acknowledge receipt of the grievance form and shall begin an investigation reaching a decision; the supervisor shall inform the student in writing (with a copy to the Dean of Academic and Student Affairs) within three (3) working days of the conclusion of the investigation.

c. If the student feels the grievance has been resolved, the process is complete. If not, an appeal may be brought before the Grievance Committee.

Grievance Procedure

If the grievance is unresolved, the student may bring the grievance before the grievance Committee by presenting a written statement within five (5) working days of the date of the supervisor's decision. This statement shall be forwarded to the Dean of Academic and Student Affairs in a sealed envelope and shall:

1. State the grievance;
2. State why the response is unacceptable; and
3. Request a hearing before the grievance committee.

Any related materials (including a copy of the grievance form and the written response from the supervisor) must accompany the letter. The Dean of Academic and Student Affairs shall immediately notify the Chairperson of the Grievance Committee of the appeal.

Upon receipt of the appeal, the Chairperson of the Grievance Committee shall send a copy of the appeal to the members of the Committee and the major parties involved. The major parties include: the person(s) against whom the grievance was initiated, the supervisor of the individual(s) and the Dean of Academic and Student Affairs. The Chairperson of the Committee shall ask the major parties to respond in writing to the appeal within five (5) working days. At the end of the five (5) working day period, the Chairperson shall meet with the Grievance Committee to examine the grounds for the request for an appellate hearing. A hearing shall be granted if a majority of the quorum finds that grounds for the appeal have been substantiated. A tie vote shall result in a hearing being granted. The Chairperson shall notify in writing, all involved parties of the decision of the committee to either hear or not to hear the grievance. The hearing shall be conducted not sooner than five (5) working days after the decision to grant the request for the hearing, and not later than 15 working days after the decision to grant the request for the hearing. A postponement may be granted by the Chairperson upon written request of either party. The request shall state why the postponement should be granted.

Conduct of the Hearing

The Chairperson of the Grievance Committee shall open the hearing by reading the request for an appeal, and informing the parties involved of the jurisdiction of the committee and its procedures. The Chairperson shall ascertain that all the parties involved are aware of their rights, answer any questions they have in regard to these matters, and conduct the hearing.

All hearings shall be closed to the public, unless all parties agree that the hearing be opened to members of the University Community. A tape recording shall be made of the proceedings. All parties involved in a hearing shall maintain in the strictest confidence the identity of the individuals appearing before the Committee, as well as the information presented to the Committee.

Hearings shall be conducted in an informal manner. The taking of statements from the parties to the grievance (and witnesses, if any) may be done by discussion format, though each individual appearing before the Committee may be subject to cross examination. Witnesses shall be present only during the time they are testifying. The major parties involved in the grievance shall be required to attend all hearings of the Committee.

At the conclusion of the hearing, each party shall submit a proposed solution of the grievance to the Committee. After receiving the proposed solutions to the grievance, the Chairperson shall dismiss all the individuals who are not members of the Grievance Committee. The committee shall reach its decision based on the information presented during the hearing, and according to the Statement of Student Rights and Responsibilities. The Committee shall decide by majority vote the solution of the grievance. In the case of a tie, the Chairperson shall vote and thus break the tie. The Chairperson (or his or her designee) shall forward a written copy of the Committee's decision to the major parties involved and to the Dean's Office within 5 working days of the conclusion of the hearing.

Decisions of the Committee shall be final. The decisions of the committee shall be kept on file in the Office of Academic and Student Affairs. Any of the parties involved shall have the right, upon request, to listen to the tape recordings of the hearing in the presence of a staff member of the Office of Academic and Student Affairs.

3. All individuals may be appointed to additional terms. Appointments shall become effective on the first day of the fall semester.

Rules

1. The Committee may adopt additional rules and guidelines not in contradiction of the spirit of this policy.
2. A majority shall constitute a quorum of the Grievance Committee. Unfilled vacancies shall not count against the quorum. The Chairperson shall not count in constituting a quorum.
3. The Committee shall file an annual report with the Dean and the President of the Student Government. This report shall include a summary of the Committee's activity during the previous academic year, and any suggestions that the Committee may deem necessary.

Hearing Procedures

Rights of the Parties Involved in a Grievance

1. If a grievance hearing is granted, parties involved are entitled to:
 - a. a written notice of the complaint; and

This should be forwarded to all parties at least five (5) work days prior to the hearing unless all parties waive all or part of the notice period.

Sexual Harassment – Policy EOP 1.02

Policy for: All Campuses
Procedure for: All Campuses
Authorized by: Bobby D. Gist
Issued by: Equal Opportunity Programs

I. POLICY

Academic and employment discrimination on the basis of race, color, religion, national origin, gender, age, and disabling conditions violates federal law, state law and University policy. "Sexual harassment" is a particular form of gender discrimination, distinctive in both characteristic and quality.

The University of South Carolina will not tolerate the sexual harassment of any member of the University community. Sexual harassment subverts the mission of the University by threatening the careers, educational experiences, and well-being of all members of this community. It undermines the University's deep commitment to the primacy of a reward system based purely on merit, intellectual excellence, and job performance.

The University, however, is also committed to freedom of speech and to the liberty of academics to teach, publish, and profess matters that others may find offensive.

The purpose of this Policy is to define "sexual harassment" in both the University employment and academic contexts, to provide procedures for the investigation of sexual harassment claims, and to insure that violations are fully remedied, while also protecting the constitutional and academic rights of every member of this community.

The standards mandated by this Policy represent the bare minimum of acceptable behavior. The University's commitment to civility, mutual respect, and tolerance should cause the members of this community to adhere to an even higher standard of behavior in these matters – not because we are required to do so, but because conscience it.

In addition to those relationships expressly forbidden, consensual relationships among members of the University community in which one party exercises academic or administrative control over the other are deemed unwise and are strongly discouraged. If a charge of sexual harassment is lodged regarding a once-consenting relationship, the burden may be on the alleged offender to prove that this Sexual Harassment Policy was not violated.

II. SEXUAL HARASSMENT

A. Coverage

This Policy covers sexual harassment by and among all members of the University community – including faculty, staff, and students. The prohibited harassment may arise between employment and subordinates, between instructors and students, between peers, or between any of the foregoing persons and persons who do business with the University.

B. Definitions

1. "Members of the University community" includes all faculty, adjuncts, visiting faculty, teaching assistants, administrators, staff, students, and persons engaged in research.
2. "The University EOP" is the Executive Assistant to the President for Equal Opportunity Programs (hereafter referred to as University EOP), or his or her designee, with special responsibilities to carry out the provisions of this Sexual Harassment Policy.

3. The "Campus Sexual Harassment Representative" is the person designated by the Chancellor or Regional Campus Dean to have special responsibilities to carry out the provisions of this Sexual Harassment Policy in conjunction with the University EOP.
4. The "Unit Liaison" is an informational resource person selected by the President, Chancellor or Regional Campus Dean to serve the respective academic or employment unit in matters related to sexual harassment.
5. "Employment benefits" includes the job itself, the duties of the job, compensation, rank privileges and opportunities associated with the job, the tools and working environment necessary to do the job, and any other term or condition employment.
6. "Academic benefits" includes grades, scholarships and other honors, class enrollment and research opportunities, job recommendations, and letters of recommendation for further studies or employment.
7. Sexual harassment of employees or students at the University is defined as unwelcome sexual advances, requests for sexual favors, verbal or other expressive behaviors or physical conduct commonly understood to be of a sexual nature. Sexual harassment includes but is not limited to the following:
 - a. Threats to make an adverse employment or academic decision if another person refuses to engage in sexual activities.
 - b. Demands that another person engage in sexual activities in order to obtain or retain employment or academic benefits.
 - c. Promises, implied or direct, to give employment or academic benefits if another person engages in sexual activities.
 - d. Unwelcome and unnecessary touching or other sexually suggestive physical contact, or threats to engage in such conduct.
 - e. Indecent exposure.
 - f. Invasion of sexual privacy.
 - g. Sexual advances, requests for sexual favors, sexual comments and questions, and other sexually-oriented conduct that is directed against a specific individual and persists despite its rejection.
 - h. Policy for: USC Lancaster Campus
Procedure for: USC Lancaster Campus
Authorized by: Walter P. Collins III, Dean
Issued by: Office of Academic & Student Affairs

I. Policy

The University of South Carolina Lancaster strives to maintain an educational community that fosters the development of students who are ethical, civil, and responsible persons. The purpose of the USCL Code of Student Conduct is to set forth the specific authority and responsibility of the university in maintaining behavioral standards.

A. Scope

The university may take disciplinary action for a violation of the Student Code of Conduct when the offense takes place on university premises or at university sponsored, endorsed, supported or related events which occur off campus. 2. When there is an allegation that a student has committed an offense that is also a crime, a student can be charged both by the criminal justice system and the student conduct system. Disciplinary action at the university will normally proceed independently of pending criminal charges, including when charges involving the same incident have been dismissed by the criminal justice system.

In serious cases even a first offender may be suspended. A student guilty of an infraction of academic responsibility for a second time, shall, except in extraordinary cases, be suspended from the University.

NOTE: A student who has violated or who has been charged with the violation of any regulation of the University may not be permitted to withdraw from the University without the permission of the chair of the committee. A notation of the circumstances under which the accused student was permitted to withdraw shall be entered in the minutes of the committee. The withdrawal of a student with or without such approval shall not deprive the committee of the power to hear charges, and in the event the student be found guilty, the committee may restrict readmission on such terms or under such circumstances as it may prescribe.

Student Responsibility – (a) Each student is responsible for abiding by the Code of Student Academic Responsibility at all times. In the classroom, it applies in all academic activities, whether a faculty member is involved or not. (b) Any student who observes or learns of another student's violation of the Code of Student Academic Responsibility may request the student to report to the instructor of the course, and if this is not done, shall report the matter to the instructor of the course or the chair of the Academic Affairs Committee.

Faculty Responsibility – Each faculty member also has responsibilities with respect to this code. These responsibilities include, but are not limited to:

- (a) The promotion of conduct conducive to the effective functioning of the code. Primarily, the faculty member should conduct classes and examinations in such manner as to minimize opportunities and temptations for cheating.
- (b) A clear exposition to students of the values as well as the obligation of the code.
- (c) A demonstration of interest in the proper functioning of the code.
- (d) The use of uniform procedures in handling violations of the code, including the submission of all violations to the Committee on Student Responsibility.

Additional Rules – The committee shall make such additional rules as are necessary, so long as they do not contravene any of the provisions of this code, to carry out its function, with the approval of the University-wide committee.

Student Rights and Freedoms

The statement of student rights and responsibilities has been approved by the Board of Trustees of the University.

General Understanding

- A. The statement in no way intends to abrogate the legal powers invested in the Board of Trustees under American corporate law and the laws of the State of South Carolina.
- B. The statement is recognized as a statement of principles only and that the interpretation of these statements, principles, and procedures is a continuing joint process.

- C. The statement is clearly understood as not giving complete autonomy to any sector of the academic community but promotes a community approach to those problems which are of proper concern to the University as a whole.

PREAMBLE

Academic institutions exist for the transmission of knowledge, the pursuit of truth, the development of students and the general well-being of society. Free inquiry and free expression are indispensable to the attainment of these goals. As members of the academic community, students should be encouraged to develop the capacity for critical judgment and to engage in a sustained and independent search for truth. Institutional procedures for achieving these purposes may vary from campus to campus, but the minimal standards of academic freedom of students outlined below are essential to any community of scholars.

Freedom to teach and freedom to learn are inseparable facets of academic freedom. The freedom to learn depends upon appropriate opportunities and conditions in the classroom, on the campus and in the larger community. Students should exercise their freedom with responsibility.

The responsibility to secure and to respect general conditions conducive to the freedom to learn is shared by all members of the academic community. The University has a duty to develop policies and procedures, which provide and safeguard this freedom. Such policies and procedures should be developed within the framework of general standards with the broadest possible participation of the members of the academic community. The purpose of this statement is to enumerate the essential provisions for student freedom to learn.

Section I: Freedom of Access to Higher Education

The admission policies of the University are a matter of institutional choice provided that the University makes clear the characteristics and expectations of the students that it considers relevant to success in the institutional program. Under no circumstances should a student be barred from admission on the basis of race, creed, or national origin. Thus, within the limits of its facilities, the University should be open to all students who are qualified according to its admission standards.

Section II: In the Classroom

The professor in the classroom and in conference should encourage free discussion, inquiry, and expression. Student performances should be evaluated solely on an academic basis, not on opinions or conduct in matters unrelated to academic standards.

- (a) Protection of freedom of expression - Students should be free to take reasoned exceptions to the data or views offered in any course of study and to reserve judgment about matters of opinion, but they are responsible for learning the content of any course of study for which they are enrolled.
- (b) Protection against improper disclosure - Information about student views, beliefs, and political associations which professors acquire in the course of their work as instructors, advisors, and counselors should be considered confidential. Protection against improper disclosure is a serious professional obligation. Judgments of ability and character may be provided under appropriate circumstances, normally with the knowledge and consent of the student.

Section III: Student Records

The University should have a carefully considered policy as to the information that should be part of a student's permanent record and as to the conditions of its disclosure. To minimize the risk of improper disclosure, academic and disciplinary records should be separate, and the conditions of access to each should be set forth in an explicit policy statement. Final transcripts or academic records should contain only information about academic status. Information from disciplinary files should not be available to unauthorized persons on campus, or to any person off campus without the express consent of the student involved except under legal compulsion or for security clearance. No permanent records should be kept which reflect the political activities or beliefs of students. Administrative staff and faculty members should respect as confidential such information that they acquire in the course of their work. Counseling files should not be available to any person without the consent of the student except under legal compulsion. Authorized counselors should not, without the consent of the student disclose any information obtained while counseling any student unless failure to disclose the information may result in physical or emotional harm to the student or others.

Section IV: Student Affairs

In student affairs certain standards must be maintained if the academic freedom of students is to be preserved.

- (a) Student organizations - Students bring to the campus a variety of interests previously acquired and develop many new interests as members of the academic community. They should be free to organize and join associations to promote their common interests. (1) Affiliation with an extramural organization should not of itself disqualify recognition of a student organization. (2) Each organization should be free to choose its own campus advisor. Members of the faculty serve the college community when they accept the responsibility to advise and consult with student organizations; they should not have the authority to control the policy of such organizations. (3) Student organizations may be required to submit a statement of purpose, criteria for membership, rules of procedures, and a current list of officers. They should not be required to submit a membership list as a condition of institutional recognition other than an initial list of members on formation of an organization. (4) Campus organizations, including those affiliated with an extramural organization, should be open to all students without respect to race, creed, or national origin. (5) The membership, policies and actions of a student organization usually will be determined by vote of only those persons who hold bonafide status in the University community.
- (b) Freedom of inquiry and expression - (1) Students and student organizations should be free to examine and to discuss all questions of interest to them and to express opinions publicly and privately. They should be free to support causes by lawful and orderly means which do not disrupt the regular and essential operation of the institution and which do not interfere with the rights of others. At the same time, it should be made clear to the academic and larger community that in their public expressions or demonstrations, students or organizations speak only for themselves. (2) Students should be allowed to invite and to hear any person of their own choosing subject to those routine procedures provided for off-campus speakers. These procedures should be designed only to insure that there is orderly scheduling of facilities and adequate preparation for the event, that the occasion is conducted in a manner appropriate to an academic community, and that the safety of individuals, the University, and the community are not endangered. While the University is properly concerned with the prevention of unlawful conduct, the institutional control of campus facilities should not be used as a device of censorship of ideas. It should be made clear to the academic and large community that sponsorship of guest speakers does not necessarily imply approval or endorsement of the views expressed, either by the sponsoring group or the institution.
- (c) Student participation in institutional government - As constituents of the academic community, students should be free, individually and collectively, to express their views on issues of general interest to the student body. The student body should have clearly defined means to participate in the formulation and application of institutional policy affecting academic and student affairs. The role of the student government and both its general and specific responsibilities should be made explicit, and the student government within the areas of its jurisdiction should be reviewed only through orderly and prescribed procedures. The University should provide sufficient governing freedom and sufficient financial autonomy for the student government to maintain its integrity of purpose as elected representatives of the student body.

- (d) Student publications – Student publications and the student press are a valuable aid in establishing and maintaining an atmosphere of free and responsible discussion and of intellectual exploration on the campus. They are means of bringing student concerns to the attention of the faculty and the institutional authorities and of formulating student opinions on various issues on the campus and in the world at large.

In the delegation of editorial responsibility to students the University must provide sufficient editorial freedom and sufficient financial autonomy for the student publications to maintain their integrity of purpose as vehicles for free inquiry and free expression in an academic community.

Institutional authorities, in consultation with students and faculty, have a responsibility to provide written clarification of the role of the student publications, the standards to be used in their evaluation, and the limitations on external control of their operation. At the same time, the editorial freedom of student editors and managers entails corollary responsibilities to be governed by the canons of responsible journalism, such as the avoidance of libel, indecency, undocumented allegations, attacks on personal integrity, and the techniques of harassment and innuendo. As safeguards for the editorial freedom of student publications, the following provisions are necessary: (1) The student press should be free of censorship and advance approval of copy, and its editors and managers should be free to develop their own editorial policies and news coverage. (2) Editors and managers of student publications should be protected from arbitrary suspension and removal because of student faculty, administrative, or public disapproval of editorial policy or content. Only for proper and stated causes should editors and managers be subject to removal and then by orderly and prescribed procedures. The agency responsible for appointment of editors and managers should be the agency responsible for their removal. (3) All University published and financed student publications should explicitly state on the editorial page that the opinions there expressed are not necessarily those of the University or the student body.

Section V: Off-Campus Freedom of Students

- (a) University students are both citizens and members of the academic community. As citizens, students should enjoy the same freedom of speech, peaceful assembly, and right of petition that other citizens enjoy, and, as members of the academic community, they are subject to the obligations that accrue to them by virtue of this membership. Faculty members and administrative officials should insure that institutional powers are not employed to inhibit such intellectual and personal development of students as is often promoted by their exercise of the rights of citizenship both on and off campus.
- (b) Activities of students may upon occasion result in violation of law. Students who violate the law may incur penalties prescribed by civil authorities, but institutional authority should never be used merely to duplicate the function of general laws. Only when the institution's interests as an academic community are distinct and clearly involved should the special authority of the institution be asserted. The student who incidentally violates institutional regulations in the course of off-campus activity, such as those relating to class attendance, should be subject to no great penalty than would normally be imposed. Institutional action should be independent of community pressure.

Section VI: Procedural Standards in Disciplinary Proceedings

Educational institutions have a duty and the corollary disciplinary powers to protect their educational purpose through the setting of standards of scholarship and conduct for the students who attend them and through the regulation of the use of institutional facilities. In developing responsible student conduct, disciplinary proceedings play a role substantially secondary to counseling, guidance and admonition. In the exceptional circumstances when these preferred means fail to resolve problems of student conduct, proper procedural safeguards should be observed to protect the student from unfair imposition of serious penalties. The following are set forth as proper safeguards in such proceedings:

- (a) Standards of conduct expected of students – The institution has an obligation to clarify those standards of behavior that it considers essential to its educational mission and its community life. These general behavioral expectations and the resultant specific regulations should represent a reasonable regulation of student conduct, but the student should be as free as possible from imposed limitations that have no direct relevance to their education. Offenses should be as clearly defined as possible and interpreted in a manner consistent with the aforementioned principles of relevancy and reasonableness. Disciplinary proceedings should be instituted only for violations of standards of conduct formulated with significant student participation and published in advance through such means as a student handbook or a generally available body of institutional regulations. (1) Except under circumstances where delay may create a risk of harm to property or students, premises occupied by students and the personal possessions of students should not be searched unless appropriate authorization has been obtained. For premises such as residence halls controlled by the institution, an appropriate and responsible official should be designated to whom application should be made before a search other than a routine inspection is to be conducted. During routine inspections only items in plain sight can be seized and used as evidence. Any application to search should specify the reasons for the search and the object or information sought. The official should keep an accurate record including the time, date and reason for the search. The student should be present, if possible, during the search. For premises not controlled by the institution, the ordinary requirements for lawful search should be followed. (2) Students detected or arrested for allegedly committing serious violations of institutional regulations, or infractions of ordinary law, should be informed of their rights. While interrogation may be conducted, no form of harassment should be used by institutional representatives to coerce admission of guilt or information about conduct of other suspected persons. (3) Pending action on the charges, the status of a student should not be altered, or the right to be present on the campus and to attend classes suspended except where the administration determines such action is necessary for the student's physical or emotional safety and well-being, or for the safety of students, faculty, or University property.
- (b) The formality of the procedure to which a student is entitled in disciplinary cases should be proportionate to the gravity of the offense and the sanctions that may be imposed. Matters involving minor infractions of the University regulations where suspension is not contemplated may be handled by the administration in an informal manner. Where misconduct may result in suspension, the student should have the right to a hearing before the Student Discipline Committee.
- (c) The Student Affairs Committee – (1) The committee should include faculty members and student members. No member of the committee who is otherwise interested in the case should sit in judgment during the proceedings. (2) The student should be informed, in writing, of the reasons for the proposed disciplinary action with sufficient particularity and in sufficient time, to ensure opportunity to prepare for the hearing. (3) The student appearing before the committee should have the right to be assisted in defense by an advisor of choice. (4) The burden of proof should rest upon the officials bringing the charge. (5) The student should be given the opportunity to testify and to present evidence and witnesses. The student should have an opportunity to hear and question adverse witnesses. In no case should the committee consider statements against the student unless the student has been advised of their content and of the names of those who made them, and unless the student has been given an opportunity to refute unfavorable inferences that might otherwise be drawn. (6) All matters upon which the decision may be based must be introduced into evidence at the proceeding before the committee. The decision should be based solely upon such matters. Improperly acquired evidence should not be admitted. (7) There should be, where possible, a verbatim record, such as a tape recording, of the hearing. (8) In the event that the student is disciplined other than by the regularly constituted Student Discipline Committee, the student shall have the right to a complete hearing before the committee. The decision of the committee shall be final, subject to the student's right of appeal to the president of the University and to the Board of Trustees of the University.

Code of Student Conduct

Introduction

This chapter extends and applies the general principles of the Statement of Student Rights and Freedoms to specific actions and responsibilities of students at the University of South Carolina Salkehatchie. It accepts the proposition that "academic institutions exist for the transmission of knowledge, the pursuit of truth, the development of students, and the general well-being of society," and that "free inquiry and free expression are indispensable to the attainment of these goals." This chapter establishes rules, regulations, policies and disciplinary guidelines under the duty and corollary powers inherent in educational institutions to protect their educational purposes through the setting of standards of student conduct and scholarship and through the regulation of the use of University facilities.

Students have a right to expect enforcement of these rules and regulations. The University also has a right to expect students to abide by them as befits the responsibilities lodged in students as members of the University community. Knowledge of these rules and regulations can prove most beneficial to students in utilizing and protecting their guarded rights. It is important to add, however, that unfamiliarity with institutional regulations or rules is no grounds for excusing infractions.

Application of Law

- A. Students should be aware that educational institutions are not sanctuaries from the reach of the civil and criminal laws of the communities and states wherein such institutions exist. While the rules and regulations of the University of South Carolina Salkehatchie are not meant to duplicate general laws, there are some respects in which the lawful interests of the institution as an academic community coincide with the broader public interests treated in general laws. Students who commit offenses against the laws of municipalities, states, or the United States, are subject to prosecution by those authorities as well as liable for disciplinary action under University rules when their conduct violates institutional standards.
- B. Students, no less than other citizens, are entitled to be secure in their persons, lodging, papers and effects against unreasonable searches and seizures. This does not prohibit normal inspections of University housing or other facilities for maintenance, health, or safety purposes. Nor does it preclude searches and seizures properly authorized by administrators in emergency situations where the welfare and safety of persons or property is involved. Approval for such procedures will be granted in strict accord with required legal standards. Searches and seizures by outside law enforcement personnel incident to investigations or arrests are conducted only under proper warrant and are not the responsibility of the University.
- C. Students enjoy the same freedoms of speech and peaceable assembly that accrue to other citizens, but students are under certain legal obligations in the exercise of these freedoms by virtue of their membership in the University community. Expression may be subjected to reasonable regulations of time, place, number of persons, and form under established regulations. Expression in the form of action which materially interferes with the normal activities of the rights of free speech and assembly and will invoke appropriate legal and disciplinary sanctions when necessary in pursuit of this goal.
- D. Students who are apprehended and charged by law enforcement agencies with criminal conduct on or off campus may not continue as students without approval by the Academic Affairs Committee or in certain cases, approval by the dean. Students under such charges are required to keep the University informed of their trial status.

General Conduct Regulations

A. Introduction

Responsibility for good conduct rests with students as individuals. All members of the academic community are expected to use reasonable judgment in their daily campus life and to show due concern for the welfare and rights of others. When breaches of good conduct occur, they are considered jointly by students, faculty, and administrators on the Academic Affairs Committee. Responsibility for maintaining discipline is vested in the dean; under him, administration of the system for handling misconduct is the duty of the associate dean for Student Services.

B. Conduct Rules

The following statements constitute the official record of all general conduct rules and regulations at the University of South Carolina Salkehatchie. Students are expected to abide by these rules and administrators are required to enforce them. (NOTE: Additional rules and regulations may be promulgated during the year; when this happens, announcements will be made upon adoption of the changes or additions.)

1. Damage to Property

Acts of vandalism such as damage to or destruction of property owned or controlled by the University or its members is prohibited.

2. Firearms and Other Deadly Weapons

7. Disorderly Conduct

Individual or group behavior that unnecessarily disturbs individuals or groups is prohibited. Such conduct includes (but is not necessarily limited to) physical assault or threat of assault, hazing, and boisterous conduct which is unreasonable for the area in which it occurs.

8. Sale of Textbooks

The sale by any student of a textbook that does not belong to them is prohibited unless they have prior written authorization from the owner of the book. (Books that are found should be turned in to the Lost and Found department in the Dean's Office.)

9. Forgery

Forgery and the alteration or misuse of University documents or records are forbidden.

10. Keys

No one may use or have in their possession any University key without proper authorization. No student is allowed under any conditions to have a University key duplicated.

11. Misuse of Telephone

No student shall abuse telephone privileges.

12. Disruption of Normal Activity

No one may interfere with or disrupt the normal activity and operations of students, faculty, administrations or staff of this institution or its buildings or facilities. Any form of expression that materially interferes with such activities and operations or invades the rights of persons may be proscribed or prohibited.

NOTE: To remain in the vicinity of activity which threatens to disrupt or is disrupting normal University functions may have serious legal and disciplinary implications. Bystanders as well as more active participants may be charged with jointly engaging in an enterprise that is prohibited by law. Students should accordingly avoid the scene of any disruption or potential disruption. In any case, failure to leave when asked to disperse by University or law enforcement officials will result in disciplinary and/or legal action.

NOTE: In any case where students or employees of the University of South Carolina Salkehatchie are involved in action which is disruptive of the normal activities of the institution or its personnel, or which exceeds the bounds of normal internal discipline in its impact, the Board of Trustees may exercise its right to name a special hearing board, committee, or officer to investigate the questioned action and to initiate appropriate disciplinary or other measures.

13. Drugs

Possession, except on a physician's or dentist's prescription, of stimulant, depressant, narcotic, or hallucinogenic drugs and other agents having potential for abuse violates University rules and is prohibited. The selling, bartering, exchanging, and giving away of such drugs to any person not intended to possess them is also prohibited.

NOTE: The University always stands ready to do everything within its power to help any students who want help in breaking an involvement with drugs. See also the University policy below.

14. Alcohol Policy

- a. It is the policy of this campus of the University of South Carolina that alcohol (beer, wine, distilled spirits) will not be included in any student activity; i.e., club events, student government activities, or athletics and field events; whether on or off the immediate campus.
- b. Beer or wine or distilled spirits may not be carried in a state vehicle.
- c. Special events that relate to the greater community such as luncheons, support gatherings, theater events, shall be exempt from the above listed policies upon the approval of the dean of the campus. However, monitoring of those attending who drink must be assured to make sure all South Carolina state laws are followed. No one under the age of 21 shall be served alcohol at any event.
- d. For special events, those beverages included may not be sold; however, a "contribution" may be taken at the point of delivery.

University Drug Policy

The relationship of a university to its students is one that has as one of its basic purposes the creation of an environment conducive to the pursuit and dissemination of knowledge. A portion of this relationship involves the interaction between the student's personal welfare and academic achievement. Since there are numerous means by which the use and abuse of drugs may adversely affect this relationship, it is incumbent upon the University to issue to all members of its community a clear statement of its policy concerning drugs.

The University's primary obligation in dealing with the drug problem is to educate the academic community. A full and comprehensive educational program should be offered including formal and informal courses, lectures and discussions that cover drugs and drug problems. It is considered most important that students also receive up-to-date and accurate information about drug laws and medical findings. The University should also conduct research and offer its expertise as a public service in drug matters.

Another responsibility is to promote an atmosphere where students who have a problem with drug abuse can feel free to seek help. Students must feel that they can obtain help without fear of legal reprisal and in order to accomplish this, the University will consider situations where a student initiates the contact as completely confidential. In accordance with state law, students may now receive counseling and advice, legally sanctioned as confidential, from the Counseling Office.

The University must maintain its primary function as a center of learning. At the same time, it must be clear that local, state, and federal laws apply equally on campus as well as off campus.

Grievance Policy

Preface- The University of South Carolina is committed to a policy of treating all members of the University community fairly in regard to their personal and professional concerns. In order to ensure that students know what to do when they need to resolve a problem, this procedure is provided.

Purpose – The primary objective of the student grievance procedure is to ensure that concerns are promptly dealt with and resolutions reached in a fair and just manner. It is essential that each student be given an adequate opportunity to bring complaints and problems to the attention of the University administration with the assurance that each will be given fair treatment.

Definition – A grievance is defined as dissatisfaction occurring when a student thinks that any condition affecting the student is unjust, inequitable, or creates unnecessary hardship. Such grievances include, but are not limited to the following: mistreatment by any University employee; wrongful assessment of processing of fees, records, and registration errors; racial discrimination in student employment.

Procedure

Initiating a Grievance - (a) The initial phase of the student grievance generally requires an oral discussion between the student and the person(s) alleged to have caused the grievance. (b) If the student considers the response to that discussion to be unsatisfactory and feels the grievance still exists, written notification of the grievance shall be delivered the chair of the Academic Affairs Committee. The Academic Affairs Committee facilitates better student-faculty communications on the Salkehatchie Campus by listening to student and faculty grievances. Hearing may be requested by students and faculty. A written report is submitted to the dean recommending what action, if any, should be taken.

DEFINITION OF A STUDENT

For the purpose of this policy a “student” is defined as any person who is admitted, enrolled or registered for study at the University of South Carolina for any academic period. Persons who are not officially enrolled for a particular term but who have a continuing student relationship with, or an educational interest in, the University of South Carolina are considered “students”. A person shall also be considered a student during any period that follows the end of either the Spring or Fall semester that the student has completed until the last day for registration for the next succeeding semester. A person shall also be considered a student during any period while the student is under suspension from the institution or when the person is attending or participating in any activity preparatory to the beginning of school including, but not limited to orientation, placement testing, advisement, and registration.

CODE OF STUDENT CONDUCT

I. Introduction

The University of South Carolina Sumter is an academic community preserved through the mutual respect and trust of the individuals who learn, teach, and work within it. Students as well as all other parties at the University must be protected through fair and orderly processes. These are best safeguarded when each person within the University community acts in an orderly and responsible manner. All students and guests are equally entitled to the protection embodied in this document and are expected to meet the standards, which are set forth herein.

This document addresses and governs the conduct of all students and student organizations. Violators are subject to local, state, and federal laws, as well as to the provisions listed herein.

Nothing herein is intended or shall be construed to limit or restrict the student's freedom of speech or peaceful assembly. Free inquiry and free expression are indispensable to the objectives of an institution of higher education; and to this end peaceful, reasonable, orderly demonstrations in approved areas shall not be subject to interference by members of the University community. Those involved in demonstrations, however, may not engage in conduct that violates the rights of other members of the University community.

These rules are not to restrain controversy or dissent, or to prevent, discourage, nor limit communication among faculty, students, staff, and administrators. The purpose of these rules is to prevent the abuse of the rights of others and to maintain public order appropriate to the University. In this regard, it shall be the responsibility of every student to obey the Code of Student Conduct, which includes the Code of Student Academic Responsibility and the Student Discipline Code.

Students whose official campus of record is a University of South Carolina campus other than Sumter, but who attend class(es) at USC Sumter are subject to USC Sumter policies and procedures. If a violation occurs on the USC Sumter campus, the USC Sumter Student Handbook will serve as the official procedural guide. Additionally, the official campus of record may choose to review the matter and/or impose sanctions.

II. Student Academic Responsibility

Under the Code of Student Academic Responsibility, students are on their honor not to cheat, lie, or steal. If they witness another student doing so, it is their responsibility to request that the student report him/herself to the instructor of the course, and if this is not done, to report the individual and the circumstances to the Instructor, Department/Division Chair, Director of Student Life or Executive Associate Dean for Academic and Student Affairs.

Violations of this code include, but are not limited to, use of unauthorized notes during an examination, collusion with another student to obtain unfair advantage during a test or assignment, plagiarism, and other incidents, which reflect unethical or dishonest academic behavior. Students are required to properly acknowledge sources such as books, newspapers, magazines, journals, records, tapes, films, web sites, and interviews. Students may not present as their own the ideas, opinions, images, figures, language or concepts of another, including those of other students. Some specific uses of source material are:

Cheating: The use of unauthorized material or information from others to gain an unfair advantage during testing, assignments or evaluation.

Direct Quotation: word-for-word copying of a source. Direct quotation must be accurate, must not misrepresent the source in any way, and must be properly acknowledged.

Paraphrase: a recasting into one's own words material from a source, generally condensing the source but not misrepresenting it. A source must be properly acknowledged as well. A direct quotation with only a word or two changed, added, or omitted should not be passed off as a paraphrase.

Use of ideas: The use of an idea from a source must be properly acknowledged, even when ones' application of that idea varies from the source.

Use of figures, tables, charts, statistics, images, photographs, and other similar sources: These items must be fully acknowledged, and any changes must be clearly indicated.

If a student has received any kind of help (except that permitted by an instructor) in the preparation of a project, that help must be fully acknowledged. Papers and other materials bought from "term paper writing services," if submitted, as the work of anyone except the writing service, constitutes a violation of the principles of this document.

Instructors have the right to handle academic matters of integrity within their classroom. Instructors are expected to use the Code of Student Conduct when the integrity of the institution may be in question.

III. The Student Discipline Code

It shall be the responsibility of all students and student organizations to abide by the Student Discipline Code on and off campus. All non-academic conduct that infringes upon the rights or welfare of others is thus embodied in this Code. Violations of the Student Discipline Code are handled in the same manner as violations of the Code of Student Academic Responsibility.

Failure to Pay for Returned Checks: Violations include the failure of the student to pay for any returned checks, fines and/or late fees associated with application fees, tuition, books and other miscellaneous charges for goods or services on campus.

Violations of University Policy: Breach of policy, rules, and regulations, as well as parking and traffic rules.

Violations of Written University Policy or Regulations: violations include breach of student handbook, University catalog, or University bulletin rules and regulations, as well as parking and traffic rules.

Violations of Local, State or Federal Laws: violations include all local, state, and federal laws. Violators may face prosecution off campus, as well as disciplinary action on campus. Students charged with violations of local, state, or federal law off campus must report the incident to the Director of Student Life within three class days.

Disruption of Operations of the University: violations include the restraint of another's freedom of movement, speech, assembly or access to University facilities; the disruption of classroom activities during periods of instruction, or any other form of disruption of University function.

Falsification of Records/Information: violations include a) causing or contributing to the completion of any official University record, document, or form dishonestly so as to supply incorrect or misleading information; b) reporting or providing false information to any University official; c) originating and/or circulating a false warning of an impending bombing, fire, or other catastrophe.

Failure to Comply with Directions of Officials: violations include the failure of a student to present proper identification to a University official acting in the performance of his/her duty; failure to comply with a reasonable request of a University official acting in the performance of his/her duties; supplying a false identity; or contempt of the subpoena or other order of the Discipline and Grievance Committee.

Use of Illegal Software: It is the policy of USC Sumter, in keeping with federal copyright laws, to prohibit the use, possession or distribution of illegal computer software on campus. Only properly acquired and appropriately copyrighted software may be used at any USC Sumter computer facility. Breach of this policy shall be considered a violation of the Code of Student Conduct and thus subject to disciplinary sanctions.

Possession or Use of Firearms or Dangerous Weapons on University Property: violations include the unauthorized possession on University property of any weapon such as a firearm, knife, explosives, fireworks, or dangerous chemicals, without the written permission of the Dean of the University.

Unauthorized Use or Possession of Alcoholic Beverages: USC Sumter clearly prohibits the unauthorized and/or unlawful possession, use, or distribution of alcoholic beverages by students or employees on University property or at any University activity.

Use, Possession, or Distribution of Narcotics or Illegal Drugs: violations include unlawful possession, use, or distribution of illegal drugs (for example, marijuana, amphetamines, cocaine, barbiturates, opiates, hallucinogens, etc.) by students or employees on or off campus. Students charged with drug-related offenses off campus must report the incident to the Director of Student Life within three class days.

Theft, Unauthorized Possession, or Damage to Property: violations include larceny, property damage, theft, unauthorized borrowing, or cases involving acts of felonious larceny or theft on or off campus.

Hazing and/or Threats: Any action taken, or situation created, intentionally, whether on or off campus or on the Internet to produce mental or physical discomfort, embarrassment, harassment, ridicule, or suffering. Such actions and situations include creation of excessive fatigue; physical and physiological shocks; wearing apparel in public that is conspicuous and not normally in good taste; engaging in public stunts and buffoonery, morally degrading or humiliating games and activities; and any other activities not consistent with the rules and regulations of USC Sumter.

Disorderly Conduct or Lewd, Indecent, or Obscene Conduct: violations concerning personal conduct--including fighting, threatening behavior, public disturbance, drunk and disorderly conduct, public indecency by act or word, or use of the internet/e-mail in a manner unacceptable by University or community standards.

Abuse of Trust: violations include the knowing abuse of any elective or appointive position of trust or responsibility, including misuse of a student organization's funds or properties, or is in a conflict of interest involving the activities of a student organization.

Aiding or Abetting: violations include activities which constitute any assistance or encouragement in the infraction of any of the above provisions of the Code.

Environmental Concerns: The University of South Carolina Sumter is committed to environmental protective measures for land, water, and air resources. It is the responsibility of each student to properly dispose of personal trash in the receptacles provided within the buildings and on the grounds. Leaving trash in classrooms, lobbies, recreation or office areas, discarding cigarettes on the grounds, and waste or damage to any natural resource on or off campus are examples of violations of the Code of Student Conduct related to environmental concerns.

III. Student Disciplinary Procedures

A. Ordinarily, proceedings for student conduct violations before the Disciplinary/Grievance Committee are initiated by an Assistant/Associate Dean or a member of the Student Life Staff. However, any member of the University community may initiate disciplinary proceedings. The allegation must be submitted in writing to an Assistant/Associate Dean or to the Director of Student Life. The Director of Student Life may call an individual conference with the accused student to discuss the scope and general nature of the alleged offense. Upon investigation, the Director of Student Life decides whether a formal charge will be brought against the student or student organization. A student charged with infractions is summoned for a pre-hearing interview with the Director of Student Life or a designee to explain the disciplinary procedures and options for resolution of the disciplinary charges. A student charged with infractions who is to appear before the discipline/grievance committee will be sent a written notice by the chair of the committee to appear at the scheduled hearing. This notice will include:

1. A written notice of the charge(s) brought forward.
2. The general nature of the charge
3. The time and place of the hearing
4. Notice of his/her rights to have representation if desired (however, only USC students or employees may participate in the proceedings)

5. Notice of his/her rights to call witnesses in his/her behalf, and to be confronted with and question witnesses against him/her.
- B. The charged student will have the following options for resolution to the disciplinary charge(s):
1. Plead not guilty to the charge(s) and have a regular hearing before the Discipline/Grievance committee where a determination of responsibility is made and recommendations are made to the Dean of the University.
 2. Plead not guilty to the charge(s) and request an administrative hearing before the Director of Student Life or a designee of the Executive Associate Dean for Academic and Student Affairs where a determination of responsibility will be made and recommendations are made to the Dean of the University.
 3. The Director of Student Life or designee may decline to hear the case. Plead guilty to the charge(s) and elect for the Discipline/Grievance committee to recommend appropriate sanctions to the Dean of the University.
 4. Plead guilty to the charge(s) and elect for the Director of Student Life or a designee of the Executive Associate Dean for Academic and Student Affairs to recommend appropriate sanctions to the Dean of the University. The Director of Student Life or designee may decline to hear the case.
 5. Failure to respond to charge(s) and/or fails to appear for a required pre-hearing interview will constitute forfeiture of the above options. At the hearing, a determination of responsibility will be made with or without the accused student being present. Recommendations will be made to the Dean of the University and final disposition will be made to the student in writing.
- C. If a student desires the presence of a witness, it is the student's responsibility to ensure that the witness appears. Any written statement presented must be dated, signed by the person making it, and witnessed by a University employee. Written statements will be given less weight than spoken testimony because of the inability to question the individual for more information.
- D. It should be clearly understood that there is a fundamental difference between the nature of student discipline and that of criminal law. Regardless of the above options exercised for resolution of charges, the discipline of students within the University community must be consistent with the educational mission of the institution.

The Discipline and Grievance committee may elect to place "holds" on diplomas and/or transcripts of students involved in disciplinary proceedings pending the final outcome of the disciplinary charges.

The Dean of the University receives all recommended sanctions from the discipline/grievance committee for disciplinary violations. The Dean of the University has the authority to accept, reject, amend or impose different sanctions/penalties for violations of the code of student conduct in accordance with the penalties listed in the Student Handbook.

If the student wishes to appeal the decision of the Dean of the University, a letter of appeal must be addressed to and received by the Vice Provost and Executive Dean for Regional Campuses and Continuing Education within ten (10) business days of the Dean of the University's decision. The next step in the appeals process involves an appeal to the President of the University.

V. Penalties

Students should be aware of the range of penalties that may be assessed for infraction of rules and regulations governing conduct within the University community. The following is a summary of present penalties showing examples of the types of offenses for which each may be assessed. All penalties may be imposed either singly or in combination.

Major penalties (suspension, up to and including expulsion)

Penalties are recommended by the Discipline/Grievance Committee, with the approval of the Dean of the University or other body empowered by the Dean. Any person under one of these penalties is not in good standing with the University for any purpose, including transfer to another institution.

Probation

A period during which a student is under an official warning that his conduct is in violation of University rules, regulations or policies. While these violations are not serious enough to warrant a form of suspension, the student under probation is not considered in good standing (within the institution) and his continued enrollment is contingent upon good citizenship for the probationary period. While on disciplinary probation, a student may face specific limitations on his or her behavior and or university privileges (see conditions). Subsequent violations of university rules, regulations, or policies are likely to result in more severe sanctions, up to and including suspension from the university.

Conditions

Limitations upon a student's behavior and/or university privileges for a specific period of time, or an active obligation to complete a specified activity. Failure to abide by or fulfill conditions is likely to result in more severe sanctions, up to and including suspension from the University.

Restriction

Limitations upon a students' privileges for a period of time. For example, this penalty may include denial of the right to represent the University in any way, denial of parking or certain library, recreational, activity or other privileges.

Reprimand

An official rebuke making misconduct a matter of record in University files for a period of time, which may extend throughout a student's enrollment for a degree.

Other Specific Penalties

(a) Work hours, assessed for certain offenses in which supervised work benefiting the University community is deemed appropriate; (b) orders to make restitution, issued when a student has engaged in conduct injurious to property of another for which monetary damages may be ascertained. For example, this penalty may be assessed in cases of property damage, theft, fraud or deception, or misappropriation; (c) remuneration, fines, and/or additional charges assessed as punitive measure for certain types of offenses representing injury to the University as a whole or to numbers of persons within the University community.

Persons found guilty of any of the following offenses may receive penalties up to and including suspension from the University: (a) serious acts of malicious vandalism; (b) possession or use in any way of any kinds of firearms or weapons (concealed or not concealed) without authority or under prohibition of law; (c) starting or being in any way responsible for starting a fire on University property; (d) theft, forgery, fraud or other dishonest acts of any kind including the possession or sale of books without permission of the owner(s); (e) possession of stimulant, depressant, narcotic, or hallucinatory drugs or other agents having potential for abuse, unless possession is legal; (f) selling, bartering, exchanging and giving away of stimulant, depressant, narcotic or hallucinogenic drugs or other agents having potential for abuse to any person not intended to possess them or not legally entitled to their possession or use; (g) serious violations of laws pertaining to consumption of alcoholic beverages; (h) disruption of normal activities of the University, or any conviction in a court of law for offenses of the nature which deals with interruption of normal operation of the University of South Carolina Sumter or other educational institutions; or of a kind involving activity which would constitute a danger to the health, safety or property of individuals within the University community or constitute similar danger to the welfare of the institution generally; (I) willful possession, ignition or detonation of anything which could cause damage by fire or other means to persons or property at the University; and (j) unauthorized possession or duplication of master keys.

The following offenses normally subject a student to penalties up to and including probation upon an appropriate finding of guilt: a) making false fire alarms or causing them to be made, or misusing fire safety equipment, b) misuse of telephones or abuse of telephone equipment, c) failure to make satisfactory settlement to the University whether such indebtedness be in fees or loans owed or in fines or restitution charges unpaid, or in any other form, d) misconduct associated with consumption of alcoholic beverages, and e) general misconduct and behavior which disturbs the academic community or its members, especially when such conduct is repetitive. Repeated or particularly serious instances of any of the foregoing may result in suspension.

USC Union

1. Definition of a “Student”

For the purpose of this policy a “student” is defined as any person who is admitted, enrolled or registered for study at the University of South Carolina for any academic period. Persons who are not officially enrolled for a particular term but who have a continuing student relationship with, or an educational interest in, the University of South Carolina are considered “students”. A person shall also be considered a student during any period that follows the end of either the Spring or Fall semester that the student has completed until the last day for registration for the next succeeding semester. A person shall also be considered a student during any period while the student is under suspension from the institution or when the person is attending or participating in any activity preparatory to the beginning of school including, but not limited to orientation, placement testing, and registration.

2. Code of Student Conduct

The University of South Carolina Union Bulletin (<http://bulletin.uscunion.sc.edu/index.php?catoid=91>) addresses and governs the conduct of all students and student organizations. Violators are subject to local, state, and federal laws, to the provisions listed within.

These rules are not to restrain controversy or dissent, or to prevent, discourage, nor limit the communication among faculty, students, staff, and administrators. The purpose of these rules is to prevent the abuse of rights of others and to maintain public order appropriate to the University. In this regard, it shall be the responsibility of every student to obey the Code of Student Conduct, which includes the Code of Academic Responsibility and the Student Discipline Codes. Students have a right to expect enforcement of these rules and regulations. The University also has a right to expect students to abide them as befits the responsibilities lodged in students as members of the University Community. Knowledge of these rules and regulations can prove most beneficial to the students in utilizing and protecting their rights. It is important to add, however, that unfamiliarity with institutional regulations or rules is no grounds for excusing infractions.

Students should be aware that educational institutions are not sanctuaries from the reach of the civil and criminal laws of the communities and states wherein such institutions exist. Students who commit offenses against the laws of municipalities, states, or the United States are subject to prosecution by those authorities as well as liable for disciplinary action under University rules when their conduct violates institutional standards.

The University has an obligation to clarify those standards of behavior which it considers essential to its educational mission and its community life. These general behavioral expectations and the resultant specific regulations should represent a reasonable guide for student conduct, but the student should be free as possible from imposed limitations that have no direct relevance to his or her education.

Students are expected to abide by the following conduct regulations, and administration and faculty are required to enforce them.

General Conduct Regulations

Damage to property. Acts of vandalism, such as damage to or destruction of property owned by the University or its members, are prohibited.

Firearms and other deadly weapons. The unauthorized possession or use, in any way, of firearms or weapons of any kind, such as dirks, slingshots, metal knuckles, razors, or any other deadly weapon, is prohibited.

Alcoholic beverages. Consumption of alcoholic beverages on campus is prohibited.

Attendance and tardiness. Regardless of the USC or classroom attendance policies, when a student is to arrive on time and stay for the duration of the class.

Academic Conduct Regulations

Infractions of academic discipline include, but are not limited to:

Cheating. This refers to conduct during quizzes and examinations, which shall include using electronic, oral, or written information not specifically permitted by the instructor. It shall also include receiving or using electronic, oral, or written information from any person other than the instructor. It shall further include stealing, buying, selling, or using any copy of an examination before it has been administered.

Plagiarism. This refers to submitting, as a student's own work, material obtained from another source without indicating the source from which it was obtained. It further includes letting another person compose or rewrite a student's assignment.

A student who assists in the forms of dishonesty mentioned above shall be considered equally as guilty as the student who cheated or plagiarized.

Student Responsibility

Each student is responsible for abiding by the Code of Student Conduct at all times. The Code of Student Conduct applies inside and outside the classroom whether a faculty member is present or not.

Faculty Responsibility

Each faculty member also has responsibilities with respect to the Code of Student Conduct. These responsibilities include, but are not limited to, the promotion of conduct conducive to the effective functioning of the Code, a clear exposition to students of the values as well as the obligations of the Code, a demonstration of the faculty member's own interest in the proper functioning of the Code, and the use of uniform procedures in handling violations of the Code.

Carolinian Creed

The community of scholars at the University of South Carolina is dedicated to personal and academic excellence.

Choosing to join the community obligates each member to a code of civilized behavior.

As a Carolinian...

I will practice personal and academic integrity;

I will respect the dignity of all persons;

I will respect the rights and property of others;

I will discourage bigotry, while striving to learn from differences in people, ideas and opinions;

I will demonstrate concern for others, their feelings, and their need for conditions which support their work and development.

Alliance to these ideals requires each Carolinian to refrain from and discourage behaviors which threaten the freedom and respect every individual deserves.

Students should be aware of the range of penalties which may be assessed for infraction of rules and regulations. All penalties may be imposed either singly or in combination.

Permanent suspension. Dismissal from the University without leave to reapply for admittance.

Probation. A period during which a student is under an official warning that his or her conduct is in violation of University rules, regulations, or policies.

Restriction. Limitations upon a student's privileges for a period of time.

Reprimand. An official rebuke making misconduct a matter of record in University files for a period of time which may extend throughout a student's enrollment for a degree.

Procedural Standards in Disciplinary Proceedings

It is USC-Union policy that disruptive behavior will not be tolerated in the classroom or other Campus areas. Such behavior may result in removal from the classroom or the premises by Security or other Staff or by the Police, depending on the severity of the incident. If a student is asked to leave or forcibly removed from class or campus, the student will not be allowed to return without permission from the Dean or the Dean's Designee.

The formality of the procedure to which a student is entitled in disciplinary cases should be proportionate to the gravity of the offense and the sanctions which may be imposed. Matters involving minor infractions of the Code of Student Conduct where suspension is not contemplated may be handled by the administration in an informal manner. Where misconduct may result in suspension, the student has the right to a hearing before an appropriate disciplinary panel. Pending action on the charges, the status of the student should not be altered, or his or her right to be present on the campus and to attend classes suspended except where the administration determines such action is necessary.

Students detected or arrested for allegedly committing violations of the Code of Student Conduct, or infractions of statutory law, should be informed of their University rights. No form of harassment should be used by University representatives to coerce the admission of guilt.

Where a breach of the General Conduct Regulations may result in suspension, the student has the right to a hearing before a Judicial Board comprised of the Associate/Academic Dean, and two members of the Faculty Organization. The respective Dean will serve as chair. The Associate/Academic Dean will designate a chair in the event of his or her absence. The faculty members are elected each year by the Faculty Organization.

Where a breach of the Academic Conduct Regulations may result in suspension, the student has the right to a hearing before the Student Affairs Committee comprised of both faculty members and student members. The faculty members are elected each year by the Faculty Organization.

In either case, the hearing is to be regulated by the following procedures.

1. the student should be informed, in writing, of the reasons for the proposed disciplinary action with sufficient particularity and in sufficient time to ensure opportunity to prepare for the hearing. Also, he or she should be informed of the time and place of the hearing;
2. the student appearing before the committee should have the right to be assisted in his or her defense by an advisor of his or her choice, subject to the proposed advisor's consent. The advisor must be a fellow student, or member of the staff or faculty.
3. the burden of proof should rest upon the officials bringing the charge;
4. the student should be given the opportunity to testify and to present evidence and witnesses. The student should have an opportunity to hear and question adverse witnesses. In no case should the committee consider statements against the student unless he or she has been given an opportunity to refute unfavorable conclusions which might otherwise be drawn;
5. all matter upon which the decision may be based must be introduced into evidence at the proceeding before the committee. The decision should be based solely upon such matter. Improperly acquired evidence should not be admitted;
6. there should be, where possible, a verbatim record, such as a tape recording, of the hearing. All proceedings will be confidential.

Appeals

Decisions finding a student responsible for violation of the Code of Student Conduct are final, subject to the student's right to appeal. Appeals must be submitted in writing to the appropriate disciplinary panel. It can be noted that appealing any such decision is distinct from filing a grievance against University personnel.

A formal appeal of decisions made in an informal manner by the administration regarding minor infractions may be made to the appropriate disciplinary panel.

Decisions by the Judicial Board may be appealed to the Dean of the University. The Dean of the University may either:

- a. affirm the original findings of the Judicial Board;
- b. remand the case to the Judicial Board for further proceedings—for example, to attend to procedural errors or new evidence.

In extraordinary circumstances, the Dean of the University may direct a new hearing with a new disciplinary panel. The Academic Affairs Committee shall serve as the new hearing committee. If a student wishes to appeal the decision of the Judicial Board after re-visitation, an appeal once again can be made to the Dean of the University at which time he / she either affirms, amends, or vacates the decision of the disciplinary panels.

Decisions by the Student Affairs Committee may be appealed to the Associate/Academic Dean. Upon appeal, the Associate/Academic Dean may either:

- a. affirm the original findings of the Student Affairs Committee;
- b. remand the case to the Student Affairs Committee for further proceedings—for example, to attend to procedural errors or new evidence.

In extraordinary circumstances, the Associate/Academic Dean may direct a new hearing with a new disciplinary panel. The Academic Affairs Committee shall serve as the new hearing committee. If a student wishes to appeal the decision of the Student Affairs Committee and affirmed by the Associate/Academic Dean, or to appeal the decision of the Student Affairs Committee after re-visitation, an appeal can be made to the Dean of the University at which time he / she either affirms, amends, or vacates the decision of the disciplinary panels.

In all appellate cases, the decision of the Dean of the University is final, with no further appeal available at the local campus level. Any further appeal must be made to the Vice Provost and Executive Dean for Extended University in Columbia.

Grievance Policy

Preface

The University of South Carolina Union is committed to a policy of treating all members of the University community fairly in regard to their personal and professional concerns. In order to ensure that students know what to do when they need to resolve a problem, this procedure is provided.

Purpose

The primary objective of the grievance procedure is to ensure that concerns are promptly dealt with and resolutions reached in a fair and just manner. It is essential that each student be given an adequate opportunity to bring complaints and problems to the University administration with assurance that each will be given fair treatment.

Definition

A grievance is defined as dissatisfaction occurring when a student thinks that any condition affecting him or her is unjust, inequitable, or creates unnecessary hardship. Such grievances include, but are not limited to, the following problems: mistreatment by any USCU employee, wrongful assessment and processing of fees, records and registration errors, racial discrimination, sex discrimination, and handicapped discrimination, as they relate to nonacademic areas in the University.

One exception to this definition of grievance is that the procedures herein shall not extend to matters of grading student work where the substance of a complaint is simply the student's disagreement with the mark or grade placed on the work. Such matters shall be discussed by the student and the teacher; final authority shall remain with the teacher.

Procedure

Initiating a grievance. The initial phase of the student grievance procedure requires an oral discussion between the student and the person(s) alleged to have caused the grievance. This discussion must take place within 10 working days of the incident which constituted the grievance.

First appeal. If the student wishes to file a formal grievance, a written appeal must be prepared that includes the name, address, and phone number of the grievant; the name of the person against whom the grievance is being filed; the nature of the grievance; a description of the desired solution; a description of the actions taken by the grievant to date; and all pertinent written documentation. This file must be completed and presented to the immediate supervisor of the person alleged to have caused the grievance within five working days of the initial discussion referred to in the above paragraph.

The supervisor shall immediately acknowledge receipt of the grievance and shall begin an investigation of the incident at once. The supervisor shall respond in writing of the decision to the student (with a copy to the dean) within three working days of the conclusion of the investigation.

If the student feels the grievance has been resolved, the process is complete. If not, an appeal may be brought before the Student Affairs Committee.

Appeal to the Student Affairs Committee

If the grievance is unresolved, the student may bring the grievance before the Student Affairs Committee by presenting a written statement within five working days of the date of the supervisor's decision. This statement shall be forwarded to the dean in a sealed envelope and shall a) state the grievance, b) state why the response is unacceptable, and c) request a hearing before a grievance panel.

Any related materials (including a copy of the grievance file and the written response from the supervisor) must accompany the letter. The dean shall immediately notify the chair of the Student Affairs Committee of the appeal.

Upon receipt of the appeal, the chair shall send a copy of the appeal to the members of the committee and the major parties involved. The major parties include the person(s) against whom the grievance was initiated, the supervisor of that individual(s), and the appropriate administrator. The chair of the committee shall ask the major parties to respond in writing to the appeal within five working days.

At the end of the five working day period, the chair shall meet with the Student Affairs Committee to examine the request for an appellate hearing and the replies. A hearing shall be granted if a majority of the quorum finds that grounds for the appeal have been substantiated. A tie vote shall result in a hearing being granted. The chair shall notify all involved parties of the decision of the committee to either hear or not hear the grievance.

The hearing shall be conducted no sooner than five working days after the decision to grant the request for the hearing and no later than 15 working days after the decision to grant the request for the hearing.

A postponement may be granted by the chair upon written request of either party. The request shall state why the postponement should be granted.

Conduct of the Hearing

The chair of the Student Affairs Committee shall open the hearing by reading the request for an appeal and informing the parties involved of the jurisdiction of the committee and its procedures. The chair shall ascertain that all the parties involved are aware of their rights, answer any questions they have in regard to these matters, and conduct the meeting.

All hearings shall be closed to the public, unless all parties agree that the hearing be opened to members of the USCU community.

A tape recording shall be made of the proceedings.

All parties involved in a hearing shall maintain in the strictest confidence the identity of the individuals appearing before the committee, as well as the information presented to the committee.

Hearings shall be conducted in an informal manner. The taking of statements from the parties to the grievance (and from witnesses, if any) may be done by discussion format, though each individual appearing before the committee may be subject to cross-examination. Witnesses shall be present only during the time they are testifying. The major parties involved in the grievance shall be required to attend all hearings of the committee.

At the conclusion of the hearing, each party shall submit a proposed solution of the grievance to the committee.

After receiving the proposed solutions to the grievance, the chair shall dismiss all individuals who are not members of the Student Affairs Committee. The committee shall reach its decision based on the information presented during the hearing and according to the statement of student rights and responsibilities.

The committee shall decide by a majority vote the solution of the grievance. In the case of a tie, the chair shall vote and thus break the tie. The chair (or designee) shall forward a copy of the committee's decision to the major parties involved and to the dean within five working days of the conclusion of the hearing.

Decisions of the committee shall be final, subject to the student's right to appeal directly to the dean and to the vice provost for regional campuses.

The decision of the committee shall be kept on file in the dean's office.
