Sarah Miller, PhD
Assistant Dean for Academic and Student Affairs

History of USC Salkehatchie

USC Salkehatchie was established in 1965 as a regional center of the University of South Carolina because of local civic commitment initiated by residents from Allendale, Bamberg, and Hampton counties who organized a movement to create a regional campus in 1964. The General Assembly of South Carolina responded to this momentum by creating the Western Carolina Higher Education Commission, which is composed of two representatives from each of the participating counties. Barnwell County joined the compact three years later, followed by Colleton County in 1984.

The commission contracted with the University's Board of Trustees to provide the facilities for a university center, while the University provided administrative and academic support. The center was named Salkehatchie after the river that runs through all five counties that support the campus.

An unused elementary school in Allendale provided the first building for the new campus, and the academic program was initiated in the fall of 1965, with eight part-time faculty and 76 students. Student enrollment nearly doubled the following school year. When it appeared that enrollment might decrease, political support was mobilized by community residents who persuaded the legislature to provide monies to eliminate the initial operating deficit. Several measures were taken by the University to strengthen the regional campuses throughout the system and, with the appointment of a regional provost, administration was improved. Campus directors were given power to formulate budgets, and the state legislature began to provide a per-student contribution.

Thus, the task of increasing student enrollment was successfully undertaken, with student numbers increasing in succeeding years. Today nearly 1200 students enroll yearly at the campus. The first non-University review of the campus came in 1968, when the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools visited Salkehatchie in the fall for an accreditation visit. The committee expressed a generally positive view of the efforts being made to develop both the program and the facilities at the new institution and recommended increasing the number of full-time faculty rather than relying on part-time faculty to teach the increasing numbers of students enrolling annually.

The expansion of facilities began in June 1972 when the Allendale Hut Complex, composed of two historic log cabin structures erected during the WPA movement, was deeded to the campus by Allendale County. USC Salkehatchie now owns homes and other buildings adjacent to Spruce Hall that now house faculty and other offices. To provide for future expansion, the campus commission purchased 65 acres of adjoining land in February 1975. A master plan has been developed for future expansion of the campus. The Science and Administration Building is located on the 65-acre tract and has been available for classes since the fall 1981 semester. In 1983 the campus added the Salkehatchie Civic Arts Center which was renovated into the Carolina Theatre in 2013. In 1991, a 29,500 square-foot Library and Academic Support Building, which opened for use in fall 1992, was constructed next to the Science and Administration Building in the central part of campus. Also, in 1991, the Sarah T. Winthrop Foundation donated an additional 94 acres adjacent to the original location, bringing the current holdings to over 200 acres.

Beginning in 1978, USC Salkehatchie reached out to Walterboro by offering six courses there for the convenience of Colleton County residents. Today, nearly 100 courses are offered each semester, enabling residents of that area to work toward associate degrees. In the fall of 1982, the former Walterboro High School building and support facilities became vacant, allowing Salkehatchie to establish a permanent second location to its campus holdings. In 1991 the campus commission purchased additional acreage, providing a permanent site for USC in the historic district of downtown Walterboro. In 2003 Colleton County gave two additional buildings, adjacent to the campus, to USC Salkehatchie allowing for more expansion.

The growth of USC Salkehatchie can also be seen in the expansion of its curricula. New areas of study have been added over the years, including applied professions, education, criminal justice, geography, music, physical education, nursing and computer science. The University recognized the development of the academic program in June 1973 when it granted the campus the power to confer associate degrees.

Salkehatchie is proud of its contributions to the communities that support it. An outreach program offers courses in local high schools for academically talented seniors. An evening program of courses was begun in September 1976 with ten classes, but community response resulted in the rapid expansion of the evening program. Since 1965 USC Salkehatchie has provided opportunities in higher education to thousands of students who might otherwise have missed the chance for a college education. As the campus has grown, so has its educational, cultural, and economic impact on the community. Today the campus boasts an internationally and culturally diverse faculty dedicated to providing quality educational experiences to students.

USC Salkehatchie is also committed to the economic growth and development of its five-county service area. The USC Salkehatchie Leadership Center opened in 1998 as a result of the cooperative effort of the University of South Carolina, the Allendale County Chamber of Commerce, BellSouth, South Carolina State University, Clemson University, U.S. Rural Development, the S.C. Commission on Minority Affairs, the S.C. Department of Commerce, the S.C. Downtown Development Association, and Leadership South Carolina. The mission of the center is to provide programs for leadership development and to serve as a catalyst for community and economic development in the region. The center has been instrumental in generating grant funding for county programs and providing leadership training for county officials and citizens of the area.

The Carolinian Creed

The community of scholars at the University of South Carolina is dedicated to personal and academic excellence.

Choosing to join the community obligates each member to a code of civilized behavior.

As a Carolinian...

I will practice personal and academic integrity;

I will respect the dignity of all persons;

I will respect the rights and property of others;

I will discourage bigotry, while striving to learn from differences in people, ideas and opinions;

Allegiance to these ideals requires each Carolinian to refrain from and discourage behaviors which threaten the freedom and respect every individual deserves.

Student Life Statement

An important aspect of university life, sometimes overlooked by students, is the rich opportunity to participate in and contribute to the extracurricular life of the campus. USC Salkehatchie encourages and fosters the growth and development of student organizations, clubs, publications, and student activities. Our campus provides the opportunity for every student to make important and noticeable contributions. Your ideas, hard work, and participation in student activities on this campus will be visible and deeply appreciated.

Commencement and Other Formal Ceremonies

Commencement is a dignified and formal ceremony that honors students who have earned degrees. The academic costumes worn in the procession and at other formal university occasions trace their origins to those worn by faculty and students at medieval European universities. The costume remains relatively unchanged since the 16th century. The style of the gown, the shape and tassel of the headpiece, and the colors on the hood all denote the wearer's academic heritage.

The headpiece is appropriately worn with the board flat on the top of the head and with the tassel falling from the left quarter of the board. Tassel colors denote the field of discipline in which the wearer's degree was earned. Doctoral tassels are often gold. The soft velvet Tudor cap is also worn by many who hold the doctorate.

The hood is worn falling from the shoulders down the back of the gown in a display of vivid color. It is edged in velvet, which by its color denotes the field of discipline in which the wearer's degree was earned and it is lined in two colors of silk, which represent the college or university from which the degree was earned. Hence, the University of South Carolina hood is lined in garnet and black and edged with the appropriate discipline color.

The University Mace is carried in procession on occasions of outstanding importance, such as commencements, convocations, and formal dedications. The placement of the mace on its stand signals that the proceedings are about to come to order; its retirement indicates the conclusion of the exercises. The Mace is carried in procession by the President of the Student Government and escorted by the University Chaplain and representatives of the Faculty, the Faculty Emeriti, Alumni, the Board of Trustees, and the University community at large. Academic maces are historically regarded as manifestations of the immortal dignity of universities and thus represent the past, present and future.

Student Nursing Association

A student nursing association was organized in the 2008 academic year, and membership is open to any student seeking a degree in nursing. The purpose of the SNA will be to provide nursing majors with information and community service in the field of nursing as well as to keep members informed of changes that may occur in program requirements and deadlines. The SNA also volunteers at community health events. The advisor is Anna Carol Ptacin (allandry@uscb.edu).

Student Centers

The student centers provide recreational services as well as a lounge area where students may eat lunch, study, or chat. The West Campus student center is in the Student Center Building on Highway 301 across from Spruce Hall. The East Campus student center is in the Student Commons and Conference Center.

Wellness Centers

The wellness centers on both campuses provide the opportunity for students to exercise on campus during posted hours. Hours may vary from semester to semester but are posted on the wellness center doors. The wellness center on the West Campus is located in the Student Center Building on Highway 301 across from Spruce Hall. The East Campus student center is in the Student Commons and Conference Center.

International Student Organization

An international student organization was founded to provide support and social activities for international students on the USC Salkehatchie Campus. Besides international students, anyone with an international background or who is interested in international culture is welcome to join. The advisor is Dr. Wei-Kai Lai (laiw@mailbox.sc.edu).

History Club

A history club was formed to promote the discussion of history and to provide presentations and programs from a historical perspective. The group meets twice monthly and is open to any interested students. The advisor is Dr. Sarah Miller (semiller@mailbox.sc.edu).

Chartering a New Student Organization

Organizations that wish to use University facilities and privileges must be officially recognized through a procedure administered by the Director of Student Life. The chartering of new student organizations, applications for funding and use of campus facilities are made during the fall and spring semesters through the Office for Student Activities and voted on by the Student Government Association. Recognition is obtained by submitting completed registration forms, membership lists and a constitution. If interested in starting a new student organization, please contact Haley Rowe (hbrowe@mailbox.sc.edu).

Student Government Association (SGA)

Two Campuses, One SGA

A total of 29 students from two houses (one in Allendale and one in Walterboro) make up the Student Government Association. Each house is comprised of a vice president, a secretary, a treasurer, a parliamentarian, and 10 senators, all united under one president.

As a member of SGA, students will represent your fellow students' ideas or concerns during meetings with your house and formal meetings with the entire SGA and school administration.

As a member of SGA, students will also serve as student representatives for both the campus and USC Salkehatchie at local and statewide events.

Social Events

SGA isn't all work and no play! SGA members plan and participate in various events throughout the year. SGA makes student life a lot more fun!

Salk Talk

Salk Talk, the weekly student-oriented newsletter for USC Salkehatchie, is packed with information on upcoming SGA events and elections.

Elections

Officers are elected in the spring. Senators are elected in the fall, so that incoming freshmen can participate. Voting is held electronically so all eligible students can participate in voting.

The USC Salkehatchie Student Government Association is looking for motivated students to make a difference on our campus! If you want to run for an office, please contact Haley Rowe at hbrowe@mailbox.sc.edu.

If you are:

- interested in being a liaison between the University administration and the student body

Computer Use Policies

Introduction

All computer use at the University of South Carolina Salkehatchie must conform to the "Computer and Network Access and Use" statement issued by the Office of the Provost of the University of South Carolina. No policies set forth here may be interpreted as contradicting or superseding that statement of policy. This statement of use policies for USC Salkehatchie is provided in addition to those issued by the Office of the Provost (UNIV 1.52).

Access to computers is a privilege based on the responsible use of computer and network resources. All policies included here are intended to ensure a continued tradition of academic freedom, freedom of expression, and freedom to access information in a considerate and responsible manner. In keeping with the mission of the University of South Carolina and USC Salkehatchie, all policies are intended to provide the widest possible academic and scholarly access to computer resources and information technology.

The policies included here are applicable to student computer labs, library stations and individual faculty and staff workstations at USC Salkehatchie. These policies must be adhered to by faculty, staff, and students on the USC Salkehatchie campus. Failure to comply with these policies may lead to loss of computer privileges, campus disciplinary action or legal action.

Definitions

The USC Salkehatchie Administration refers to the Dean of the Campus and Dean's Cabinet appointed by the Dean. The Computer Coordinator is the individual designated by the USC Salkehatchie Administration as having primary responsibility for maintaining the integrity of the campus network and the maintenance of individual faculty and staff workstations. The Computer Coordinator is the responsible party who has been designated by the USC Salkehatchie administration as having primary responsibility for the maintenance of hardware and software on individual workstations.

Policies

Users are not permitted to alter the configuration of any campus network or individual computer software or hardware without prior approval from the laboratory supervisor for student computer lab stations, the library staff for library stations. Faculty and staff are advised to consult with the computer coordinator concerning the alteration of the workstation configuration.

No software may be loaded onto student laboratory computers without the knowledge and prior approval of the Director of IT. Only with the permission of the Director of IT or IT Helpdesk, may programs downloaded from the Internet be run on student laboratory computers or library stations.

Academic work takes precedence over all other uses of the computer. No computer use for recreation or other personal interest will be permitted in USC Salkehatchie student computer labs or library workstations when students are waiting to work on course assignments or course related research. Recreational use includes but is not limited to, personal E-mail, chat lines, computer games, and web surfing not related to academic or research activities.

All computer users are reminded that their activities are subject to the civil and criminal laws of the state of South Carolina and of the federal government. Possible illegal activities include but are not limited to: sexual or other harassment, threats, obscenity, child pornography, libel, unauthorized access to or attempting to access computers, networks, or student records, and copyright violation. Copyright violations include the use of unlicensed software.

Only currently enrolled students of USC Salkehatchie with proper ID (and on a space available basis students currently enrolled in the USC system with proper ID) may use computer laboratory facilities on the USC Salkehatchie campus. Student computer laboratory use is limited to classes meeting in the laboratories or when designated faculty or staff monitors are present in the laboratories. Other use of the computer laboratories must be arranged by the permission of the USC Salkehatchie Administration.

No conduct in student laboratories or at library stations will be permitted which in any way interferes with the ability of others to make use of the computer resources or which could cause damage to the facilities. All student computer lab users or library station users are expected to show sensitivity to others when viewing or downloading material which others could find offensive. Conduct which is not permitted includes but is not limited to, shouting, loud conversation, playing recreational music over computer or other speaker systems without headphones, and consumption of food and drink.

No computer use for commercial purposes is permitted. These activities include, but are not limited to: typing services, bookkeeping, commercial Internet activity and commercial database production. Faculty research and document preparation for publication and university approved consulting agreements are not included in this category.

No student files should be saved on campus computer lab computers. All students are expected to bring their own flash drive so that they may save files when using the campus computer labs.

Student Rights

The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) affords students certain rights with respect to their education records. They are:

(1) The right to inspect and review the student's education records within 45 days of the day the University receives a request for access.

Students should submit to the registrar, dean, head of the academic department, or other appropriate official, written requests that identify the record(s) they wish to inspect. The University official will make arrangements for access and notify the student of the time and place where the records may be inspected. If the records are not maintained by the University official to whom the request was submitted, that official shall advise the student of the correct official to whom the request should be addressed.

(2) The right to request the amendment of the student's education records that the student believes are inaccurate or misleading.

Students may ask the University to amend a record that they believe is inaccurate or misleading. They should write the University official responsible for the record, clearly identify the part of the record they want changed and specify why it is inaccurate or misleading. If the University decides not to amend the record as requested by the student, the University will notify the student of the decision and advise the student of his or her right to a hearing regarding the request for amendment. Additional information regarding the hearing procedures will be provided to the student when notified of the right to a hearing.

(3) The right to consent to disclosures of personally identifiable information contained in the student's education records, except to the extent that FERPA authorizes disclosure without consent.

The University of South Carolina will disclose information from a student's education records only with the written consent of the student, except:

- a) To school officials with legitimate educational interests;
A school official is a person employed by the University in an administrative, supervisory, academic or re- search, or support staff position; a person or company with whom the University has contracted to perform required functions (such an attorney, auditor, service provider, or collection agent); a person serving on the Board of Trustees; or a student serving on an official committee, such as a disciplinary or grievance commit- tee, or assisting another school official in performing his or her tasks. A school official has a legitimate educational interest if the official needs to review an educational record to fulfill his or her professional responsibility.
- b) To officials of other institutions in which the student seeks or intends to enroll if the student had previously requested a release of his/her record;
- c) To authorized representatives of the U.S. Department of Education, U.S. Department of Defense (Solomon Amendment), U.S. Attorney General, INS, the Comptroller General of the United States, state education authorities, organizations conducting studies for or on behalf of the University, and accrediting organizations;
- d) In connection with a student's application for, and receipt of, financial aid;
- e) To comply with a judicial order or lawfully issued subpoena;
- f) To parents of dependent students as defined by the Internal Revenue Code, Section

152;

- g) To appropriate parties in a health or safety emergency; or
- h) To the alleged victim of any crime of violence of the results of any disciplinary proceedings conducted by the University.
- i) The University may disclose the result of a disciplinary proceeding to a parent or guardian so long as the student is under the age of 21 at the time of the incident and the proceeding has resulted in a violation of University drug or alcohol policies, or any federal, state, or local law.
- j) To students currently registered in a particular class section, the names and email addresses of others on the roster may be disclosed in order to participate in class discussion.

(4) The right to file a complaint with the U.S. Department of Education concerning alleged failures by the University of South Carolina to comply with the requirements of FERPA.

The name and address of the office that administers FERPA is:

Family Policy Compliance Office
U.S. Department of Education
600 Independence Avenue, SW
Washington, DC 20202-4605.

Questions concerning this law and the University's procedures concerning release of academic information may be directed to Dr. Sarah Miller, (843) 782-8665 or semiller@mailbox.sc.edu.

Student Rights and Freedoms

The statement of student rights and responsibilities has been approved by the Board of Trustees of the University.

General Understanding

The statement in no way intends to abrogate the legal powers invested in the Board of Trustees under American corporate law and the laws of the State of South Carolina. The statement is recognized as a statement of principles only and that the interpretation of these statements, principles, and procedures is a continuing joint process. The statement is clearly understood as not giving complete autonomy to any sector of the academic community but promotes a community approach to those problems which are of proper concern to the University as a whole.

Preamble

Academic institutions exist for the transmission of knowledge, the pursuit of truth, the development of students and the general well-being of society. Free inquiry and free expression are indispensable to the attainment of these goals. As members of the academic community, students should be encouraged to develop the capacity for critical judgment and to engage in a sustained and independent search for truth. Institutional procedures for achieving these purposes may vary from campus to campus, but the minimal standards of academic freedom of students outlined below are essential to any community of scholars.

Freedom to teach and freedom to learn are inseparable facets of academic freedom. The freedom to learn depends upon appropriate opportunities and conditions in the classroom, on the campus and in the larger community. Students should exercise their freedom with responsibility.

The responsibility to secure and to respect general conditions conducive to the freedom to learn is shared by all members of the academic community. The University has a duty to develop policies and procedures which provide and safeguard this freedom. Such policies and procedures should be developed within the framework of general standards with the broadest possible participation of the members of the academic community. The purpose of this statement is to enumerate the essential provisions for student freedom to learn.

Section I: Freedom of Access to Higher Education

The admission policies of the University are a matter of institutional choice provided that the University makes clear the characteristics and expectations of the students which it considers relevant to success in the institutional program. Under no circumstances should a student be barred from admission on the basis of race, creed, or national origin. Thus, within the limits of its facilities, the University should be open to all students who are qualified according to its admission standards.

Section II: In the Classroom

The professor in the classroom and in conference should encourage free discussion, inquiry, and expression. Student performances should be evaluated solely on an academic basis, not on opinions or conduct in matters unrelated to academic standards.

Protection of freedom of expression:

Students should be free to take reasoned exceptions to the data or views offered in any course of study and to reserve judgment about matters of opinion, but they are responsible for learning the content of any course of study for which they are enrolled.

Protection against improper disclosure:

Information about student views, beliefs, and political associations which professors acquire in the course of their work as instructors, advisors, and counselors should be considered confidential. Protection against improper disclosure is a serious professional obligation. Judgments of ability and character may be provided under appropriate circumstances, normally with the knowledge and consent of the student.

Section III: Student Records

The University should have a carefully considered policy as to the information which should be part of a student's permanent record and as to the conditions of its disclosure. To minimize the risk of improper disclosure, academic and disciplinary records should be separate, and the conditions of access to each should be set forth in an explicit policy statement. Final transcripts or academic records should contain only information about academic status. Information from disciplinary files should not be available to unauthorized persons on campus, or to any person off campus without the express consent of the student involved except under legal compulsion or for security clearance. No permanent records should be kept which reflect the political activities or beliefs of students. Administrative staff and faculty members should respect as confidential such information which they acquire in the course of their work. Counseling files should not be available to any person without the consent of the student except under legal compulsion. Authorized counselors should not, without the consent of the student, disclose any information obtained while counseling any student unless failure to disclose the information may result in physical or emotional harm to the student or others.

Section IV: Student Affairs

In student affairs certain standards must be maintained if the academic freedom of students is to be preserved.

Student organizations

Students bring to the campus a variety of interests previously acquired and develop many new interests as members of the academic community. They should be free to organize and join associations to promote their common interests.

Affiliation with an extramural organization should not of itself disqualify recognition of a student organization.

Each organization should be free to choose its own campus advisor. Members of the faculty serve the college community when they accept the responsibility to advise and consult with student organizations; they should not have the authority to control the policy of such organizations.

Student organizations may be required to submit a statement of purpose, criteria for membership, rules of procedures, and a current list of officers. They should not be required to submit a membership list as a condition of institutional recognition other than an initial list of members on formation of an organization.

Campus organizations, including those affiliated with an extramural organization, should be open to all students without respect to race, creed, or national origin. The membership, policies and actions of a student organization usually will be determined by vote of only those persons who hold bonafide status in the University community.

Freedom of inquiry and expression

- a) Students and student organizations should be free to examine and to discuss all questions of interest to them and to express opinions publicly and privately. They should be free to support causes by lawful and orderly means which do not disrupt the regular and essential operation of the institution and which do not interfere with the rights of others. At the same time, it should be made clear to the academic and larger community that in their public expressions or demonstrations, students or organizations speak only for themselves.
- b) Students should be allowed to invite and to hear any person of their own choosing subject to those routine procedures provided for off-campus speakers. These procedures should be designed only to ensure that there is orderly scheduling of facilities and adequate preparation for the event, that the occasion is conducted in a manner appropriate to an academic community, and that the safety of individuals, the University, and the community are not endangered. While the University is properly concerned with the prevention of un-lawful conduct, the institutional control of campus facilities should not be used as a device of censorship of ideas. It should be made clear to the academic and large community that sponsorship of guest speakers does not necessarily imply approval or endorsement of the views expressed, either by the sponsoring group or the institution.

Student participation in institutional government

As constituents of the academic community, students should be free, individually and collectively, to express their views on issues of general interest to the student body. The student body should have clearly defined means to participate in the formulation and application of institutional policy affecting academic and student affairs. The role of the student government and both its general and specific responsibilities should be made explicit, and the student government within the areas of its jurisdiction should be reviewed only through orderly and prescribed procedures. The University should provide sufficient governing freedom and sufficient financial autonomy for the student government to maintain its integrity of purpose as elected representatives of the student body.

Student publications

Student publications and the student press are a valuable aid in establishing and maintaining an atmosphere of free and responsible discussion and of intellectual exploration on the campus. They are means of bringing student concerns to the attention of the faculty and the institutional authorities and of formulating student opinions on various issues on the campus and in the world at large.

In the delegation of editorial responsibility to students the University must provide sufficient editorial freedom and sufficient financial autonomy for the student publications to maintain their integrity of purpose as vehicles for free inquiry and free expression in an academic community.

Institutional authorities, in consultation with students and faculty, have a responsibility to provide written clarification of the role of the student publications, the standards to be used in their evaluation, and the limitations on external control of their operation. At the same time, the editorial freedom of student editors and managers entails corollary responsibilities to be governed by the canons of responsible journalism, such as the avoidance of libel, indecency, undocumented allegations, attacks on personal integrity, and the techniques of harassment and innuendo. As safeguards for the editorial freedom of student publications, the following provisions are necessary:

The student press should be free of censorship and advance approval of copy, and its editors and managers should be free to develop their own editorial policies and news coverage. Editors and managers of student publications should be protected from arbitrary suspension and removal because of student, faculty, administrative, or public disapproval of editorial policy or content. Only for proper and stated causes should editors and managers be subject to removal and then by orderly and prescribed procedures. The agency responsible for appointment of editors and managers should be the agency responsible for their removal.

All University published and financed student publications should explicitly state on the editorial page that the opinions there expressed are not necessarily those of the University or the student body.

Section V: Off-Campus Freedom of Students

University students are both citizens and members of the academic community. As citizens, students should enjoy the same freedom of speech, peaceful assembly, and right of petition that other citizens enjoy, and, as members of the academic community, they are subject to the obligations which accrue to them by virtue of this membership. Faculty members and administrative officials should ensure that institutional powers are not employed to inhibit such intellectual and personal development of students as is often promoted by their exercise of the rights of citizenship both on and off campus.

Activities of students may upon occasion result in violation of law. Students who violate the law may incur penalties prescribed by civil authorities, but institutional authority should never be used merely to duplicate the function of general laws. Only when the institution's interests as an academic community are distinct and clearly involved should the special authority of the institution be asserted. The student who incidentally violates institutional regulations during off-campus activity, such as those relating to class attendance, should be subject to no greater penalty than would normally be imposed. Institutional action should be independent of community pressure.

University Drug Policy

The relationship of a university to its students is one which has as one of its basic purposes the creation of an environment conducive to the pursuit and dissemination of knowledge. A portion of this relationship involves the interaction between the student's personal welfare and academic achievement. Since there are numerous means by which the use and abuse of drugs may adversely affect this relationship, it is incumbent upon the University to issue to all members of its community a clear statement of its policy concerning drugs.

The University's primary obligation in dealing with the drug problem is to educate the academic community. A full and comprehensive educational program should be offered including formal and informal courses, lectures and discussions which cover drugs and drug problems. It is considered most important that students also receive up-to-date and accurate information about drug laws and medical findings. The University should also conduct research and offer its expertise as a public service in drug matters.

Another responsibility is to promote an atmosphere where students who have a problem with drug abuse can feel free to seek help. Students must feel that they can obtain help without fear of legal reprisal and to accomplish this, the University will consider situations where a student initiates the contact as completely confidential. In accordance with state law, students may now receive counseling and advice, legally sanctioned as confidential, from the Counseling Office.

The University must maintain its primary function as a center of learning. At the same time, it must be clear that local, state, and federal laws apply equally on campus as well as off campus.

University Alcohol Policy

- 1. It is the policy of this campus of the University of South Carolina that alcohol (beer, wine, distilled spirits) will not be included in any student activity, i.e., club events, student government activities, or athletics and field events, whether on or off the immediate campus.
- 2. Beer or wine or distilled spirits may not be carried in a state vehicle.
- 3. Special events that relate to the greater community such as luncheons, support gatherings, theater events, shall be exempt from the above listed policies upon the approval of the dean of the campus. However, monitoring of those attending who drink must be assured to make sure all South Carolina state laws are followed. No one under the age of 21 shall be served alcohol at any event. For special events, those beverages included may not be sold; however, a contribution may be taken at the point of delivery.

Tobacco Policy

The University of South Carolina is deeply committed to the well-being of our students, faculty, staff and visitors. To provide a safe, healthy environment in which our community can flourish, and in accordance with the university's commitment to public health and sustainability, the University of South Carolina Salkehatchie will be a completely tobacco-free campus. This policy expands the tobacco-free policy to cover all university property. The intent of this policy is to create an environment that is conducive to quitting tobacco, promoting the prevention of tobacco use and preventing the risks associated with exposure to secondhand smoke. This will be a cultural change within the university campus and will be supported by ongoing communications and cessation programs for those who desire to quit or abstain from tobacco. Enforcement for the policy is the responsibility of each member of the Salkehatchie community. Faculty, staff and students are expected to enforce the policy for their facilities and/or sponsored activities.

Covered Individuals

The provisions of this policy apply 24 hours a day, seven days a week to all students, faculty, staff, visitors, volunteers, contractors and vendors.

Definitions

This does not apply to nicotine replacement therapy, which is designed to assist tobacco users to quit tobacco.

"University property" includes all buildings, facilities, grounds and spaces leased, owned or controlled by the University of South Carolina Salkehatchie Campus, whether or not signs are posted. This includes, but is not limited to, buildings on university-owned land, offices, classrooms, laboratories, elevators, stairwells, walkways, decks, restrooms, sidewalks, parking areas/lots, meeting rooms, hallways, outdoor passageways and entrances, lobbies, common areas and athletic venues.

Communication of Policy

This policy will be communicated to the campus community as follows:

News and information will be posted on the Tobacco-Free USC website at <http://uscsalkehatchie.sc.edu/>.

References to this policy will be added to student handbooks, orientation communications and other publications as appropriate.

Communication tips for community members to use in helping to enforce the policy will be available at the Tobacco-Free USC website <http://uscsalkehatchie.sc.edu/>.

“Tobacco-Free” signs will be posted throughout the university. Each building will display a “Tobacco-Free” decal and additional signs as appropriate.

Tobacco Cessation Resources

The university will offer resources and support to assist those tobacco users who desire to quit or abstain from using tobacco. Tobacco cessation resources and programs will be promoted or offered for university students, faculty and staff. Students may be directed to the state quit line – 1-800-QUIT-NOW (784- 8669). Additional resources are outlined on the Tobacco-Free USC website <http://uscsalkehatchie.sc.edu/>.

Enforcement and Compliance

The university will provide Tobacco-Free Campus Policy information cards to facilitate education about and enforcement of the policy.

Enforcement for the policy is the responsibility of each member of the Salkehatchie community. Faculty, staff, students and volunteers are expected to enforce the policy for their facilities and/or sponsored activities. Each individual should in a consistent and civil way bring any infractions of this policy to the attention of the person or persons observed violating the policy. Faculty, staff and students are also expected to assume leadership roles by adhering to the policy provisions and by reminding others who aren’t in compliance of the policy provisions.

In the event a community member does not respond to a reminder, USC faculty, staff, students and volunteers will assist in the enforcement of this policy by reporting repeated violations to the appropriate body, as described in the provisions below.

Non-Harassment Policy

USC recognizes the human dignity of each member of the University community and believes that each member has a responsibility to promote respect and dignity for others so that all students are free to pursue their goals in an open environment, able to participate in the free exchange of ideas, and able to share equally in the benefits of the University's education opportunities. To achieve this end, the University believes it should foster an academic, social, and living environment that is free from discrimination and harassment on the basis of race, color, national origin, religion, sex, gender, age, disability, sexual orientation, genetics, veteran status, or any other category protected by law.

The University is also committed to the principles of academic freedom and believes that a learning environment where the open exchange of ideas is encouraged is integral to the mission of the University. The University vigorously embraces students' rights to the legitimate freedom of expression, speech, and association.

Nothing in this policy is intended to impede the exercise of those rights protected under the First Amendment of the U.S. Constitution. The University recognizes that the conduct prohibited in this policy extends to behavior and speech that is not constitutionally protected and which limits or denies the rights of students to participate or benefit in the educational program. The standard mandated by this policy represents the bare minimum of acceptable behavior. The University's commitment to civility, mutual respect, and tolerance should cause the members of the University community to adhere to an even higher standard of behavior in these matters—not because we are required to do so, but because conscience dictates it.

Policy

It is the policy of the University of South Carolina that all students should be able to learn and live in an educational and campus environment that is free from discrimination and harassment on the basis of race, color, national origin, religion, sex, gender, age, disability, sexual orientation, genetics, veteran status, or any other category protected by law, in all programs, activities, and services of the University.

This policy recognizes federally protected categories of student characteristics as well as those characteristics protected as a matter of USC policy.

Scope

This policy applies to the conduct of students in all aspects of academic, residential, athletic, and social activities, operations, and programs at the University.<sup>2</sup> Any student or student organization that violates this policy shall be subject to disciplinary action up to and including suspension and expulsion from the University. Violations of this policy are considered to be a conduct offense under the USC Student Code of Conduct.

Definitions of Prohibited Conduct

Discrimination

Discrimination is the unfair or unequal treatment of an individual or a group based upon race, color, national origin, religion, sex, gender, age, disability, sexual orientation, genetics, veteran status, or any other category protected by law, that interferes with or limits the ability of an individual or group to participate in or benefit from the services, activities, or privileges provided by the University.

Harassment

Harassment is a specific type of illegal discrimination. It includes conduct (oral, written, graphic, or physical) which is directed against any student or group of students because of or based upon one or more of the characteristics articulated in Section II above, that is sufficiently severe, pervasive, or persistent so as to interfere with or limit the ability of an individual or group to participate in or benefit from the programs, services, and activities provided by the University. Such harmful conduct may include, but is not limited to, objectionable epithets, demeaning depictions or treatment, and threatened or actual abuse or harm. Harassment does not include the use of materials by students or discussions involving students related to any characteristic articulated in Section II for academic purposes appropriate to the academic context.

Sexual Harassment

Sexual harassment is also included in this policy. Sexual harassment is a specific type of discrimination which is defined as unwelcome conduct of a sexual nature that is sufficiently severe or pervasive that it adversely affects a student's or student group's ability to participate in or benefit from the programs and services provided by the University. Examples of conduct that may constitute sexual harassment in violation of this policy include, but are not limited to, the following types of unwelcome and harmful behavior:

Physical Conduct

1. Unnecessary or unwanted touching, patting, massaging, etc.
2. Impeding or blocking movements
3. Acts of sexual violence
4. Other unwanted conduct of a physical nature

Non-Verbal Conduct

8. Requests for sexual favors

Sexual harassment may occur between members of the same or opposite sex. Sexual harassment directed at any student or other member of the University community, regardless of his or her sexual orientation, is a violation of this policy.

Sexual harassment does not refer to occasional, nonsexual compliments, nonsexual touching, or other nonsexual conduct.

Procedures

Complaint Procedures

- 1. Any student may file a complaint with the Office of Student Success and Engagement against another student, student organization, faculty, staff, or other member of the University community who is believed to have violated this policy or otherwise engaged in discriminatory or harassing behavior.
- 2. The Office of Student Success and Engagement serves as the lead office for the receipt and investigation of all complaints of discrimination and harassment involving members of the University community, including complaints involving students and student organizations. Any student who believes he or she has been subjected to discrimination or harassment, or who has knowledge of or has witnessed discriminatory or harassing actions, should contact the Student Affairs Office. The Office of Student Success and Engagement can be contacted in person at the Director's Office on either the Allendale or Walterboro campus, by email at semiller@mailbox.sc.edu, or by telephone at (843) 782-8665. Students who feel their safety is threatened should immediately contact Campus Security at (803) 300- 1127 on the Allendale Campus or (843) 635-3043 on the Walterboro Campus or by calling 911 to the local city police departments.
- 3. In the event a student has a complaint after hours, or on weekends or holidays, the student can inform an available University official if the student believes immediate action is necessary. University officials include any faculty or staff person at USC Salkehatchie including coaches. All University officials who are informed of a complaint by a student, who become aware of a complaint by other means, or who witness an act of discrimination and/or harassment involving students, are required to report this information to the Office of Student Success and Engagement. If the complaint is such that the official believes it can be resolved by the official, with the consent of the students involved, and, if available, advice from the Student Affairs Office, the official can attempt to resolve it. In all situations, however, whether the complaint is resolved or not, the official must report, in writing to the Office of Student Success and Engagement by the next business day, the complaint, the names and contact information of the parties involved, and the resolution, if any, in order that the Office of Student Success and Engagement can follow-up with the student to begin the resolution process or to ensure that the complaint was satisfactorily resolved and that no further investigation is needed.
- 4. The Office of Student Success and Engagement will designate one staff member to handle student complaints and work with Student Affairs to ensure that the complaint is fairly and expeditiously investigated and if necessary, that appropriate sanctions are assessed.
- 5. In the event of an anonymous or victimless complaint, the Office of Student Success and Engagement will investigate such complaints to the extent possible. The Office of Student Success and Engagement will interview any witnesses to the acts and, if alleged offenders are identified, the alleged offenders. The Office of Student Success and Engagement will then issue a report of findings to the Dean of the Campus. The Office of Student Success and Engagement may use such incidents as an opportunity to inform and educate the University community.

6. Once a report of discrimination or harassment is received by the Student Affairs Office, unless the complaint is anonymous, the Office of Student Success and Engagement will contact the student who has made the complaint (—complainant||) to discuss confidentially the specifics of the complaint and provide guidance and information regarding the resolution process. If the complaint has been resolved, the Office of Student Success and Engagement will ensure that the complainant is satisfied with the resolution and determine whether further investigation is warranted.
7. Complainants will be asked to provide the following information: a description of the alleged acts, the date(s) the alleged acts occurred, the names, if known, of the individual(s) or group(s) allegedly engaging in discriminatory or harassing acts, and the names of witnesses, if any. If the complainant wishes his or her name not be disclosed, the Office of Student Success and Engagement will explain that such a confidentiality request may limit the ability of the University to respond but that the Office of Student Success and Engagement will take all reasonable steps to investigate consistent with the complainant’s request as long as doing so does not prevent the Office of Student Success and Engagement from responding effectively to the complaint or prevents the Office of Student Success and Engagement from stopping potential discrimination or harassment of others. In all situations, the Office of Student Success and Engagement will take every effort, to the extent allowed by law, to protect the privacy of the persons involved. The number of persons with knowledge of the complaint shall be kept to a minimum and only those persons with a need to know will be notified of the complaint. Following this initial meeting, the student may choose not to pursue the complaint, request informal resolution by the Student Affairs Office, or proceed with a formal complaint with the Student Affairs Office.
8. If the Office of Student Success and Engagement determines the complaint is one that can be resolved informally, the Office of Student Success and Engagement will explain the informal resolution process to the complainant and if the complainant agrees, the Office of Student Success and Engagement will proceed with informal resolution. Some complaints are not appropriate for informal resolution, such as sexual assault complaints or complaints that involve violence or a threat of violence. In the event a complainant withdraws his or her complaint before resolution is accomplished, the Office of Student Success and Engagement will continue to investigate the complaint to the extent possible to determine what occurred and then recommend, if appropriate, steps to remedy the situation.
9. In certain circumstances, the University may impose emergency action upon a student or student organization when there is reason to believe, based upon available evidence, that the student or student organization poses an immediate threat to the safety, health, or welfare of persons, property, or to the orderly operation of the University. Such emergency action can include, but is not limited to, suspension, limitation of privileges, or housing relocation or removal. Emergency action is interim in nature pending the outcome of conduct procedures. Emergency actions and procedures are fully described in the Code of Student Conduct section of this handbook. In cases involving potential criminal conduct, the Office of Student Success and Engagement will determine whether appropriate law enforcement authorities should be notified.

Resolution Procedures

Informal Resolution

The informal resolution process is intended to be flexible so as to enable the Office of Student Success and Engagement to address a complaint in the most effective and expeditious manner possible.

Informal resolutions are accomplished with the consent of the complainant and assistance of other offices or administrators on campus in the area relevant to the complaint. The complainant, after receiving an explanation of the informal resolution process, will be asked to sign a form consenting to informal resolution.

Informal resolution may be achieved by:

- a) action taken by the complainant, when appropriate, to address the matter directly with the alleged offender;
- b) action to negotiate a resolution undertaken by the Student Affairs Office; or
- c) mediation undertaken by the Student Affairs Office. The complainant, at his or her discretion, may end the informal process and begin the formal resolution process at any time.

Although the process focuses on conciliation, not sanctions, disciplinary action, including an oral or written warning may be issued if agreed upon by all parties. In all cases in which informal resolution is achieved, the Office of Student Success and Engagement will make a written report of the resolution to file with a copy of the complaint. In the event an oral or written warning is issued to an alleged offender, if the alleged offender is an employee, a copy of the warning is sent to employee's supervisor. In the case of a student or student organization, a copy of the warning is sent to the Office of Student Affairs and the Dean. If the complaint is not settled by informal resolution, the Office of Student Success and Engagement will proceed to formal resolution.

Formal Resolution

In a formal resolution process, the Office of Student Success and Engagement will provide a copy of the complaint to the alleged offender within five (5) days either personally or by certified mail. The alleged offender (respondent) will have ten (10) days in which to respond in writing to the complaint. A copy of the respondent's response will be provided to the complainant.

The Office of Student Success and Engagement will assign the complaint to an investigator. Upon receiving the respondent's response, the Student Affairs investigator may attempt to negotiate a resolution which is agreeable to both parties. If no negotiated resolution is achieved, or if a negotiated resolution is not feasible, the investigator will initiate a formal investigation of the complaint.

Complaint Investigation

The investigator will interview the complainant, the respondent, witnesses identified by the parties, and anyone else whom the investigator believes may have knowledge of the facts regarding the complaint. The investigator may conduct independent research regarding the facts of the complaint. Investigations are normally completed within 15 working days but if warranted by circumstances, this time may be increased at the discretion of the investigator.

Complaint Findings

Based on the information obtained during the investigation, the Office of Student Success and Engagement will issue a report of its findings to the complainant and respondent.

There are two categories of findings: (1) no reasonable cause to believe illegal discrimination or harassment occurred, or (2) reasonable cause to believe a violation has occurred.

In the event the Office of Student Success and Engagement finds there is no reasonable cause to believe that illegal discrimination or harassment occurred, the complaint will be dismissed and the complainant will be advised that if he or she is dissatisfied with the decision, a complaint can be filed with the Equal Opportunities Program office on the USC Columbia Campus for further investigation.

In situations where the alleged acts do not rise to the level of illegal discrimination or harassment, the Office of Student Success and Engagement, if it believes the situation is appropriate, may inform the University community of the occurrence(s) in order to educate the community about issues presented by the behavior and reaffirm the University's commitment to equal opportunity.

In the event the Office of Student Success and Engagement finds that there is reasonable cause that a student or student organization engaged in illegal discrimination or harassment, the Office of Student Success and Engagement will issue a report of findings, along with recommendation as to appropriate sanctions to the Chair of the Student Discipline Committee.

If the student is also an employee of the University, and the conduct involves the student's capacity as a University employee, the report must also be forwarded to the student respondent's immediate administrative official.

The report of findings will include a statement of the complaint, a chronology of the investigation, the information discovered, witness summaries, a list of documents pertinent to the investigation, the findings of the Office of Student Success and Engagement, and any recommended sanctions the Office of Student Success and Engagement believes are warranted.

Student Hearing Procedures

The Chair of the Student Discipline Committee will then send written notification to the accused student or student organization representative indicating the nature of the complaint. The student or student organization representative will be given the opportunity to meet with the Student Discipline to discuss the allegations.

Failure of the student or student organization representative to meet with the Student Discipline Committee could result in disciplinary action being imposed based on the available evidence.

If the student or student organization representative disagrees with the finding of the Office of Student Success and Engagement or the recommended disciplinary action, the student or student organization representative is offered several options to resolve the charges, including an informal administrative hearing, a formal administrative hearing, a University conduct hearing, or mediation. At any such hearing, the Office of Student Success and Engagement investigator will present the report of findings. The procedures for these hearings are fully described in the Code of Student Conduct section of this handbook.

Decisions resulting from administrative hearings or a University conduct hearing may be appealed by a student or a student organization to the Dean of the Campus in the following limited situations: (1) there was a procedural error committed in hearing the case which significantly prejudiced the findings; or (2) new evidence, which could not have been available at the time of the hearing and which is material to the outcome of the case, becomes available. The procedure for appeal is fully described in the Code of Student Conduct section of this handbook.

Student Sanctions

The Office of Student Success and Engagement and the Student Discipline Committee may recommend sanctions to the appropriate hearing tribunal. Disciplinary action for student or student organization violations of this policy may include a variety of sanctions.

- 1) The following disciplinary sanctions may be imposed upon students found responsible for a violation of the Student Code of Conduct. All sanctions may be imposed either singularly or in combination. The purposes of imposing sanctions are twofold; one, to protect the University community from behavior which is detrimental to the community and/or the educational mission of the University; and two, to assist students in identifying acceptable parameters and consequences of future behavior. The sanction(s) imposed is (are) intended to correspond with the severity or frequency of violations, as well as the student's willingness to recommit himself or herself to good citizenship through behaviors that fall within the Student Code of Conduct of the University.
  - a) Expulsion: Dismissal from the University without the ability to apply for re-admittance.
  - b) Suspension: Denial of enrollment, attendance, and other privileges at the University for a specified period of time. Permission to apply for readmission upon termination of the period may be granted with or without conditions/restrictions. Students must be required to complete a period of disciplinary probation upon their return to the University.

NOTE: Any student suspended or expelled for disciplinary reasons must vacate the campus within the period of time noted in the notice of suspension. The student may not return to campus or University property during the term of the suspension without prior written permission by the Director of Judicial Affairs or designee.

- c) Conduct Probation: A period of review and observation during which a student is under an official notice that subsequent violations of University rules, regulations, or policies are likely to result in a more severe sanction including suspension or expulsion from the University. While on conduct probation, a student may be considered to be “not in good standing” and may face specific limitations on his or her behavior and/or University privileges.
- d) Conditions/Restrictions: Limitations upon a student’s behavior and/or University privileges for a period of time, or an active obligation to complete a specified activity. This sanction may include, but is not limited to: restricted access to the campus or part of campus, denial of the right to represent the University in any way, denial of housing or parking privileges, required attendance at a workshop, or participation in public service.
- e) Written Warning: An official reprimand that makes the misconduct a matter of record in University files. Any further misconduct could result in further disciplinary action.
- f) Fines and Restitution: An order may be issued to make restitution or to pay a fine when a student has engaged in conduct including but not limited to: the damage or destruction of property, the theft or misappropriation of property, fraudulent behavior, violations of the alcohol and/or drug policies, or violations of the fire safety policies. Such property may belong to an individual, group, or the University. Restitution may be in the form of financial payment, community service, or other special activities designated by the hearing authority. Additional fines may be assessed as a punitive measure.
- g) Housing Sanctions: These sanctions include Written Warning, Conditions, Restitution, Housing Probation, Relocation, and Removal, as described in Housing policies.
- h) Other Sanctions: Any other sanctions deemed appropriate by the Office of Student Success and Engagement and the Student Discipline Committee will be administered.

The severity of the sanctions is determined by several factors, including but not limited to:

1. whether there was physical harm or threat of physical harm to others;
2. whether there was violence or the threat of violence;
3. whether there was damage to University or student property;
4. whether the respondent had engaged in similar conduct in the past;
5. whether the proposed sanction will provide education and training to deter future violations;
6. whether the proposed sanction will make the victim whole;
7. and whether the proposed sanction will increase the University community’s awareness of student discrimination and harassment.

Sanctions for student organization violations may include the following:

1. permanent revocation of organizational registration,
2. suspension of rights and privileges for a specified period of time,
3. conduct probation, conditions/restrictions,
4. written warning, fines and restitution,
5. required attendance at education or community service events,
6. and any other sanctions deemed appropriate by the Office of Student Success and Engagement and the Student Discipline Committee.

Record Keeping

While a complaint is being investigated, all evidence regarding the complaint must be maintained in the confidential files of the official handling the complaint and should be transferred to Office of Student Success and Engagement once the complaint is resolved where all records regarding the complaint will be kept in confidential files within the Student Affairs Office. These records will include the complaint, interview notes, witness statements, correspondence, investigation summaries and reports, and documentation of remedial actions. Access to these records shall be on a need to know basis only. These records will be maintained for a minimum of five years.

Non-Retaliation

It is a violation of this policy for any person to retaliate, intimidate or take reprisals against a person who has filed a complaint, testified, assisted or participated in any manner in the investigation or resolution of a complaint of discrimination or harassment. Appropriate disciplinary actions shall be taken against any person who has been found to have violated this policy.

Other

Reporting and Monitoring

The Office of Student Success and Engagement will provide an annual report to the Dean of the Campus summarizing the discrimination and harassment complaints and the resolution (informal and formal) of such complaints. The University will also conduct a survey of students every three years to gauge students' knowledge of this policy and complaint procedures. The results of these surveys will be used to improve the procedures and policies of the Student Affairs Office.

Dissemination and Training

The Office of Student Success and Engagement is responsible for ensuring that all students at the University are aware of their right to be free from discrimination and harassment. To achieve this goal, all new students will be informed of this policy and their rights and obligations under it during orientation.

Information describing the policy is readily available on various University websites, including the student handbook, with the policy included. Posters and brochures describing this policy can be found at various sites on campus where students congregate.

Training will be provided to students and student organizations in order that students know and understand their rights and obligations under the policy, to whom to report violations, and the procedures for investigations and hearings. Training will also be provided to faculty and staff members who interact with students in order that these individuals understand their responsibility to report any incidents of discrimination or harassment report to or observed by them.

Code of Student Conduct

This chapter extends and applies the general principles of the Statement of Student Rights and Freedoms to specific actions and responsibilities of students at the University of South Carolina Salkehatchie. It accepts the proposition that “academic institutions exist for the transmission of knowledge, the pursuit of truth, the development of students, and the general well-being of society,” and that “free inquiry and free expression are indispensable to the attainment of these goals.” This chapter establishes rules, regulations, policies and disciplinary guidelines under the duty and corollary powers inherent in educational institutions to protect their educational purposes through the setting of standards of student conduct and scholarship and through the regulation of the use of University facilities.

Students have a right to expect enforcement of these rules and regulations. The University also has a right to expect students to abide by them as befits the responsibilities lodged in students as members of the University community. Knowledge of these rules and regulations can prove most beneficial to students in utilizing and protecting their guarded rights. It is important to add, however, that unfamiliarity with institutional regulations or rules is no grounds for excusing infractions.

Application of Laws

1. Students should be aware that educational institutions are not sanctuaries from the reach of the civil and criminal laws of the communities and states wherein such institutions exist. While the rules and regulations of the University of South Carolina Salkehatchie are not meant to duplicate general laws, there are some respects in which the lawful interests of the institution as an academic community coincide with the broader public interests treated in general laws. Students who commit offenses against the laws of municipalities, states, or the United States, are subject to prosecution by those authorities as well as liable for disciplinary action under University rules when their conduct violates institutional standards.
2. Students, no less than other citizens, are entitled to be secure in their persons, lodging, papers and effects against unreasonable searches and seizures. This does not prohibit normal inspections of University housing or other facilities for maintenance, health, or safety purposes. Nor does it preclude searches and seizures properly authorized by administrators in emergency situations where the welfare and safety of persons or property is involved. Approval for such procedures will be granted in strict accord with required legal standards. Searches and seizures by outside law enforcement personnel incident to investigations or arrests are conducted only under proper warrant and are not the responsibility of the University.
3. Students enjoy the same freedoms of speech and peaceable assembly that accrue to other citizens, but students are under certain legal obligations in the exercise of these freedoms by virtue of their membership in the University community. Expression may be subjected to reasonable regulations of time, place, number of persons, and form under established regulations. Expression in the form of action which materially interferes with the normal activities of the rights of free speech and assembly and will invoke appropriate legal and disciplinary sanctions when necessary, in pursuit of this goal.

Students who are apprehended and charged by law enforcement agencies with criminal conduct on or off campus may not continue as students without approval by the Academic Affairs Committee or in certain cases, approval by the dean. Students under such charges are required to keep the University informed of their trial status.

General Conduct Regulations

Introduction

Responsibility for good conduct rests with students as individuals. All members of the academic community are expected to use reasonable judgment in their daily campus life and to show due concern for the welfare and rights of others. When breaches of good conduct occur, they are considered jointly by students, faculty, and administrators on the Student Discipline Committee. Responsibility for maintaining discipline is vested in the dean; under him, administration of the system for handling misconduct is the duty of the associate dean for student services.

Conduct Rules

The following statements constitute the official record of all general conduct rules and regulations at the University of South Carolina Salkehatchie. Students are expected to abide by these rules and administrators are required to enforce them. (NOTE: Additional rules and regulations may be promulgated during the year; when this happens, announcements will be made upon adoption of the changes or additions.)

1) *Damage to Property

Acts of vandalism such as damage to or destruction of property owned or controlled by the University or its members are prohibited.

2) *Firearms and Other Deadly Weapons

The unauthorized possession or use, in any way, of firearms or weapons of any kind, such as dirks, slingshots, metal knuckles, razors, or any other deadly weapons, is prohibited.

3) *Flammable Materials and Fireworks

The possession, ignition or detonation of any object or article which could cause damage by fire or other means to person or property, or possession of any substance which could be considered fireworks, is prohibited on any property owned or operated by the University.

4) *Arson

No person shall start a fire or be in any way responsible for starting a fire on University property without authorization.

5) *False Fire Alarms and Misuse of Fire Equipment

No person shall make, or cause to be made, a false fire alarm. No person shall tamper with fire safety equipment.

6) *Theft or Misappropriation

Theft of any kind, including seizing, receiving or concealing property with knowledge that it has been stolen, is forbidden. Sale or possession of any property, including USC Salkehatchie property, without owner's permission is also prohibited.

7) *Disorderly Conduct

Individual or group behavior which unnecessarily disturbs individuals or groups is prohibited. Such conduct includes (but is not necessarily limited to) physical assault or threat of assault, hazing, and boisterous conduct which is unreasonable for the area in which it occurs.

8) *Sale of Textbooks

The sale by any student of a textbook that does not belong to them is prohibited unless they have prior written authorization from the owner of the book. (Books which are found should be turned in to the Lost and Found department in the Dean's Office.)

9) *Forgery

Forgery and the alteration or misuse of University documents or records are forbidden.

10) *Keys

No one may use or have in their possession any University key without proper authorization. No student is allowed under any conditions to have a University key duplicated.

11) *Misuse of Telephone

No student shall abuse telephone privileges.

12) *Disruption of Normal Activity

No one may interfere with or disrupt the normal activity and operations of students, faculty, administrations or staff of this institution or its buildings or facilities. Any form of expression which materially interferes with such activities and operations or invades the rights of persons may be proscribed or prohibited.

NOTE: To remain in the vicinity of activity which threatens to disrupt or is disrupting normal University functions may have serious legal and disciplinary implications.

Bystanders as well as more active participants may be charged with jointly engaging in an enterprise which is prohibited by law. Students should accordingly avoid the scene of any disruption or potential disruption. In any case, failure to leave when asked to disperse by University or law enforcement officials will result in disciplinary and/or legal action.

NOTE: In any case where students or employees of the University of South Carolina Salkehatchie are involved in action which is disruptive of the normal activities of the institution or its personnel, or which exceeds the bounds of normal internal discipline in its impact, the Board of Trustees may exercise its right to name a special hearing board, committee, or officer to investigate the questioned action and to initiate appropriate disciplinary or other measures.

Emergency Action

- 1) The University may impose emergency action upon a student or student organization when there is a reason to believe, based upon available evidence, that the student/student organization poses an immediate threat to the safety, health, or welfare of persons, property or to the orderly operation of the University. This action is warranted by potential or threatened danger or disruption and indicated when the nature or immediacy of the threat requires immediate action. The action is interim in nature, pending the outcome of conduct procedures. Violations of the below actions will result in a minimum of an immediate one-year suspension as well as any other disciplinary action. Emergency action authorized by this policy includes:

- a) Emergency Suspension, Individual Student(s) - This action requires a student to leave University property immediately, and not return during the suspension period, and/or comply with other stated conditions for a specified period. Emergency suspension may be used to temporarily suspend a student's eligibility for enrollment or attendance, as well as for denial of the student's access to University facilities or property. The Office of Student Judicial Programs may impose emergency suspension. Any student who is suspended on an emergency basis and returns to the campus or University property and/or violates other stated conditions during the specified period shall be subject to further separate actions and may be treated as a trespasser.
  - b) Emergency Limitation of Privileges, Individual Student – This action may place a limitation on a student's eligibility for certain privileges or participate in or attend certain events (or certain kinds of events) without the suspension of enrollment status. This action may prohibit a student's presence on University property or certain facilities or impose conditions that must be met in order for that student to have certain privileges, participate in activities, or attend events. The Student Disciplinary Committee may impose this action.
- 2) When emergency action is taken against a student or student organization, the student or student organization is given notice explaining the nature, reason for, and duration of the action, as well as any conditions that may apply. A student notified of such action shall, upon written request, be given an opportunity to meet with the University authority taking the action within five (5) university business days from the date of the request. This meeting shall be held to consider only the following issues related to the emergency action:
- a) The reliability of information alleging misconduct; and
  - b) Whether the conduct or surrounding circumstances reasonably indicate the student's presence on campus or continued unrestricted participation in campus affairs or the organization's unrestricted activities would pose an immediate threat to the safety, health, or welfare of persons or property and/or interfere with the orderly operations of the University. It is not the purpose of the meeting to hear evidence concerning responsibility related to pending or possible charges against the student.
- 3) Permission to be on campus for a specific purpose must be requested and obtained in writing or by telephone from the Student Disciplinary Committee or designee prior to any action that may violate the suspension or restriction.

Parking Regulations

These regulations pertain to students, faculty, and staff of USC Salkehatchie. Parking permits or decals must be displayed on vehicles of all students, faculty, and staff. Permits are issued in the Business Offices on both campuses.

Campus speed limit is 10 mph unless otherwise posted.

Fines will be imposed for the following violations:

- Parking permit improperly displayed, $10.00
- Parking in or blocking handicap space, (1st- $25.00, 2nd-$50.00, 3rd-$100.00)
- Other miscellaneous parking violations, $20.00

Fines should be paid in the Business Office or mailed to the same within five school days of the violation.

Students with unpaid fines will not be allowed to register at any USC campus until the fines are paid. Student records will not be transmitted from the Registrar's Office until fines are paid.

Initial questions regarding fines should be directed to the Business Office. Fines may be appealed, but the appeal must be made within four school days of the violation by notifying the Finance Director. The payment of fines is to be suspended until the appeal decision is rendered.

The income from the collection of fines will be used to further provide safety and security services.

Student Disciplinary Procedures

Educational institutions have a duty and the corollary disciplinary powers to protect their educational purpose through the setting of standards of scholarship and conduct for the students who attend them and through the regulation of the use of institutional facilities. In developing responsible student conduct, disciplinary proceedings play a role substantially secondary to counseling, guidance and admonition. In the exception- all circumstances when these preferred means fail to resolve problems of student conduct, proper procedural safeguards should be observed to protect the student from unfair imposition of serious penalties. The following are set forth as proper safeguards in such proceedings:

Standards of conduct expected of students

The institution has an obligation to clarify those standards of behavior which it considers essential to its educational mission and its community life. These general behavioral expectations and the resultant specific regulations should represent a reasonable regulation of student conduct, but the student should be as free as possible from imposed limitations that have no direct relevance to their education. Offenses should be as clearly defined as possible and interpreted in a manner consistent with the aforementioned principles of relevancy and reasonableness. Disciplinary proceedings should be instituted only for violations of standards of conduct formulated with significant student participation and published in advance through such means as a student handbook or a generally available body of institutional regulations.

Except under circumstances where delay may create a risk of harm to property or students, premises occupied by students and the personal possessions of students should not be searched unless appropriate authorization has been obtained. For premises such as residence halls controlled by the institution, an appropriate and responsible official should be designated to whom application should be made before a search other than a routine inspection is to be conducted. During routine inspections, only items in plain sight can be seized and used as evidence. Any application to search should specify the reasons for the search and the object or information sought. The official should keep an accurate record including the time, date and reason for the search. The student should be present, if possible, during the search. For premises not controlled by the institution, the ordinary requirements for lawful search should be followed.

Students detected or arrested for allegedly committing serious violations of institutional regulations, or infractions of ordinary law, should be informed of their rights. While interrogation may be conducted, no form of harassment should be used by institutional representatives to coerce admission of guilt or information about conduct of other suspected persons.

Pending action on the charges, the status of a student should not be altered, or the right to be present on the campus and to attend classes suspended except where the administration determines such action is necessary for the student's physical or emotional safety and well-being, or for the safety of students, faculty, or University property.

The formality of the procedure to which a student is entitled in disciplinary cases should be proportionate to the gravity of the offense and the sanctions which may be imposed. Matters involving minor infractions of the University regulations where suspension is not contemplated may be handled by the administration in an informal manner. Where misconduct may result in suspension, the student should have the right to a hearing before the Student Discipline Committee.

The Student Discipline Committee

The committee should include faculty members and student members. No member of the committee who is otherwise interested in the case should sit in judgment during the proceedings.

The student should be informed, in writing, of the reasons for the proposed disciplinary action with sufficient particularity and in sufficient time, to ensure the opportunity to prepare for the hearing.

The student appearing before the committee should have the right to be assisted in defense by an advisor of choice.

The burden of proof should rest upon the officials bringing the charge.

The student should be given the opportunity to testify and to present evidence and witnesses. The student should have an opportunity to hear and question adverse witnesses. In no case should the committee consider statements against the student unless the student has been advised of their content and of the names of those who made them, and unless the student has been given an opportunity to refute unfavorable inferences which might otherwise be drawn.

All matters upon which the decision may be based must be introduced into evidence at the proceeding before the committee. The decision should be based solely upon such matters. Improperly acquired evidence should not be admitted.

There should be, where possible, a verbatim record, such as a tape recording, of the hearing. In the event that the student is disciplined other than by the regularly constituted Student Discipline Committee, the student shall have the right to a complete hearing before the committee. The decision of the committee shall be final, subject to the student's right of appeal to the president of the University and to the Board of Trustees of the University.

Student Academic Disciplinary Procedures

Infractions of academic discipline in the undergraduate schools and colleges will be dealt with in accordance with this code of student academic responsibility.

Definitions

Infractions of academic discipline include, but are not limited to:

Cheating

This refers to conduct during quizzes and examinations which shall include utilizing written information not specifically permitted by the instructor. It shall also include receiving written or oral information from any person other than the instructor. It shall further include stealing, buying, selling, or using any copy of an examination before it has been administered.

Plagiarism

This refers to submitting, as a student's own work, material obtained from another source without indicating the source from which it was obtained. It further includes letting another person compose or rewrite a student's written assignment.

Illegal Use of Old Laboratory Reports

This comprises the copying of an old report belonging to another person and submitting the work as one's own.

A student who assists in a form of dishonesty mentioned above shall be considered equally as guilty as the student who accepted such assistance.

A student who possesses evidence that one of the offenses listed above has been committed and who does not report the offense to the appropriate authority shall be considered guilty of an infraction of academic discipline.

Enforcement of Student Academic Responsibility

Students who have committed infractions of the student academic responsibility principle will be heard before the Academic Affairs Committee.

Reporting Procedures

Infractions of academic discipline may be reported in writing to the chair or any member of the committee by the student committing the infraction, any student observing the infraction, or the faculty member observing the infraction.

It shall be the duty of any member to whom report of an infraction has been made to submit the same in writing to the chair of the committee as soon as possible.

Hearing Procedures:

Committee

The Academic Affairs Committee shall conduct hearings when circumstances warrant such action and determine appropriate penalties.

The chair shall be responsible for conducting the hearing, ensuring that proper records are kept, informing the accused of the decision, and reporting the decision to the dean and to the associate dean whose responsibility it shall be to ensure that proper record notations are made.

The student charged with infractions will be sent written notice, by the chair, of the charges against at least seven days before the time scheduled for the hearing. This notice will include the specific charges; the time and place of the hearing; notice of rights to bring witnesses, question witnesses, and have representation, if desired; notice of the right to appeal to the dean, the president of the University and then the Board of Trustees in that order.

Hearing

The accused will be present for all testimony, be permitted to bring witnesses, to question the witnesses against, and to make any statement desired bearing on the matter being discussed. The decision as to guilt (unless admitted) and the penalty will be made in closed session and then the accused will be informed by the committee in open session of its decision.

All hearing proceedings will be kept confidential.

Post-Hearing

The chair will inform the dean and the associate dean of the penalty imposed whenever a student has been found guilty. The associate dean will be responsible for notifying the student in writing of the decision of the committee, informing the appropriate administrative officials, and for making the proper record entries and taking the appropriate action on the penalty.

Penalties

The following action may be taken against a student who is found guilty of an infraction of academic discipline for the first time:

Warning

Not entered on permanent academic record

Probation

entered on permanent academic record

Failure

Recommendation to professor that F be awarded in course.

Suspension

In serious cases, even a first offender may be suspended. A student guilty of an infraction of academic responsibility for a second time, shall, except in extraordinary cases, be suspended from the University.

NOTE: A student who has violated or who has been charged with the violation of any regulation of the University may not be permitted to withdraw from the University without the permission of the chair of the committee. A notation of the circumstances under which the accused student was permitted to withdraw shall be entered in the minutes of the committee. The withdrawal of a student with or without such approval shall not deprive the committee of the power to hear charges, and in the event the student be found guilty, the committee may restrict readmission on such terms or under such circumstances as it may prescribe.

Student Responsibility

Each student is responsible for abiding by the Code of Student Academic Responsibility at all times. In the classroom, it applies in all academic activities, whether a faculty member is involved or not.

Any student who observes or learns of another student's violation of the Code of Student Academic Responsibility may request the student to report to the instructor of the course, and if this is not done, shall report the matter to the instructor of the course or the chair of the Academic Affairs Committee.

Faculty Responsibility

Each faculty member also has responsibilities with respect to this code. These responsibilities include, but are not limited to:

- 1) The promotion of conduct conducive to the effective functioning of the code. Primarily, the faculty member should conduct classes and examinations in such manner as to minimize opportunities and temptations for cheating.
- 2) A clear exposition to students of the values as well as the obligation of the code.
- 3) A demonstration of interest in the proper functioning of the code.
- 4) The use of uniform procedures in handling violations of the code, including the submission of all violations to the Committee on Student Responsibility.

Additional Rules

The committee shall make such additional rules as are necessary, so long as they do not contravene any of the provisions of this code, to carry out its function, with the approval of the University-wide committee.

Procedures for Grievances and Appeals

Preface

The University of South Carolina is committed to a policy of treating all members of the University community fairly in regard to their personal and professional concerns. In order to ensure that students know what to do when they need to resolve a problem, this procedure is provided.

Purpose

The primary objective of the student grievance procedure is to ensure that concerns are promptly dealt with and resolutions reached in a fair and just manner. It is essential that each student be given an adequate opportunity to bring complaints and problems to the attention of the University administration with the assurance that each will be given fair treatment.

Definition

A grievance is defined as dissatisfaction occurring when a student thinks that any condition affecting him or her is unjust, inequitable, or creates unnecessary hardship. Such grievances include but are not limited to the following: mistreatment by any University employee; wrongful assessment of processing of fees, records, and registration errors; racial discrimination in student employment.

Procedure

Initiating a Grievance

The initial phase of the student grievance generally requires an oral discussion between the student and the person(s) alleged to have caused the grievance. If the student considers the response to that discussion to be unsatisfactory and feels the grievance still exists, written notification of the grievance shall be delivered to the chair of the Academic Affairs Committee. The Academic Affairs Committee facilitates better student-faculty communications on the Salkehatchie campus by listening to student and faculty grievances. Hearing may be requested by students and faculty. A written report is submitted to the dean recommending what action, if any, should be taken.

Policy for Non-Academic Grievances

A non-academic grievance is defined as a dissatisfaction occurring when a student thinks that any condition affecting him/her is unjust, inequitable, or creates an unnecessary hardship. Such grievances include, but are not limited to, the following problems: mistreatment by any University employee, wrongful assessment and processing of fees, records and registration errors, racial discrimination, sex discrimination, handicapped discrimination as they relate to non-academic areas of the University. The grievance procedures should not be used for appeals of disciplinary decisions, residency classification decision, traffic appeals decisions or any other type decision where a clearly defined appeals process has already been established. The procedure is as follows: (a) the initial phase of the student grievance generally requires an oral discussion between the student and the person (s) alleged to have caused the grievance. (b) If the student considers the response to that discussion to unsatisfactory and feels the grievance still exists, written notification of the grievance shall be delivered to the chairman of the Academic Affairs Committee. The Academic Affairs Committee facilitates better student – faculty communications on the Salkehatchie Campus by listening to student and faculty grievances. Hearings may be requested by students and faculty. A written report is submitted to the Dean recommending what action, if any, should be taken.

Student Complaint Procedures and Form

Disclaimer Information

The SC Commission on Higher Education responds to formal complaints from students against public, independent non-profit and proprietary institutions of higher education in South Carolina. However, the Commission has limited authority over public and non-profit independent colleges and universities and cannot offer legal advice or initiate court proceedings. The Commission may not review student complaints in the following situations:

- where the complainant has retained legal counsel or legal action.
- where the complaint is related to course grades, academic sanctions, or discipline/conduct matters unless the student can prove that the institution did not comply with its policies and procedures for appeal.
- where another governmental agency has a process or jurisdiction to mediate the complaint.
- if the complaint was submitted to the Commission anonymously.

State Authorization Reciprocity Agreement (SARA)

South Carolina participates in the State Authorization Reciprocity Agreement (SARA). The South Carolina Commission on Higher Education serves as the state’s portal agency for SARA and is the final authority for SARA-related complaints. If an out-of-state student enrolled in an SC institution via distance education wishes to file a complaint, he or she may complete and submit the Commission’s complaint form below.

Guidelines for Filing a Student Complaint

In absence of mitigating circumstances, students must submit a complaint to the Commission within two calendar years of exhausting the appeals process at the institution.

Step 1: If a student has concerns related to classroom situations or administrative actions, he/she should contact the faculty or staff member(s) with whom he/she has a conflict. It may be possible to resolve the concerns without the need for formal institutional action. However, if the student’s complaint is not resolved satisfactorily, or if the complaint cannot be resolved by contacting the faculty or staff member(s), the student should proceed to Step 2.

Step 2: The student should file a complaint through the institution’s complaint process. Information about the process can usually be found in the institution’s academic catalog, student handbook, or website. Many institutions have an ombudsman to mediate on behalf of the student. If the student is still unable to resolve the complaint, the student should proceed to Step 3.

Step 3: Investigate to where assistance may be available from other entities.

- SC Public Technical Colleges: Students enrolled at a South Carolina technical college should contact the SC Technical College System office.
Website: <http://www.sctechsystem.edu/students/student-complaint-form.html>
- Independent Nonprofit Institutions: Students enrolled at an in-state independent nonprofit institution should contact the SC Independent Colleges and Universities.
Website: <http://www.scicu.org/contact/>
- Nursing: Students enrolled in nursing licensure programs should contact the SC Department of Labor, Licensing, and Regulation, Board of Nursing.
Website: <http://www.llr.state.sc.us/POL/Nursing/index.asp?file=STAFF.HTM>
- Barbering: Students enrolled in barbering programs should contact the SC Department of Labor, Licensing, and Regulation, Board of Barber Examiners.
Website: <http://www.llr.state.sc.us/POL/Barber/>
- Cosmetology: Students enrolled in cosmetology, nail tech, or esthetic programs should contact the SC Department of Labor, Licensing, and Regulation, Board of Cosmetology.
Website: <http://www.llr.state.sc.us/POL/Cosmetology/>
- Distance Learning: Students enrolled in distance learning programs should contact the state authorization agency in the home state of the institution. Each institution includes state authorization information on its website.
Website: <http://www.nasasps.org/listing-of-regular-members>
- Discrimination: If a student believes that an institution has acted in a discriminatory manner, he or she may wish to contact the South Carolina Human Affairs Commission or the U.S. Department of Education's Office for Civil Rights. SCHAC Website: <http://www.schac.sc.gov> USED
Website: <http://www2.ed.gov/about/offices/list/ocr/index.html>
- Disabilities Accommodation: If a student believes that an institution has not complied with the requirements of Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 or Title II of the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990, which prohibit discrimination on the basis of disability, contact the U.S. Department of Education, Office for Civil Rights.
Website: <http://www2.ed.gov/about/offices/list/ocr/transition.html>

- SC Financial Aid: If a student has been denied South Carolina state-based financial aid, he or she may file an appeal with South Carolina Commission on Higher Education, Division of Student Affairs.
Website: <http://www.che.sc.gov/Students,FamiliesMilitary/Appeals.aspx>
- Federal Financial Aid: For student issues related to federal financial aid, contact the Ombudsman Group of the U.S. Department of Education for disputes related to Direct Loans, Federal Family Education Loan (FFEL) Program loans, Guaranteed Student Loans, and Perkins Loans.
Website: <https://studentaid.ed.gov/repay-loans/disputes/prepare/contact-ombudsman>
- The Office of the Inspector General (OIG) is charged with investigating and detecting fraud, waste, abuse, mismanagement, misconduct, or violations of state or federal law, and wrongdoing in the Executive Branch. OIG only has investigative authority over the Executive Branch of South Carolina State Government, which includes state supported colleges and universities.
Website: <http://oig.sc.gov/Pages/default.aspx>.

Step 4: If the complaint cannot be resolved through the above channels, the student may file a complaint with the Commission. Complete and submit the Commission’s complaint form below.

Commission Procedures for Reviewing a Student Complaint

- After receiving a complaint, Commission staff will review the submitted materials, and contact the complainant for any required additional information or clarifications.
- The Commission staff will then send a copy of the complaint to the institution against which the complaint has been filed and request a response, due within 30 calendar days.
- After receiving the response, Commission staff will determine whether the institution’s complaint process has been followed and exhausted and what additional steps or follow-up may be taken. The Commission may outsource the investigation to another government agency.
- If it is concluded that the allegations do not establish a violation of standards or any serious deviation of educational standards imposed by the Commission, a letter is sent to the complainant confirming this, along with a copy of the institution’s response.
- If it appears that a standard has been violated or that the institution has not complied with the institution’s established policies, staff will attempt a settlement through mediation.
- If there is evidence that the institution may no longer be maintaining minimum standards, an investigation may be made to determine other actions.
- Results of the investigation are sent to both the complainant and institution.

Glossary of College Terminology

Realizing that a clear understanding of words and terms is basic to communication, we prepared a Glossary of College Terminology to aid students in their transition to the college environment and enhance interactions with faculty, staff and other students.

Academic Advising Appointment - A meeting between a faculty or professional advisor and a student to plan the next term's academic schedule. Pre-advisement for the spring term is usually done in November and for the fall term, in April.

Academic Advising Folder - Folder containing the following information to assist the faculty advisor: admissions counseling form, copies of high school and/ or college transcripts, copies of Advanced Standings, GED Certificate, SAT or ACT scores, PGPA or GPA, intended major and related information.

Academic Advising Form - A form which designates an approved academic course or courses to be taken by a student during an academic term. The form is completed by the student in consultation with the faculty advisor and signed by both.

Academic Advisor - Faculty member or professional staff member who is assigned to a student to assist the student in scheduling courses, to explain degree requirements and assist students with their academic programs or coursework

Accreditation - Institutional approval by an association based on specific standards. USCS is accredited by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools.

Advanced Placement Examinations - Tests on college-level subjects offered by the College Board to qualified high school students. USCS has a procedure for awarding placement and credit to students who earn a minimum score of 3 on designated tests. See the Admissions Office staff for details.

Advanced Standing - (1) A listing of academic courses taken at other colleges/universities including credit hours attempted, credit hours earned, grades and grade point average that is evaluated by the Dean of the College of the transfer student's major. This form may be called a Transfer Credit Summary. (2) Credit earned by examination or exemption and posted on the student's record.

American College Test (ACT) - A college entrance examination that measures a student's skills in the following areas: English, Math, Social Studies and Natural Sciences. Most colleges use either the ACT or Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT) for admissions purposes.

Associate Degree - A two-year degree granted by USCS to a student who has earned a minimum of 60 credit hours in designated courses with a cumulative grade point average of 2.0 (C average).

Audit Student - One who monitors a college course without receiving academic credit. Audit fees vary depending on the number of courses the student is taking. An audited course at USCS may never be repeated for credit. Skills courses may not be audited. (see Skills Courses)

Baccalaureate or Bachelor's Degree - A four-year degree granted by USC to a student who has earned a minimum number of credit hours (120 or more) in designated courses with a minimum grade point average of 2.0 (C average).

Cognate - Academic courses intended to support coursework in a student's major area of study.

Students who earn a minimum score and pass an essay, if required, are granted credit by USC. Information about CLEP is available in the Admissions Office, USCS.

Common Hour - A block of time when there are no classes scheduled. Common Hour is from 12:15 - 1:00 each day.

Faculty Member - A person who teaches courses at USCS and has earned a Master's (M.A.) degree and/or Doctorate (D.B.A.; D.A.; Ph.D.; or Ed.D.) degree. Faculty members with Doctorate degrees may be called Doctor. Faculty are ranked as follows: Instructor, Assistant Professor, Associate Professor, Professor. All faculty may be called professor informally.

Fees - Costs to attend USCS. The primary fee is tuition or the cost to take a course(s). Other fees include books and student insurance.

Financial Aid - Assistance in the form of grants, loans, work, tuition waivers, scholarships and any other type to provide for the payment of tuition and other expenses incidental to college attendance. (Note: This definition may vary for Financial Aid recipients; contact the Financial Aid Office for details.)

Grade Point Deficit (GPD) - The number of grade points a student lacks to have a 2.0 (C average)

Grade Point Hours (GPA Hours) - The number of credit hours that have been attempted (or carried) for a letter grade. These hours are used to calculate the student's Grade Point Average (GPA). Courses that receive the grades of S, U, T, IP, NR, and Audit are not counted in the Grade Point Hours.

Grade Point Average (GPA) - The average of grades a student earns at the end of a semester obtained by dividing the total number of grade points by the total number of credit hours attempted. The cumulative GPA is the average of all college work attempted.

To compute a GPA:

- 1) Add all hours attempted, not hours earned.
- 2) Determine the grade points for each course based on the following:

A = 4.0 grade points	B+ = 3.5 grade points
B = 3.0 grade points	C+ = 2.5 grade points
C = 2.0 grade points	D+ = 1.5 grade points
D = 1.0 grade points	F = 0 grade points

- 3) Multiply the semester hours attempted for each course by the grade points for each course grade.
- 4) Total the grade points.
- 5) Divide the total number of grade points by the total number of hours attempted:
GPA = total grade points / total hours attempted

Compute Your GPA
Example: Fall term

Course	Grade (Grade Pts)	Credit hours attempted	Credit hours earned	Total Earned Grade Points
ENGL 101	B+ (3.5)	3	3	10.5
MATH 141	A (4.0)	4	4	16.0
CHEM 101	C (2.0)	4	4	8.0
PSYC 101	F (0.0)	3	0	0.0
Total		14	11	34.5
GPA	$34.5 / 14 = 2.46$

To compute a Cumulative GPA:

- 1) Total all grade points from each term
  - 2) Total all hours attempted for each term
  - 3) Divide grade points by hours attempted
- Cumulative GPA= All Grade Points/All Hours Attempted

Compute Your Cumulative GPA

Example:

	Hours Attempted	Grade Points
Spring term:	15	45.0
Fall term:	14	34.5
Totals:	29	79.5
Cumulative GPA:	79.7 / 29 = 2.74

Non-Degree Students - Students who plan to attend the university for a temporary period of time and do not intend to fulfill degree requirements. Courses students take in a non-degree status carry full University credit and may be used toward a degree only after the student has satisfied all requirements for acceptance as a degree applicant. An applicant denied admission to a degree category is not eligible for admission as a non-degree student. Non-degree students are not eligible for financial aid.

Non-Traditional Student - Student 25 years or older.

Online Registration - The process, utilizing a computer, by which registrants are placed on the roster of students for a particular term and enrolled for classes. The primary advantages to students who utilize an online system include the instantaneous feedback on the requests for classes and the ease by which they can register for future terms.

Pass/Fail Course- Option a student has not to receive a standard letter grade of A, B, C, or D but to receive a P (Pass) or F (Fail). Pass/Fail grades are not computed in the student's GPA. Usually the instructor's permission is required, and these courses are generally available only in the area of electives.

Placement Tests - Tests given in the area of writing, Reading, Mathematics and Foreign Language to determine the appropriate beginning level of courses in English, Mathematics and Foreign Language. All new students must take the Writing Proficiency Test.

Predicted Grade Point Average (PGPA) - An indication of a Freshman's potential academic performance based on a formula that includes high school rank in class, SAT-Verbal score and SAT-Math score. (2.05 is an example of a PGPA)

Prerequisite - A course that must be completed satisfactorily before a more advanced level course may be taken. For example, before a student can take English 287, he/she must complete English 101 and 102. English 101 and 102 are prerequisites for English 287.

Probation - The Dean of each college will review all students with a scholastic deficiency (semester, yearly or cumulative GPA below 2.0) and determine if the students need to be placed on scholastic probation on such terms as the Dean may designate.

Quarter Hours - Credit hours may be given by institutions on the quarter system. To convert quarter hours to semester hours, multiply the quarter hours by two-thirds. USC is on a semester system.
