24 weeks.

Your donations help everyone...

Be more confident

- ERIC Institute of Educational Science states that reading directly leads to higher self-esteem

Save money

- Gain access to better, cheaper medical care
- Between $106-$238 billion in health care costs a year are linked to low adult literacy skills

Get a better job

- Help people be able to fill out a job application
- According to Forbes, you can make up to $24,000 more per year based on your literacy skills

Create better relationships with family members

- Help people read stories to their kids and grandchildren
- Help people play board games with their families

Joshua, Male, 30

Joshua is a single father of two working as a manager at a local fast food restaurant. He struggles with long hours, weekends, and struggles with his literacy. He is looking for a better job in order to provide and be able to spend more time with his family.
