FIRST SCHOLARSHIP

FIRST and the University of South Carolina (USC) College of Engineering and Computing (CEC) have established a scholarship opportunity to benefit deserving students who have participated on a FIRST team for at least two years during their high school years and who would like to attend the USC. The student may enroll in any one of the eight engineering or computing programs offered in the College of Engineering and Computing at the USC. Ten scholarship opportunities are being offered to deserving and qualified high school seniors for the 2017-2018 FIRST Competition season.

Description:
The scholarship committee of the USC College of Engineering and Computing will award a College of Engineering and Computing scholarship to ten (10) selected high school seniors currently on a FIRST team that have been a member of a FIRST Robotics Competition (FRC) and/or FIRST Tech Challenge (FTC) team at their high school for at least two years. The recipient of the scholarship will receive up to $1,000 per year for up to four years at USC. The scholarship is applied directly towards tuition and fees or on campus room and board costs at USC. Eligible students will have a minimum GPA of 3.50, minimum SAT score of 1250 (combined math and verbal) or equivalent ACT combined score, and meet USC academic enrollment requirements. The award is worth up to $1,000 per year and can be renewable for up to three years provided the student maintains at least a “B” average or higher and completes at least twelve (12) credit hours per semester.

Submission Requirements:
To apply for the University of South Carolina College of Engineering and Computing FIRST scholarship, students must complete the following:

- Admission application to University of South Carolina
- USC FIRST Scholarship Application
- Letter of Recommendation from a Teacher or FIRST Mentor explaining the applicant’s role and contribution to their FIRST Team. (due March 1, 2017)
