   Dr. Sanchez called the meeting to order at 2:03 p.m.

2. Approval of minutes (Minutes of the May 24, 2010 meeting). The minutes were reviewed electronically and approved by the Council. [A copy of Minutes are on file at The Graduate School; also posted on The Graduate School website at http://gradschool.sc.edu/gradcouncil/minutes/]

3. Report of the Chair (Francisco Sanchez)

   - Dr. Sanchez prompted all Council members to introduce themselves.
   - Dr. Sanchez opened the floor for nominees for chair-elect for the 2010-2011 term. Dr. Zimmerman advised the Council that Dr. Cheryl Addy was nominated prior to the meeting to serve as chair-elect for this year. By acclamation Dr. Addy will serve as the chair-elect for the Graduate Council's 2010-2011 term and as Chair next year.
4. Report of the Interim Dean of The Graduate School (Timothy Mousseau)

- Dr. Mousseau introduced himself to the Council as the new interim dean of The Graduate School and thanked everyone for serving in this advisory capacity for graduate education. Dr. Mousseau stated that the Council along with graduate directors, deans and assistant deans will supply pivotal information about The Graduate School and how it can be improved throughout the next year.

- Dr. Mousseau stated that with his appointment, the university is reviewing the recommendations of "The Role of the Graduate School at USC," a report chaired by Dr. Chaden Djalali. Dr. Mousseau stated that the report stresses that there should be a direct link between the Dean of the Graduate School and the Office of Research. As a result, the Office of Research is now searching for an Assistant Vice President for Graduate Education who will serve as a direct liaison between The Graduate School and the Office of Research. This person will capture additional funding support by writing grants and seeking new revenue streams that can be used for graduate education and will suggest ways to streamline processes, particularly by using new technologies. Dr. Mousseau thanked Dr. Buggy, Dr. Zimmerman, Dale Moore, and Ryan Webber for the contributions they have made thus far to implementing technological processes to streamline procedures.

- Dr. Mousseau outlined the future directions of The Graduate School:
  - Increase funding for travel grants – It is the Graduate School's goal to fund the travel of every student pursuing a terminal degree who is presenting a paper or poster at a conference or scholarly meeting. Also, in an effort not to penalize students because their department cannot fund them, the previous policy of requiring matching departmental funds will be revised. Matching funds will no longer be required but will be strongly encouraged. Dr. Mousseau hopes to offer up to $500 for those students traveling nationally and $1000 for those traveling internationally.
  - Recruitment – In the past, the Graduate School was more active in recruitment but due to a lack of resources, both in people and funds, much of this recruitment activity ended. It is hoped that in the near future The Graduate School will play a larger role in national and international recruitment activities.

5. Report of the Associate Dean / Secretary of the Graduate Council
   (Nancy Zimmerman)

- Dr. Zimmerman advised the Council that the Graduate Bulletin update has been completed and asks that all programs review their entry at: http://bulletin.sc.edu/index.php.

- Dr. Zimmerman advised the Council to read the Graduate Council Manual. She then advised the Council that committee meetings have been scheduled to meet on the 2nd Monday of every month, but it is permissible for a committee to change their meeting time or date to later that week as long as the Graduate School is notified so meeting times can be posted. Since all meetings of Graduate Council, except those dealing with petitions, awards, or personnel, are open meetings. Dr. Zimmerman also noted that not all committees meet on a routine basis and that some committees meet only as tasks are assigned. Committee information can be viewed at http://gradschool.sc.edu/gradcouncil/members.htm.
6. Report of the Graduate Student Association Representative (Kristi Harmon)
   - Dr. Zimmerman advised the Council that Nick Noland resigned as the student representative from the Graduate Student Association (GSA) for the 2010-11 academic term because of a work-related move of his spouse.
   - Kristi Harmon, the treasurer for GSA, advised the Council that she will serve as the student representative until that position is filled. Ms. Harmon advised the Council that recently GSA held a Graduate Student Fair and orientation that went very well with an estimated 200 graduate students attending.

   - Dr. Zimmerman advised the Council that the National Research Council’s third and most comprehensive assessment of more than 5,000 doctoral programs has been released to the University for review, but is embargoed until the official release date of September 28th. The NRC task force, appointed by Dr. Mousseau, has worked hard to review and interpret all of the data and will release their analysis of the USC data on the 28th. Information will be posted to the Office of Research and Graduate Education website.

6. Report of the Graduate Student Association Representative
   (Drew Newton)

   - Dr. Zimmerman advised the Council that the Graduate Student Association (GSA) has selected a Graduate Council representative, Drew Newton, for the 2010-11 academic year. Mr. Newton is a student in the Higher Education program and works actively with GSA.
   - Mr. Newton advised the Council that GSA is working diligently on strengthening the organization. He stated that GSA plans to issue a needs survey to all graduate students and asked that the Council share any concerns with him directly by email at newtona4@mailbox.sc.edu so that he may discuss it with the GSA cabinet. Dr. Shifflett asked that graduate housing be added to the GSA list of concerns. Dr. Zimmerman suggested that he might want to contact the FemGrad group to work cooperatively on projects with that group and that he might want to contact Drs. Julie Morris and Brianna Timmerman, who work with undergraduate research initiatives, to explore how GSA might help recruit graduate student mentors for undergraduate student researchers.

   (Cheryl Addy)

Dr. Addy advised that the Committee had reviewed the comprehensive examination policy for master’s programs and are proposing the following wording revision to the policy:

Comprehensive Assessment

All candidates for a Master’s degree must complete a comprehensive assessment in the major field of study that is distinct from program course requirements. A comprehensive assessment is one that requires a student to synthesize and integrate knowledge acquired in coursework and other learning experiences and to apply theory and principles in a situation that approximates some aspect of professional practice or research in the discipline. It must be used as a means by which faculty judge whether the student has mastered the body of knowledge and can demonstrate proficiency in the required competencies. Many different models are possible, including written or oral comprehensive examinations, portfolios, supervised practice placements, a major written paper such as a thesis or an applied research project, development of case studies, capstone seminars, and others. Each degree program must require a comprehensive assessment. Completion of course requirements does not satisfy the comprehensive assessment requirement. The Graduate School must be notified by the graduate director of the student’s academic program of successful completion of the comprehensive assessment. Completion remains valid for two years after which the assessment must be repeated.

- Dr. Addy also updated the Council on several policies reviewed by the Council that remain unresolved. They include:
  - the Criminal and Behavioral Infraction Policy as adopted by undergraduate admissions. Currently, the proposed undergraduate policy is under review by University legal and action on this will be postponed until the Committee receives that review.
  - the new Term Appointment policy already approved by the Graduate Council that would allow departments to appoint individuals to the status of associate faculty with a rigorous appointment process is being reviewed by Drs. Kresovich, Amiridis, and Mousseau. Once reviewed, it may be sent back to Graduate Council with comments for reconsideration and/or it will be sent to the appropriate Faculty Senate committee for review and possible consideration by the Faculty Senate for a vote and consideration of a necessary vote of the full graduate faculty.

- Dale Moore asked that the Policy and Practices committee review the doctoral comprehensive exam policy and identify and correct any discrepancies or confusing language. He also asked that the Committee review the requirement for a standardized test, such as the GRE, MAT, and GMAT for admission.

- Dr. Zimmerman has been charged by the Council to review Graduate Bulletin wording that links financial aid to admission testing. Programs must not have different admission requirements for students who do and who do not need financial aid. Once identified, Dr. Zimmerman and Dale Moore, Director of Graduate Admissions, will work with departments to clarify admission requirements and correct Bulletin wording.
8. Report of the Committee on 500/600 Level Courses, Distance Education, and Special Courses (Nancy Zimmerman)

9. Fellowships and Scholarships Committee (Joe Quattro)

   - Dr. Quattro advised the Council that the Fellowships and Scholarships Committee reviewed submissions for the Outstanding Thesis Award. After review, the following students received awards in the following three categories:
     - Math, Physical Sciences and Engineering – Shelby Zelonis
     - Humanities and Fine Arts – Inti Sodemann

Academic Program Actions Proposal/Bulletin Change:

M.A. in Spanish

From the recent curricular changes, approved by the Graduate Council in March 2010 that took effect in the 2010-2011 Graduate Bulletin, we omitted the elimination of SPAN 512, Advanced Writing and Research in Spanish Language Studies. With the approval and implementation in Fall 2010 of the new SPAN 700, Introduction to Graduate Studies in languages, literatures and cultures, SPAN 512 will be duplicating much of the content taught in SPAN 700. The Graduate Faculty of the Spanish Program voted on April 27, 2010 to eliminate SPAN 512 from the M.A. curriculum.

[Effective: Spring 2011]
APPROVED

Academic Program Actions Proposal/Bulletin Change:
M.A. in Spanish

The Department of Languages, Literatures, and Cultures proposes to reduce the number of credit hours required for the Master of Arts, Spanish, from 33 to 30.

This proposal results from curricular actions proposed by the Spanish Program faculty and the Department of Languages, Literatures, and Cultures (DLLC) and approved by the Graduate Council in Spring 2010. On January 25, 2010, the Graduate Council approved a new course: SPAN 700 - Introduction to Graduate Studies in Languages, Literatures, and Cultures. At the same time, the Graduate Council approved the Spanish Program faculty/DLLCs proposal to require the new SPAN 700 course in the M.A. curriculum. With these changes accomplished, the Spanish Program faculty reviewed the existing curriculum and voted on April 27, 2010 to delete the SPAN 512 course from the list of curricular offerings and to delete it as a requirement in the M.A., thus reducing the total number of hours for the M.A. from 33 to 30. (The CCP form to delete SPAN 512 as a course has been submitted to the University Curricula and Courses Committee.)

The proposed reduction of hours in the M.A., Spanish, from 33 to 30 brings this degree in line with other language master's degrees in French and German, which require 30 hours.

With the proposal to reduce the total hours from 33 to 30, the Spanish Program faculty/DLLC also proposes to recalibrate the number of required hours at the 700 or above level from 18 to 15 credit hours. This proposal is consonant with the Graduate Bulletin's specification that, "At least half of the credit hours on the Program of Study, exclusive of thesis preparation (799), must be earned in courses numbered 700 and above. With the approval of this proposal, the three language (French, German and Spanish) M.A. programs will have the same total number of credit hours and the same requirement for courses taken at the 700 or above level.

Note: The number of credit hours for the non-thesis option in the M.A., Spanish, remains at 33. The non-thesis option in the three language (French, German, and Spanish) M.A. programs requires 33 credit hours.

PEDU 750 (Historical and Philosophical Foundations of Physical Education) has been a required course for our students in the M.A.T. program. As we have reflected on the needs of our students, we the faculty in the pedagogy option within in our department believe that an alternative course offers more needed content for this group of students. Hence, we explored the course PEDU 732 (Analysis of Instructional Behavior in Physical Activity), as an appropriate substitute for several years. Based on feedback from this change, we believe that this course should be a more permanent change to the required program of study for the MAT degree. The course meets student needs and has no negative impact on any other students in other degree programs within or beyond our department.

Statistics

Academic Program Actions Proposal/Bulletin Change:
Master of Industrial Statistics

The Department of Statistics proposes to change the name of the Master of Industrial Statistics degree and the configuration of degree requirements.

The Master of Industrial Statistics (MIS) degree is currently offered by the Department of Statistics at the University of South Carolina. It is an approved distance program and the only such offering in the Southeast. There are currently 30 active participants in the program. The intent of this request is to change the name and configuration of courses currently making up the Master of Industrial Statistics degree.

Originally, the MIS was configured to focus on industrial applications and the needs of industrial statisticians. The flexibility of the degree encouraged many who were employed in business, government, or education, or who were pursuing a Ph.D. in another field, to complete the degree program. The name "Master of Industrial Statistics" does not serve these non-industrial students well. As such, we request the degree be retitled to Master of Applied Statistics.

The degree currently consists of the 15-hour core of STAT 525, 700, 701, 702, and 703; the industrial-focused STAT 506 or 706; STAT 750 or STAT 761; and five three-hour elective courses. While many of the non-industrial students benefit from at least some of these industrial-focused courses, we propose to make the program more flexible by no longer requiring the industrial-focused courses and, instead, requiring STAT 700, 701, 702, 703, 517 and allowing students to continue to choose five three-hour electives. This will give students a broad base in applied statistics, mathematical statistics and statistical computing, while allowing them to formulate, under the guidance of the graduate advisor, an area of concentration appropriate for their individual needs.

These changes will reduce the number of credit hours from 36 to 30 which, based on feedback from our graduates, is a more reasonable expectation for students who are attending part-time while working full-time. This reduction of credit hours does not sacrifice the quality of our program and aligns it with national models, including a competing distance program at Penn State University.

The name change to Master of Applied Statistics and new configuration of courses will position the degree better to serve professionals working full-time in business, industry, government and education; we expect the degree to have wider appeal and increased enrollment as a result of these proposed changes.

Academic Program Actions Proposal/Bulletin Change: Ph.D. in English

The English Department has passed unanimously (9/24/10) a motion to introduce a direct-admission option that will allow us to accept highly-qualified applicants directly from their B.A. degrees into our Ph.D. programs in literature or in composition and rhetoric. The sole curricular change is that students will not be required to complete a M.A. thesis -- unless they choose to do so and opt out of the Ph.D. program -- but will progress immediately into doctoral studies upon satisfactory completion of the M.A. Comprehensive examination and the recommendation of their readers. This exam will thus serve as the Ph.D. Qualifying examination, as it currently may for our M.A. students who are admitted into our Ph.D. program. Our justification for introducing this direct-admission option is that we will be able to recruit nationally the most highly qualified baccalaureate level applicants into our doctoral program, applicants whom we have been losing to our many peer institutions that have direct doctoral admission options. Further, we will be able to accelerate our students' progress toward the Ph.D. degree: Direct admission Ph.D. students should, on average, complete their doctoral degrees in one less year than our current students who must complete their M.A. degrees and seek subsequent admission into our Ph.D. program. Given our awareness of the Graduate Council's initiative to have the Bulletin reflect departmental policies and procedures as completely as possible, we have also indicated our departmental policy on transfer of courses for doctoral program credit. This explanation of our transfer policy will explain the potentially unclear difference in total credit hours toward the Ph.D. between students who have been admitted directly to the Ph.D. and those who will follow the traditional two-stage route to the degree.

Economics

APPROVED

Academic Program Actions Proposal/Bulletin Change: M.A. in Economics: Course Number Change
Currently, the Bulletin states that the M.A. in Economics requires ECON 692. That course, however, is no longer offered. That material of that course is contained in STAT 700 (Applied Statistical Methods I).

We have been advising students for the last couple of years to take STAT 700, so this change is not substantive. It aligns the official requirements to our current practice.

[Effective: Spring 2011]

APPROVED

We propose to offer the option of substituting two 3-credit courses in place of the 6-credit thesis in the Masters of Arts in Economics program.

One reason is that this option is standard for most M.A. Economics programs in the United States. This change would make us more competitive nationally.

Another reason is that many of our students would benefit greatly from being able to explore various aspects of economics in more depth through course work. Some students would be able to complement their studies across related disciplines by taking courses in, e.g. Public Health, Political Science, Sociology, or Anthropology.

Finally, this change would allow students to specialize in areas that would enhance their marketability (e.g. taking two courses in Finance or Public Health).

Academic Program Actions Proposal/Bulletin Change:
M.A. in Economics: Change Semester of Program Start
We wish to admit new students only in the fall semester because our required courses are sequenced. Students admitted in the spring would be out of sequence. It is not feasible for us to offer required courses every semester.

Geography

APPROVED

Academic Program Actions Proposal/Bulletin Change:
Ph.D. in Geography
Details of the Geography Ph.D. program requirements have never been in the Bulletin. We would like to take the opportunity to accomplish two objectives with this action:

1) Improve the quality and efficiency of the Geography Ph.D. program, and

2) List the Ph.D. program requirements in the USC Graduate Bulletin.

Current details on the Ph.D. Program requirements may be found on the Departmental web site (http://www.cas.sc.edu/geog/academics/phd.html).

The substantive changes we are making to improve the quality and efficiency of the Ph.D. program are:

1) allow flexibility in selecting the appropriate technical proficiency course (research methods); formerly GEOG 731 was required of all Ph.D. students,

2) delete the specific requirement of GEOG 731, an advanced quantitative techniques course in Geography, that may not be appropriate for students focusing on a non-GIScience area of Geography,

3) eliminate the requirement of GEOG 740 (1 credit hour) for Ph.D. students as the content is primarily for the students without research experience (note: this course is still required for our MAIMS students),
4) change the qualifying exam to be the successful completion of three courses—GEOG 801, GEOG 531 or its equivalent, and the advanced training in a technique course, with a grade of B or better.

5) require the dissertation proposal to be commensurate with a proposal to a nationally-recognized funding source,

6) require all Ph.D. students to have teaching experience as the Instructor or teaching assistant.

7) require Ph.D. students to present their research in the Departmental Colloquia Series.

Biomedical Sciences

Academic Program Actions Proposal/Bulletin Change:
Ph.D. in Biomedical Science

Changes are made to the core requirements of the neuroscience track of the Biomedical Science Ph.D. program. These changes specify 12 credit hours in the neuroscience track that differ from the molecular and cellular biology track. The purpose of these changes is to provide coursework that better prepares students in the neuroscience content area.

• The listing of required courses in the neuroscience track is revised to correct course numbers of the neuroscience courses PHPH 750 and 751. In addition to these 2 courses of 4 credits each, an additional 4 credit course is added - Biomedical Biochemistry (BMSC 754).

• The neuroscience track does not require as core courses these 12 credits of coursework in the molecular and cellular biology track: Structure and Function of Nucleic Acids (BIOL 711), Advanced Cell Biology (BIOL 714), Biological Chemistry (BIOL 717), and Biological Chemistry II (BIOL 718).

Academic Program Actions Proposal/Bulletin Change:
Master of Science in Public Health

The Arnold School of Public Health is requesting to delete the Master of Science in Public Health (MSPH). The MSPH has a relatively inflexible curriculum because of the areas of concentration. The more flexible the M.S. in the department is more attractive to students and yields a more marketable degree for graduates. In addition, the number of degrees relative to the number of students in the department stretches limited resources for delivering quality instruction.

Health Services Policy and Management

APPROVED

Academic Program Actions Proposal/Bulletin Change: Dr.P.H. in Health Services Policy and Management
Program requirements for the Ph.D. and Dr.P.H. will be amended to delete HSPM 710 as a required course, to be replaced by an elective of the student's choosing. Total hours required for these degrees (61 semester credit hours) will not change. As currently taught, there is a substantial overlap in course content between HSPM 710 (History of Public Health) and HSPM 711 (Health Politics); HSPM 710 includes some coverage of health politics and HSPM 711 includes a historical overview of public health. Given the duplication of subject matter covered in the two courses, we request that the two courses be combined. More historical content will be added to HSPM 711 and HSPM 710 will be dropped from the curriculum. The revision will not exceed 50% of the HSPM 711's current content.

- Dr. Zimmerman charged the Academic Policy and Practices committee to review the policy on acceptance and formatting of dissertations composed of articles rather than the traditional dissertation submission.

- Dr. Grego solicited advice from the Council regarding a graduate proposal from Civil Engineering, ECIV 798, which is requesting that the course is offered for zero credit to monitor the attendance of Graduate Assistants. After much discussion, the Council advised that the department make the course a requirement for the assistantship instead of making the course zero credit hours.

Dr. Zimmerman advised the Council that this has become a reoccurring issue and charged the Academic Policy and Practices committee with recommending if a policy should be developed.

6. Report of the Graduate Student Association Representative (Drew Newton)

   - Mr. Newton shared a draft of the Graduate Student Survey to be issued to all graduate students in the coming months. Mr. Newton asked that Council members review the draft and forward any comments and suggestions to him via email at newtona4@email.sc.edu.

   1. APPROVED

      Recommendation to require learning outcomes with APA proposals

      For any proposed program curriculum change, the unit proposing the change must indicate whether it affects the program’s learning outcomes. If the change does impact the learning outcomes, the proposal must include the revised learning outcomes as part of the bulletin change request. Any curriculum change involving the learning outcomes will not be effective until the following fall semester, so the curriculum, learning outcomes and assessment plans will be consistent.

      For graduate curriculum proposals reviewed by Graduate Council, this proposed policy will become effective immediately upon approval by Graduate Council. For undergraduate proposals, this is a recommendation to be considered by the Faculty Senate Courses and Curriculum Committee and the Office of Academic Program Development.

A recommendation to add a check box to the APA form to indicate whether learning outcomes are impacted by the proposed change will be forwarded to Dr. Finnigan of the Office of the Provost.

2. APPROVED
   Recommendation to affirm current policy for the format of multiple article/multi-paper dissertations to present a unified research presentation and agenda, and to include an introductory chapter that informs the reader of the nature and objectives of the research, a concluding chapter that ties together the major results, and a comprehensive bibliography. (For complete format and presentation requirements see “Journal Articles as Chapters” at http://gradschool.sc.edu/thesisdissertation/format.asp)

Linguistics

APPROVED

Academic Program Actions Proposal/Bulletin Change:
M.A. and Ph.D. in Linguistics

The Linguistics program proposes changing the current designator “anthropological linguistics” to “linguistic anthropology” to reflect current trends in the U.S. encompassing an interdisciplinary approach to the social scientific study that addresses simultaneously: 1) the importance of language(s) for an understanding of culture and society & 2) the relevance of cultural and social phenomena for an understanding of language(s).

In the early 20th century, anthropological linguists trained in the Boasian tradition of American Anthropology were linguists, first and foremost, who worked in the service of cultural anthropologists and archaeologists. They engaged in a restricted set of scholarly activities that for all intents and purposes were tied to the language documentation of American Indian and other non-written aboriginal languages and the clues that these different grammatical structures provided for understanding present and past cultural worldviews.

Since the 1960s linguistic anthropology gained considerable independence from the other subfields even as it continued to value cross-subfield conversations. Contemporary linguistic anthropologists focus on the fundamental ways that language(s) and discursive practices mediate human experience and constitute the fabric of every day life within, between and across cultures and societies. We study everyday encounters (and the interplay of verbal and non-verbal forms of communication), language socialization, ritual and political events, scientific discourse, verbal art and performance, language contact and language shift, interethnic communication, literacy, mass-mediated forms of communication, and language ideologies - to name just a few. All of these topics go way beyond the early concern of anthropological linguistics - namely the study of linguistic forms in isolation of their users and with no regard for speakers beliefs about language(s) – to encompass the situated uses of linguistic forms by their speakers, including speaker's their beliefs about language(s). Finally, contemporary scholars in Linguistics and Anthropology recognize that specialists who adopt the self-descriptor 'anthropological linguistics' in the United States primarily do language documentation. For this reason, the term does not accurately reflect what current faculty at USC can offer students in graduate training through the Linguistics Program.

Academic Program Actions Proposal/Bulletin Change:

M.M. in Music Theory

The Master of Music in music theory degree has failed for several years to meet the productivity standards established by the Commission on Higher Education. In addition, budget cuts have prevented the School of Music from replacing a retired faculty music theory faculty member. The shortage of music theory faculty to support this degree was noted by the accreditation team from the National Association of Schools of Music when they visited in Spring 2010. The combination of these factors has led the School of Music to the decision to terminate the Master of Music in music theory degree program.

Academic Program Actions Proposal/Bulletin Change:

MPH in Environmental Health Sciences

The current three concentrations for the MPH in Environmental Health Sciences are: Environment Quality, Industrial Hygiene, and Hazardous Materials Management. We are proposing to eliminate the three concentrations and change to one curriculum for our MPH degree because the concentrations have relatively inflexible curriculum that is no longer appropriate for the program market. In addition, the number of degrees and concentrations relative to the number of students in the department stretches limited resources for delivering quality instruction. A simple major in Environmental Health Sciences for the MPH is more ideal because all students will be required to take the mandatory suite of courses for an MPH (ENHS 660, BIOS 700 or 701, EPID 700 or 701,HPEB 700, and HSPM 700) in addition to the required 6 hours of ENHS 798 Public Health Practice and a minimum of 21 hours of additional coursework which will depend on the student's primary interests in either environmental health or human health, and in consultation with her/his committee.

Academic Program Actions Proposal/Bulletin Change: M.S. in Genetic Counseling
The Master of Science Genetic Counseling Program was initiated in 1985, and has graduated over 150 genetic counselors in this evolving health profession. The Biology Department has offered BIOL 665 Human Molecular Genetics since the Program’s inception, as part of the required curriculum. With the evolving science of human genetics, the need for a more advanced course that builds upon the first year genetic counseling student's knowledge base of human genetics was recognized in recent years.

In a cooperative effort with faculty in the Biology Department, BIOL 667 Molecular and Genetic Aspects of Disease Pathogenesis was identified as a course that would better meet the Genetic Counseling Program's current curricular needs. Please see the letter of concurrence from the Biology Department.

We request that BIOL 665 be dropped from the required curriculum of the Genetic Counseling Program and that BIOL 667 be added to the required curriculum.

1. Call to Order and Approval of Agenda (Francisco Sanchez)

   Dr. Sanchez called the meeting to order at 2:07 p.m.

2. Approval of minutes (Minutes of the November 22, 2010 meeting). The minutes were reviewed electronically and approved by the Council. [A copy of Minutes are on file at The Graduate School; also posted on The Graduate School website at http://gradschool.sc.edu/gradcouncil/minutes/]

3. Report of the Chair (Francisco Sanchez)

   Dr. Sanchez reported on the College of Arts and Sciences Retreat on Graduate Education. Dr. Sanchez advised that the group discussed many issues to include the following:
   - Increasing the research profile of the university
   - Increasing the number of students completing doctoral degree programs
   - Reducing student time to degree
• Recruiting and retention of graduate students, particularly from under represented groups
• Funding full health insurance coverage for graduate assistants
• Tracking student progress to degree
• Mentoring
• Reviewing Graduate School orientation and TA training responsibilities and processes

4. Report of the Interim Dean of The Graduate School (Timothy Mousseau)

• Dr. Mousseau introduced Dr. Briana Timmerman as the new Assistant Vice President for Research and Graduate Education. Dr. Timmerman advised the Council that she will be working within the Graduate School on many items to include increasing graduate research, grant writing, professional development for graduate students, and working with post-doctoral students.

• Dr. Mousseau reported on the Provost’s Retreat (agenda and documents available at http://www.sc.edu/provost/acadadmin/provostmeetings/) held on January 07, 2011. Dr. Mousseau expressed that the group addressed many of the same items discussed at the College of Arts and Sciences Retreat on Graduate Education and many of these issues will be reviewed and evaluated in the following year. Dr. Zimmerman reminded the Council that a list of priorities was developed by the Council for Dr. Stephen Kresovich last term and many of these items were included. Dr. Zimmerman will resend this list to the Council as an attachment with the Council Minutes.

• Dr. Addy stated that at the Provost Retreat, the participants discussed the policy approved by the Graduate Council on May, 18, 2009 which voted to increase the number of privileges of individuals holding term appointments. Dr. Addy expressed that many of them were interested and felt the policy would be beneficial.

• Dr. Mousseau announced to the Council that information has been posted online regarding Presidential Doctoral Fellowships. Dr. Mousseau advised that up to thirty (30) merit-based fellowships will be awarded each academic year in an effort to improve USC’s competitiveness to recruit the highest level of applicants to USC’s research-intensive doctoral programs. More information about the requirements can be found online at http://gradschool.sc.edu/future/faaw-view.asp?faawid=11.

Dr. Ularu expressed his concern that students obtaining a Masters of Fine Arts (MFA) are not considered for these fellowships despite the fact that an MFA is a terminal degree. Dr. Ularu further explained that it is hard to recruit top prospects because of the lack of funding at USC and suggests that the MFA be included as an option for the Presidential Doctoral Fellowships. Dr. Mousseau commented that Dr. Uluru’s request will be considered.
5. Report of the Associate Dean / Secretary of the Graduate Council
(Nancy Zimmerman)

- Dr. Zimmerman announced that Southern Association of Colleges and Schools (SACS) will be visiting campus March 29 – 31. Dr. Zimmerman encouraged all Council members to become familiar with the Quality Enhancement Plan (QEP) located on the Office of the Provost website at http://www.sc.edu/provost/qep/ and to encourage faculty, staff, and students in their programs to become familiar with it as well.

6. Report of the Graduate Student Association Representative (Drew Newton)

- Mr. Newton reported to the Council that the Graduate Student Survey has been approved as revised and will be issued to all graduate students in the next few weeks. He thanked Dr. Mousseau and Council members for suggesting revisions.
- Mr. Newton also advised the Council that Graduate Student Association elections will take place mid-February for all positions. The elections are being held earlier this year to provide a smoother transition of officers.

- Dr. Addy advised the Council that the Academic Policy and Practices Committee met last week to discuss developing a policy for zero credit hour courses. In that meeting, it was discovered that a University policy already exists, ACAF 2.03, and is posted with other policies on the Office of the Provost’s website. Dr. Addy advised that she and Dr. Zimmerman are currently drafting language for the Graduate Studies Bulletin

Academic Program Actions Proposal/Bulletin Change: APPROVED
Dual Degree Program – USC and University of Mannheim Business School
This Double (Dual) Degree program between the University of South Carolina, Darla Moore School of Business (USC) and the Business School of the University of Mannheim (BSUM). The program is designed as a double / dual degree program, which allows students to pursue degrees at both institutions. Each institution confers its own degree for work done to meet the graduation standards of the program of that institution. The program will give selected students from both institutions the opportunity to acquire the Master of International Business (MIB) from USC and the Mannheim Master in Management (MMM) from the University of Mannheim, through the recognition of academic coursework, in accordance with all curriculum requirements of the institution.

The intended length of study for the double degree program shall be two years. Double degree students will spend the first (fall) and fourth (spring) semester at BSUM. The second and third semester will take place at USC.

In order to be awarded both degrees, students have to meet the requirements of both degrees. All requirements for the University of South Carolina degree will be met by courses taken at the University of South Carolina. Requirements for the MMM degree will be met by the courses taken at the University of South Carolina and courses taken at BSUM. Each institution will be the sole judge of whether a student has completed the requirement for the degree that it awards.

In answering the question in the Academic Program Actions (APA) form, the question regarding credit hours may need explanation. Students in the program take 30 credit hours at USC, all in the MIB program. Students in the program take 65 ECTS (approximately 32.5 credit hours) at Mannheim. The total number of credit hours to receive both degrees is 62.5 credit hours.

In answering the question on delivery location, 100% of the credit hours for the USC degree will be given at USC. To receive the Mannheim degree, students need to take 65 ECTS in Mannheim, which is slightly greater than 50% of the total for both degrees. Consequently, we have answered the question from the perspective of the two degrees, and the Department Chair has been notified and is a signatory to the APA.

Ph.D. in Biomedical Sciences

Academic Program Actions Proposal/Bulletin Change:
On behalf of the Biomedical Sciences Graduate Advisory Committee, I would like to request your consideration of a change to the Ph.D. in Biomedical Sciences Graduate Studies Bulletin entry. The Biomedical Sciences Ph.D. program is comprised of two concentrations or focus areas: 1) molecular and cellular biology and 2) neuroscience. We propose to modify the required core courses in the molecular and cellular biology concentration as indicated in the accompanying Bulletin Change Form. The requested change would remove Structure and Function of Nucleic Acids (BIOL 711) and Intermediary Metabolism (BIOL 718) from our list of required courses. In addition, the proposed modification would allow the students to take either of two biochemistry courses (BMSC 754 or BIOL 717) and either of two cellular biology-related courses (BMSC 702 or BIOL 714). In our opinion, these changes will provide greater flexibility for our program to meet the long-term educational needs of the Biomedical Sciences Ph.D. students. By reducing the total number of required core courses by two (elimination of BIOL 711 and BIOL 718), we can help the students to tailor the program of study to their career goals. In addition, by giving them the option to choose between two different advanced biochemistry-related courses (BMSC 754 or BIOL 717) and two different advanced cell biology-related courses (BMSC 702 or BIOL 714), they will have greater flexibility in scheduling elective courses, research rotations and teaching assistantships.

Graduate School Representatives: Dr. Briana Timmerman; Dale Moore and Janice Byrd

Provost Office Representative: Dr. Kristia Finnigan

Guests: Drs. Ed Dickey, Pamela Jewett, and Angela Murphy

NOTE: These minutes will become final on April 6, 2011, if not challenged.

1. Call to Order and Approval of Agenda (Francisco Sanchez)

   Dr. Sanchez called the meeting to order at 2:07 p.m.

2. Approval of minutes (Minutes of the January 24, 2011 meeting). The minutes were reviewed electronically and approved by the Council. [A copy of Minutes are on file at The Graduate School; also posted on The Graduate School website at http://gradschool.sc.edu/gradcouncil/minutes/]

3. Report of the Chair (Francisco Sanchez)

   - Dr. Sanchez lead a discussion about the list of priorities created by the Council at the March 22, 2010 meeting for enhancement of graduate education at USC requested by Dr. Kresovich, Vice President of Research and Graduate Education. After much discussion, the Council agreed that one priority needs to be identified and an action plan should be created so that progress can be made. Priority setting will be discussed and decided upon at subsequent Graduate Council meetings.

4. Report of the Interim Dean of The Graduate School (Timothy Mousseau)

- Dr. Mousseau advised the Council that the Travel Grant Award process is going well. A list of Travel Grant winners can be viewed online at http://gradschool.sc.edu/current/travgrant/list.asp and it is constantly updated by Simone Francis, Program Manager of the Graduate School.

- Dr. Mousseau reported on the 40th annual meeting of the Conference of Southern Graduate Schools held February 24 – 27, 2011 in Huntsville, Alabama. Dr. Mousseau shared that most of the other schools are also dealing with issues related to limited funding and lack of faculty. It is difficult for graduate programs to find committee members from other universities to serve as outside committee members on thesis and doctoral committees at other universities. Dr. Zimmerman contributed that it was a problem to find outside members for committees even within the university. Faculty members are increasingly reluctant to devote time to committee membership or other responsibilities considered service, rather than research or even teaching. It was suggested that an expert list of faculty members willing to serve on graduate committees in other departments and at other schools be generated. The Council offered their opinions and suggestions to Dr. Mousseau regarding this idea.

5. Report of the Associate Dean / Secretary of the Graduate Council (Nancy Zimmerman)

- Dr. Zimmerman advised the Council that Graduate Student Day is scheduled to be held on April 8, 2011 in The Russell House. Dr. Zimmerman informed that all Council members are expected to serve as judges and that Simone Francis will send them more information regarding their duties. More information regarding Graduate Student Day can be viewed online at http://gradschool.sc.edu/gsd/.

- Dr. Zimmerman announced that in preparation for the visit of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools (SACS) on March 29 – 31, the Graduate School is reviewing the Master’s Comprehensive Assessment procedures for all Master’s degrees to ensure each unit is complying with the change approved by the Council on September 27, 2010.

6. Report of the Graduate Student Association Representative (Drew Newton - Absent)

The Policy and Practices committee recommended the insertion of the following paragraph to the Graduate Studies Bulletin as part of the Course Enrollment sections. APPROVED

Text to be inserted:

Enrollment in Courses for Zero Credit

On rare occasions, a course may be listed as a zero credit course. The creation of zero credit courses is only permitted under exceptional circumstances. Once a student has taken a variable credit course for zero credit, s/he cannot subsequently enroll in the course for more than zero credit. A student must be enrolled in a degree program to register for a zero credit course; that is, no non-degree student will be allowed to register for a zero credit course. A student cannot enroll in a zero credit course for audit credit. Registration for a zero credit course is limited to students enrolled in that degree program and requires special permission of the department offering the course for students enrolled in other programs.

Academic Program Actions Proposal/Bulletin Change: APPROVED

Ph.D. in Elementary Education
On May 18, 2009, the Graduate Council approved the modification of the Ph.D. in Elementary Education to the Ph.D. in Teaching and Learning as well as the termination of the Ph.D. in Secondary Education.

In Fall 2009 when the Elementary Education program modification was reviewed by the SC Commission on Higher Education (CHE) staff for final approval external to USC, USC was required to submit the modification as a new program with the concurrent agreement to terminate both the Ph.D. in Elementary Education and the Ph.D. in Secondary Education.

The new Ph.D. in Teaching and Learning was approved on October 8, 2010 and USC, in Spring 2011, began enroll students to this degree. While Graduate Council approved a modification that would, in effect, terminate the Ph.D. in Elementary Education, no formal action to terminate that Ph.D. degree was ever taken. At the request of the Office of the Provost, we are taking that direct action now.

Faculty members teaching in the program may be more effectively reassigned to teach other courses. Students currently enrolled may continue until graduation. Course substitutions will be offered as necessary to satisfy degree and certification requirements.

Master of Accountancy
We propose to remove ACCT 754 International Taxation from being a required course for the MACC Tax Track.

The reason for this change is that most of our MACC Tax Track students accept jobs with accounting firms in positions that have little exposure to clients with significant international tax issues. We are now offering two possible elective options: (1) a more extensive International Accounting (ACCT 730) option that will cover a greater range of international topics while still including some related to international tax; and (2) the International Taxation course (ACCT 754) will still be a course on the books for the possibility to offer it during a given semester. The change in the required course will allow for students who are expecting to handle international accounting issues to still obtain knowledge, while allowing those who are not expecting to have significant exposure to international accounting issues to focus on a different area.

Master of Human Resources

The changes to the business foundation course list for the MHR Program are proposed because of the current uncertainty of offerings of specific courses in any given semester that provide appropriate analytic and quantitative content for our students, and to ensure that students have a program of study based on their particular background and requirements. Changes to the Human Resource electives list are proposed because some are more suitable for business foundation coursework, and one is not offered at an appropriate time of year.

ARNOLD SCHOOL OF PUBLIC HEALTH
Exercise Science/Physical Therapy

Academic Program Actions Proposal/Bulletin Change:
APPROVED

Doctor of Physical Therapy
The faculty of the physical therapy program are requesting the following curricular changes:

(1) Clinical experiences (i.e. PHYT 850, 851, 852 and 853) be changed from pass/fail to standard grading. This is being requested to allow greater flexibility in the grading of these experiences and to better differentiate student performance.

(2) An increase in credit hours (1 credit hour) for PHYT 850 Clinical Experience Physical Therapy I. As part of the continuing assessment of the clinical education component of the curriculum, clinical instructors and students have requested an increase in contact hours associated with this experience. With this in mind the contact hours for this experience have changed from 192 to 280.

(3) A decrease in credit hours (1 credit hour) for PHYT 740 Professional Issues in Physical Therapy to represent the decrease in the contact hours of this class.

(4) The program has been notified that the School of Medicine will no longer be able to accommodate our students in their MCBA 701 Human Embryology and Gross Anatomy course (8 credit hours). It is requested that this course be dropped from our program of study and replaced with two proposed courses PHYT 701 Human Musculoskeletal and Gross Anatomy (5 credit hours to be offered in the fall year 01) and PHYT 702 Musculoskeletal and Gross Anatomy Dissection (3 credit hours to be offered in the spring year 01). The program currently has faculty qualified to teach the proposed courses. This action requires that BIOS 700 Introduction to Biostatistics be moved in the program of study from spring semester to fall year 01.

Ph.D. in Electrical Engineering – Degree Requirements
Remove ELCT 563, ELCT 564, ELCT 572 as required core courses for the Ph.D. program
Doctoral students entering the Ph.D. program often have already taken courses similar to the required core courses mentioned above from somewhere else. Thus, a large number of memos needed to be written for these students substituting another course in place of the core courses. To avoid this problem, and give the students larger flexibility in choosing courses suited for them, the Electrical Engineering Graduate Committee and the Faculty decided that ELCT 563, ELCT 564, and ELCT 572 would no longer be required core courses for the Ph.D. program. Instead PhD students will take 9 hours of electives agreed upon by their advisor.

[Effective: Fall 2011]

Academic Program Actions Proposal/Bulletin Change: APPROVED

Ph.D. in Electrical Engineering – GRE Requirement
The change is requested so that the bulletin accurately reflects the current requirement that all applicants to the graduate program in the EE department need to take the GRE exam.

[Effective: Summer I 2011]
Academic Program Actions Proposal/Bulletin Change:
APPROVED

Ph.D. in Electrical Engineering – Research Field Requirements
The change is requested so that the Electrical Engineering entry in the Graduate Studies Bulletin will accurately reflect the current Graduate School requirement that is actually in place now. This will help avoid possible confusion among Ph.D. students, as well as relevant staff and faculty.

Justification for increasing the hours in the research field from 12 to 15: As per resolution of the Faculty Senate the required core course ELCT 530 was dropped from the graduate curriculum in 2010. In place of ELCT 530, hours in the research field was increased by 3 hours from 12 to 15. This change was made in one place of the bulletin but not in the other. So, we are requesting the change in the BCH form from 12 to 15 credit hours.

TABLED UNTIL NEXT MEETING

M.S. in Biomedical Sciences

We propose to modify the required core courses in the Biomedical Sciences M.S. program as indicated on the accompanying Bulletin Change Form to allow one of several biochemistry courses (BMSC 707, BMSC 754 or BIOL 717) and one of several graduate level cell biology courses (BMSC 702, BMSC 708 or BIOL 714) to fulfill the core curriculum requirements. The requested change would also remove Structure and Function of Nucleic Acids (BIOL 711) from our list of required courses. In our opinion, these changes will provide greater flexibility for our program to meet the long-term educational needs of the Biomedical Sciences M.S. students but maintain the rigor of this program. In addition, by giving students the option to choose between different advanced biochemistry-related courses (BMSC 707, BMSC 754 or BIOL 717) and different advanced cell biology-related courses (BMSC 702, BMSC 708 or BIOL 714), they will have greater flexibility in scheduling elective courses, research rotations and teaching assistantships. This will also allow students who complete the Biomedical Certificate program to move seamlessly into the Biomedical Sciences M.S. program.

Academic Program Actions Proposal/Bulletin Change: APPROVED

M.A. in Media Arts

Changes to the M.A. in Media Arts address the following concerns:

1. Language changes simplify and clarify the descriptions and titles and update language to be current with direction of the discipline. Language changes also align the program with the other arts practices in the Department of Art—i.e., changing the word "production" to "practice" identifies that course content may be relevant to students in Studio Art.

2. Addition of 700 level courses in specific media topics follows the changes recently made to the undergraduate degree and enables graduate students to enroll in a graduate-only section (half the credits towards the MA must be at the 700 level).

3. Deletion of courses addresses change in the direction of the program away from corporate media and towards a creative media arts practice.

Note: The graduate program in Media Arts was changed from an M.M.A. to an M.A. in 2010.

Graduate Certificate in Play Therapy

Over the past ten years, we have seen a growth in the interest in play therapy among mental health professionals. Play therapy is a treatment approach that was initially designed to treat children but has been effective with adolescents and adults faced with trauma or addiction. The number of counseling professionals using play therapy has grown so much in South Carolina; there is now a state branch of the national Association for Play Therapy (APT) which is the organization that registers play therapists.

There is significant enough interest in this area that the certificate program should generate at least 25 new students per year to the Counseling program.

The APT promotes training of mental health professionals who already hold Master's degrees (and higher) in counseling, social work, psychology and related professions. To become a Registered Play Therapist (RPT, mental health professionals must complete 150 hours of post graduate degree practice specifically in play therapy.
from an approved university. The Counselor Education program at USC is proposing a graduate certificate program in play therapy to meet the formal course requirements and some of the experiential requirements for those interested in the pursuing the RPT. This program will also appeal to current students in Counselor Education as well as licensed mental health professionals, school counselors, and others who work with children. It is expected that at least 25% of the counseling students will be interested in this certificate.

M.A. in French

The teaching of languages has in the last two decades undergone a tremendous transformation. Teaching languages and language pedagogy is among the most important goals of our Department. The majority of our students in the M.A. program in French seek careers in teaching. While FORL 776 has been offered in the past as a required course for all graduate teaching assistants without counting toward the total credit hours, the faculty has voted to make FORL 776 as part of the MPOS. We as a faculty have come to realize that the course teaches students to become good and effective teachers. FORL 776’s focus on pedagogical theory and practice addresses ways to maximize learning outcomes, deal with problem students, communicate strategies and goals to students, and employ effective class management. FORL 776 also includes pedagogical strategies for teaching literary or visual texts to students and for maximizing the use of available and developing technology in teaching.

The DLLC faculty has decided to require FORL 776 of all graduate teaching assistants, and allow it to count toward their degrees. Graduate teaching assistants who have substantial prior teaching experience and who can demonstrate ample pedagogical skills will be exempt from the course.

Students in the M.A. program in French who are not graduate teaching assistants may take FORL 776 as an elective in the degree.

NOTIFICATION: Because of the timeline for accreditation, the Graduate School approved the following Bulletin change administratively and the changes was endorsed by Graduate Council:

Rationale for Name Change Courses and Bulletin Program of Study:
In order to meet federal mandate and accreditation requirements, the Program in Special Education needs to change all reference to Mental Retardation to Intellectual Disabilities.

Federal Law signed in November, 2010
Public Law No. 111-256 (P.L. 111-256), also known as Rosa’s Law amends the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act, the Americans with Disabilities Act, Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, and several other federal laws to strike variations of the term “mentally retarded” and replace them with variations of the term “intellectual disability.”

M.E.E.R.M. – Comprehensive Exam

The university requires clearer definitions of how the comprehensive assessment will be applied to graduate students in M.S. programs. We have revisited the M.E.E.R.M. graduate bulletin listing and have found that the current definition of the comprehensive assessment does not exist. We have suggested wording to be added to the M.E.E.R.M. bulletin listing to cover the comprehensive assessment for students in both the thesis and non-thesis programs.

Ph.D. in Chemical Engineering
The Department of Chemical Engineering faculty have voted in favor of reducing the number of 3-credit graduate course required for the Ph.D. degree from ten to eight. Reasons for this change in the Ph.D. program include:

1. to make it identical to that already required for the M.S. degree;
2. to place more emphasis on research; and
3. to keep it in line with many peer institutions, some of which do not formally require ANY courses for the Ph.D. degree.

It is anticipated that doing so will make USC's program in Chemical Engineering more attractive to highly-qualified American students.

M.S. in Biomedical Sciences
We propose to modify the required core courses in the Biomedical Sciences M.S. program as indicated on the accompanying Bulletin Change Form to allow one of several biochemistry courses (BMSC 707, BMSC 754 or BIOL717) and one of several graduate level cell biology courses (BMSC 702, BMSC 708 or BIOL 714) to fulfill the core curriculum requirements. The requested change would also remove Structure and Function of Nucleic Acids (BIOL 711) from our list of required courses. In our opinion, these changes will provide greater flexibility for our program to meet the long-term educational needs of the Biomedical Sciences M.S. students but maintain the rigor of this program. In addition, by giving students the option to choose between different advanced biochemistry-related courses (BMSC 707, BMSC 754 or BIOL 717) and different advanced cell biology-related courses (BMSC 702, BMSC 708 or BIOL 714), they will have greater flexibility in scheduling elective courses, research rotations and teaching assistantships. This will also allow students who complete the Biomedical Certificate program to move seamlessly into the Biomedical Sciences M.S. program.

M.S. in Biomedical Sciences – Comprehensive Assessment

A. Definition

1. A graduate assistant is a student enrolled in the Graduate School who assists, under faculty supervision, in the conduct of the University’s total education program by providing teaching, research or other services. The categories for appointment are as follows: Graduate Staff Assistant—provides administrative assistance; Graduate Research Assistant—assists faculty or staff in conducting research; Graduate Instructional Assistant—assists with instruction, but cannot be listed as the instructor of record and must have attended a series of workshops required for complete training for Graduate Teaching Assistants and Graduate Instructional Assistants sponsored by the Graduate School; Graduate Teaching Assistant—functions as an instructor of record for undergraduate courses, must attend a series of workshops required for complete training for Graduate Teaching Assistants and Graduate Instructional Assistants sponsored by the Graduate School, and have completed 18 semester hours of graduate course work in the discipline to be taught.

2. In addition to fulfilling functions that would otherwise be performed by regular faculty and staff members, graduate assistants also receive valuable practical experience as they prepare for future teaching, research, or administrative responsibilities.

3. Graduate assistants are students who are special part-time employees of the University and are paid by the University’s Payroll Department. In addition to receiving a stipend, non-South Carolina residents who are graduate assistants are assessed the in-state rate for tuition purposes. For the Fall and Spring terms, graduate assistants providing the above-mentioned services to the University will have a portion or all of their tuition paid by their hiring units. The tuition portion of a graduate assistant’s compensation will be established by the hiring unit as a credit with the Bursar’s Office against which tuition will be charged each semester. Students are responsible for any portion of their tuition and fees not covered by the employing unit and/or their home department.

4. The Dean of the Graduate School is responsible for the implementation of these policies and regulations, and any deviations must have the Dean’s prior written approval. These regulations apply to all graduate assistantships, regardless of funding source.

B. Hours and Fees
1. The minimum number of hours of work required per week is ten, and the maximum is twenty. The minimum and maximum stipends will be published annually by the Graduate School. A graduate assistant’s salary should be appropriate to the total number of hours being worked. The minimum enrollment requirement is six graduate hours per semester and the maximum is the number set by the student’s college.

2. Different stipend regulations apply to summer graduate assistantships. Non-South Carolina residents who are graduate assistants during the preceding Spring term will be charged in-state tuition rates. Graduate assistants must enroll for at least one hour during the summer term(s) in which they are appointed.

3. Fee structures for graduate assistants vary among colleges as approved by the Board of Trustees. The current tuition for each college is available from the Office of the Bursar on the University web (http://www.sc.edu/bursar/studentfees.html). Fee structures are published by the Bursar’s Office annually when changes occur.

4. Graduate assistants who are appointed after the first 20 days of a semester or after the first ten days of a Summer term (dates published annually by the Graduate School) will not be coded as such for tuition or other purposes during the term of appointment. Non-South Carolina residents who receive timely appointments as graduate assistants, but whose duties terminate before the midterm date of the term appointed, will be billed as out-of-state for tuition purposes.

C. Fellowships or Traineeships

1. In some instances, service as a Graduate Teaching Assistant may be required of a holder of a fellowship or a traineeship. Such service, which might involve teaching one course each semester, should be to the benefit of the graduate student’s academic objective and not unduly delay the student’s graduation.

2. The holder of an assistantship may receive additional aid in the form of a fellowship or traineeship requiring no additional duties.

D. Outside Employment

Graduate assistants are expected to devote full-time effort to their studies and their assistantship responsibilities. They are, therefore, discouraged from having additional employment on or off campus, during the term(s) for which they are appointed. In addition, regular University employees are not eligible for assistantships.

E. Outside Funding

Graduate assistantships funded by nonprofit organizations or State agencies other than USC are subject to approval by the Dean of the Graduate School. Students appointed to such positions will work for the sponsoring organizations, but will be under the general supervision of their departmental or college faculty, and their duties should be related to their academic programs. These appointments must be approved in advance. Graduate assistantships funded by organizations external to the University are considered to be grants and are administered by the Office of Sponsored Awards Management (SAM). Consistent with I.A.3 above, externally-funded assistantships must include funds to cover a portion of, or all, of a student’s tuition. Any portion of the tuition not covered by the external sponsoring agency must be paid by the student’s academic unit or by the student.

F. MD/JD/PharmD Students

Students in the MD program are not eligible for graduate assistantships. JD students are eligible for appointments as research assistants or staff assistants in the School of Law. JD students enrolled in dual degree programs may be eligible for appointment as graduate assistants in schools or colleges other than the School of Law. JD students who are not South Carolina residents and who are appointed as research assistants or staff assistants are eligible for in-state Law School tuition rates if approved by the Law School Dean. Subject to the approval of the Executive Dean of the South Carolina College of Pharmacy, students in the PharmD program may be appointed as research assistants, staff assistants, teaching assistants, or instructional assistants. PharmD students appointed as teaching or instructional assistants must complete workshops sponsored by the Graduate School.

II. Procedures Admission Status

To be eligible for appointment as a graduate assistant, a student must be fully or conditionally admitted to a degree program.

B. Employment Regulations

1. A graduate assistant’s stipend must be offered for the academic year, semester, or summer term, rather than an hourly basis. The academic year begins August 16th and ends May 15th.

2. Summer research or staff appointments may begin May 16th and may continue until August 15th, but summer teaching or instructional assistantships are normally coterminous with session dates of the summer terms.

3. It is the responsibility of the department to discuss work schedules and expectations for performance and attendance with graduate assistants when they are appointed. Programs are responsible for monitoring that student work hours do not exceed the 20 hour maximum allowed by this policy. Normally, graduate assistants are not expected to work during examination periods and school holidays, however, graduate assistants with teaching/grading responsibilities might typically be required to work during examination periods, but the Programs should advise students of those responsibilities during the initial discussion of work schedules and expectations and are expected to be sensitive to the graduate assistants’ personal examination schedules in defining assistantship schedule and work expectations. Graduate assistants who fail to perform their duties may be terminated from their appointment.

4. It is the responsibility of the department to provide performance assessment criteria and do conduct periodic performance review of graduate assistants. Graduate assistants who fail to perform their duties may be terminated from their appointment.

4.5. Graduate assistants do not accrue sick leave, so work missed due to illness should be made up.
Doctoral Program Committees

Each doctoral student will have three academic committees during the course of doctoral study, the Advisory Committee, the Written and Oral Comprehensive Examination Committee, and the Dissertation and Dissertation Defense Committee. Each of the three committees has an assigned function and must conform to policies of The Graduate School on doctoral committee membership. Membership on doctoral committees, excluding the outside member, is limited to regular members of the graduate faculty and those who hold special term appointments with approval to serve as a regular member of a doctoral committee. Each doctoral committee must have no more than one outside member. The three committees may or may not have the same members.

As defined in The Faculty Manual, regular members of the graduate faculty on the Columbia campus shall include the president, provost, dean of The Graduate School; associate dean of The Graduate School; and chairs of academic departments offering degrees conferred by The Graduate School. Faculty members holding the Ph.D. or other terminal degree in their respective field of study are considered to become regular members of the graduate faculty upon appointment to a tenured or tenure-track position at the University's Columbia campus.

Faculty members and scholars not otherwise eligible for regular membership on the graduate faculty may be appointed to term appointments. Term appointments are appropriate for USC faculty in the School of Law and the School of Medicine, emeriti USC professors, clinical and research faculty, faculty members at other institutions (including other campuses of the USC system), and others holding an appropriate terminal degree or other credentials that justify appointment as a regular committee member. Term appointment nominations for regular (not outside) membership on a doctoral committee are made to the dean of The Graduate School by the chair and dean of an academic unit using a term nomination (G-TAN) form. A database of persons approved to term appointments as graduate faculty, including any restrictions to those appointments, is maintained by The Graduate School.

Doctoral Committees

Doctoral Advisory Committee

The Advisory Committee is appointed by the program by the end of the first term of enrollment and should include two or three faculty from the student’s academic program. This purpose of the Advisory Committee is to provide initial advisement of the student, guide academic planning and research efforts, and construct the program of study to file with The Graduate School. The Advisory Committee roster does not need to be submitted to the dean of The Graduate School for approval.

Doctoral Exam and Dissertation Committee

Each doctoral student will have a doctoral exam and dissertation committee (hereafter called the doctoral committee) during the course of doctoral study to serve multiple functions: preparation and evaluation of the written and oral comprehensive examinations, supervision and support of the dissertation research, and the dissertation defense. This committee has assigned functions and must conform to policies of The Graduate School on doctoral committee membership. Each doctoral committee must have no more than one outside member. Programs may define separate doctoral committees as needed for separate functions such as comprehensive examination, recital, and dissertation; these separate committees must all be approved by the Graduate School.

At minimum, the doctoral committee 1) administers the oral and written portions of the comprehensive examination; and 2) directs the research and preparation of the student’s dissertation, examines the student on the content of the dissertation, directs the student to complete documents required for graduation, and signs forms required for graduation. Other functions may be defined by the program.

Membership on doctoral committees, excluding the outside member, is limited to regular members of the graduate faculty and those who hold special
Persons with term appointments to the graduate faculty may serve on, but may not chair, doctoral committees.

Note: Major points that should be noted with regard to committee membership:

- A majority of the committee composition must be regular members of the Graduate School faculty.
- A doctoral committee member whose Graduate School faculty eligibility expires (e.g., emeritus faculty) while a student is still pursuing the degree may continue to serve until the student completes the program or the committee is dissolved.

To continue to serve in the capacity as chair or regular member is a special exception. This request (with a valid academic justification) must have the endorsements of the academic program faculty, chair of the department, graduate director, and academic dean. Once these approvals are affirmed, the petition is presented to the dean of The Graduate School for final approval. Otherwise, a change in the committee composition must be presented to the dean of The Graduate School replacing the now ineligible member.

The outside member may be a regular member of the graduate faculty in another department/program at USC, a faculty member from another institution, or a qualified professional from the private or governmental sectors. The outside member is nominated by the academic unit to the dean of The Graduate School. Approval is based on the nominee’s qualifications provided on a resume or curriculum vitae and relevance to the student’s major field or research as explained in the justification submitted by the graduate director of the program with the nomination. Outside members do not need to have term appointments to serve on the committee.

This purpose of the Advisory Committee is to provide initial advisement of the student, guide academic planning and research efforts, and construct the program of study to file with The Graduate School. Often the Advisory Committee also oversees the qualifying examination.

Major points that should be noted with regard to committee membership:

- The committee must include no fewer than four members, one of graduate director of the program notifies the dean of The Graduate School when the student has passed the qualifying examination, has been fully admitted to the doctoral program, has an approved doctoral program of study on file, and has been nominated to doctoral candidacy by the program. The Advisory Committee roster does not need to be submitted to the dean of The Graduate School for approval.

The Written and Oral Comprehensive Examination Committee administers the oral and written portions of the comprehensive examination. The committee for the comprehensive examination must include no fewer than four members, at least one of whom must be from outside the student’s program. The roster of the Written and Oral Comprehensive Examination Committee is submitted to the dean of The Graduate School for approval on the Doctoral Committee Appointment Request (G-DCA) form. The graduate director of the program provides written notification to the dean of The Graduate School that the student has passed the comprehensive examination.

The Dissertation and Dissertation Defense Committee directs the research and preparation of the student’s dissertation, examines the student on the content of the dissertation, directs the student to complete documents required for graduation, and signs forms required for graduation.
