6. Report of the Graduate Student Association representative (John Knox is excused)

   Dr. Solomon announced that his committee received requests to consider four items.

   Dr. Solomon shared a handout for council members to review. He first addressed the topic of PTEA—an alternative assessment of English speaking and writing skills. He shared the positive aspects of this foreign language skills test which include the test score processes, levels and costs, that it is a computerized test and can be taken world-wide; and, listed universities already implementing and benefiting from PTEA.

   Dr. Solomon explained that the levels are proposed for undergraduate, graduate and independent levels. Then, he opened the floor to questions and comments.

   Discussion regarding the particulars of the test followed. It was identified that the recommendation comes by way of Alexandra Rowe, Director of English Programs for Internationals; and, she has provided substantial background research in this area.

   Dr. Mitchell shared that The Graduate School would accept scores on any of the three tests; however, if one individual program believed one specific test to be a better indicator for their program, they would have the opportunity to choose to accept scores from their test of choice. In much the same way that GRE or other tests are elements on which we have published standardized expectations from minimally acceptable scores for The Graduate School, individual programs can restrict which tests are available for any given program, and what test scores can be higher or more demanding but can't be lower.

   This proposal is not intended to remove flexibility and options for departments but to provide better accessibility to another indicator by a popular and well-researched test of foreign language for non-English speaking performance on English so that students from a broader spectrum have access to another way to demonstrate their competence.

   Dr. Solomon presented the following items for discussion regarding the addition of the Ombudsman; and, a clarification of the grievances process in relation to academic policies.

   The changes addressed are as follows:

   - Renaming the "Petitions and Appeals Committee" to "Grievances, Appeals and Petitions Committee".
   - Wording to be changed to "the Dean of Graduate Studies would be designated to determine whether a grievance that has come to The Graduate School should be forwarded to the (newly named committee) Grievances, Appeals and Petitions Committee"; Modification to the charge of that committee to reflect the infusion of an explicit policy to address the grievance policy of The Graduate School.
   - Modification of policy and procedure, regarding grade changes, to be more consistent with how this process is handled on the graduate level.
The APPROVED changes are:

- Use of the PTEA test for foreign language students.
- Renaming of the Petitions and Appeals Committee to Grievances, Appeals and Petitions Committee.
- Modification of policy and procedure, regarding grade changes.

The PENDING change is:

- The wording changes and language changes are tabled but will be returned to council with revisions.

Dr. Elfenbein shared that the committee met to discuss summer dissertation fellowships. She advised that these fellowships will no longer be available due to the advent of the SPARC grants and the depletion of the funding source for summer dissertation fellowships; however, three students were funded for this cycle. Regarding Presidential Fellowships, over twenty students were funded.

Dr. Elfenbein will share the new Presidential Fellowship list with council in the near future.

Changes to Bulletin language

From:  Political Science, M.A.  (33)

The Master of Arts degree with a major in political science is specifically designed to provide knowledge of political science and the professional skills necessary to pursue successful careers in governmental, quasi-public, private, and political organizations.

Degree Requirements (33 Hours)

The candidate for the M.A. must pursue a course of study that will normally include a minimum of 27 semester hours of course work, and 6 hours of thesis credit. Competency in one foreign language or in the use of quantitative methodologies, as well as a thesis, is required for the M.A. degree. Students must also complete one graduate course in statistics or demonstrate equivalent competence. For more detailed information on this degree, visit our Web site at: www.cas.sc.edu/poli/grad/gradintroMA.html.

To:  Political Science, M.A. (30-36)

Students are generally not admitted into this program. It is available only for students originally enrolled in the Ph.D. program in Political Science who opt not to complete the Ph.D. or doctoral students who have completed comprehensive examinations for the Ph.D. degree. The Master of Arts in Political Science is specifically designed to provide a knowledge of political science and the professional skills necessary to pursue successful careers in governmental, quasi-public, private and political organizations, and technical and two-year college level teaching.

Degree Requirements (30-36 Hours)
Normally, the master's candidate will follow the non-thesis track, which involves completing 30 hours of substantive course work and six additional hours of substantive course work to replace the thesis requirement. Alternatively, master's candidates may pursue a thesis track option, which involves completing 24 hours of substantive course work plus six hours of thesis credit for a total of 30 hours. The program may require more hours in the event of deficiencies. An oral defense is required of master's candidates who choose the thesis option. Non-thesis track/additional course-work master's candidates may fulfill the comprehensive examination requirement in one of two ways: 1) successful completion of the Ph.D. comprehensive examination process fulfills the MA comprehensive examination process; 2) completion of a comprehensive examination in one subfield of Political Science to the satisfaction of a committee of the subfield selected in consultation with the Director of Graduate Studies. Competency in one foreign language or political research methodology is required for the M.A. degree. Students must complete two graduate courses in statistics to demonstrate competency in research methodology.
