J.D. PROGRAM

Hanging in South Carolina Law's grand lobby is Dale Chihuly's Burnished Bronze and Garnet Chandelier, 2017, 11.5' x 10.5' x 9.5'.

Putting Passion into Practice The Academic Program

The Juris Doctor (J.D.) program is a three-year, full-time program requiring 90 credits.

YOUR FIRST-YEAR courses cover basic legal principles and prepare you for more specialized courses your second and third years. First-year courses are:

- Civil Procedure
- Constitutional Law
- Contracts
- Criminal Law
- Property
- Torts
- Introduction to the Legal Profession
- Legal Research, Analysis and Writing I & II

UPPER-LEVEL ELECTIVES encourage you to follow your passion or find a new one. We offer more than 100 upper-level electives in areas such as Business and Commercial Law, Children and Family Law, Environmental Law, Health Law, Intellectual Property, International and Comparative Law, Labor and Employment Law, Litigation, Probate and Estate Planning, Real Estate Law, Sports & Entertainment Law, Taxation, and Technology Law.

Our Children's Law Center and academic concentration connect students with practitioners and policy makers working at the heart of legal issues in this critical area of law and practice.

Faculty

South Carolina Law employs more than 50 full-time and numerous adjunct professors, including judges and practicing attorneys. Their expertise and insight provide familiarity and context to the most current and pressing legal issues.

Experiential Learning

South Carolina Law offers a variety of hands-on learning opportunities.

CLINICS offer 2L and 3L students the opportunity to represent actual clients under the supervision of full-time faculty.

Clinics include:

- Carolina Health Advocacy Medicolegal Partnership (CHAMPS)
- Criminal Practice
- Domestic Violence
- Education Rights
- Nonprofit Organizations
- Veterans Legal Clinic
- Youth Defender

EXTERNSHIPS allow students to gain legal experience, academic credit, and develop valuable professional connections while closely observing the work of attorneys in those settings. Externships are available through federal and state agencies, such as the Centers for Disease Control (CDC) and the South Carolina Attorney General's Office, as well as in corporate legal offices, legislative committees, and federal and state court, in the following areas:

- Administrative Law
- Children's Law
- Criminal Law
- Family & Small Business
- In-House Counsel
- Judicial
- Public Interest

120 EXTERNSHIP
OPPORTUNITIES
AVAILABLE EACH YEAR

CAPSTONE COURSES encourage you to apply the skills you've learned by working with lawyers, judges, professors, and peers in a simulated practice environment in such areas as Federal Criminal Practice, Small Business Organizations, Civil Litigation, and Real Estate Transactions.

SUMMER PUBLIC INTEREST INTERNSHIPS allow students to apply to work with organizations assisting South Carolina community members unable to obtain legal assistance on their own. Since public interest opportunities are often unpaid, the law school secured dedicated funding for student stipends, exhibiting our commitment to community service.

PRO BONO PROGRAM is the first entirely voluntary Pro Bono Program in the nation and offers students the opportunity to get involved in more than 25 service projects, strengthening professional skills and building contacts while giving back. Because it is voluntary, the program emphasizes how pro bono services are an inherent part of a lawyer's professional identity.

Combination and Dual-Degree Programs

Enhance your degree by choosing from 12 combination or dual-degree programs available at USC, including the highly ranked International MBA program at the Darla Moore School of Business, and in collaboration with the nationally recognized environmental program at Vermont Law School. Combine your J.D. with a master's in:

- Accountancy
- Business Administration
- Criminology & Criminal Justice
- Earth and Environmental Resources Management
- Economics
- Environmental Law and Policy
- Health Services Policy and Management
- Human Resources
- International Business Administration
- Mass Communication
- Public Administration
- Social Work (Vermont Law)

25+ STUDENT-LED PRO BONO PROJECTS HELPING THE COLUMBIA COMMUNITY

Named in honor of the late Honorable Karen J. Williams, the 300-seat courtroom hosts jury trials and appellate hearings in addition to classes and mock trial and moot court competitions.

USC'S MOCK TRIAL TEAM
WON THE 2023 CRIMSON CUP HOSTED BY THE HARVARD LAW SCHOOL MOCK TRIAL ASSOCIATION AND HAS RANKED IN FORDHAM LAW'S TOP 10 TEAMS FOR TRIAL COMPETITION PERFORMANCE SINCE 2016.

MOOT COURT AND MOCK TRIAL programs provide opportunities to perfect your oral advocacy skills in either an appellate or trial setting at both regional and national competitions.

The courtyard provides outdoor space for students adjacent to the Nelson Mullins Student Commons and the Counselor's Café.

Collaborations and Partnerships

As a South Carolina Law student, you can choose from an array of programs designed to complement your formal classroom learning, build skills, and enhance competencies to advance your career.

THE CAROLINA LAW RESEARCH SCHOLARS PROGRAM enables eligible South Carolina residents access to our most robust scholarship program. Full tuition is offered for the 1L year along with fee waivers for the 2L and 3L years. Scholars also earn a stipend while engaged in research or projects with law faculty or other legal professionals. To be considered, candidates must have an LSAT score of 163 or higher and a 3.70 UGPA or higher as reflected in the CAS Report.

THE CHILDREN'S LAW CENTER offers classes, research opportunities, and training for students, practitioners, policy makers, and professionals involved in children's safety and well-being. The center prioritizes hands-on experiences, connecting you with experts in their field.

THE NATIONAL ADVOCACY CENTER houses the U.S. Department of Justice's premiere training facility and is located directly on the university campus. South Carolina Law frequently collaborates with the NAC, offering our students access to national and international experts that can't be found anywhere else..

THE UNIVERSITY'S RULE OF LAW COLLABORATIVE works with national and international organizations to strengthen the rule of law around the world. Selected students participate directly in the work of the Collaborative.

THE NELSON MULLINS RILEY & SCARBOROUGH CENTER ON PROFESSIONALISM enriches student experiences through mentoring, research, and events that promote professionalism, civic leadership, and public service in the practice of law.

Preparation for Practice

UNIFORM BAR EXAMINATION is a uniformly administered and graded bar examination with a portable score that can be used to apply for bar admission in other participating states or jurisdictions. More than two-thirds of states in the U.S., including South Carolina, have adopted the UBE. It is designed to test knowledge and skills that every lawyer should be able to demonstrate prior to becoming licensed to practice law. For more information about bar examinations, visit the National Conference of Bar Examiners' website or contact the bar admission agency in the state where you expect to practice.

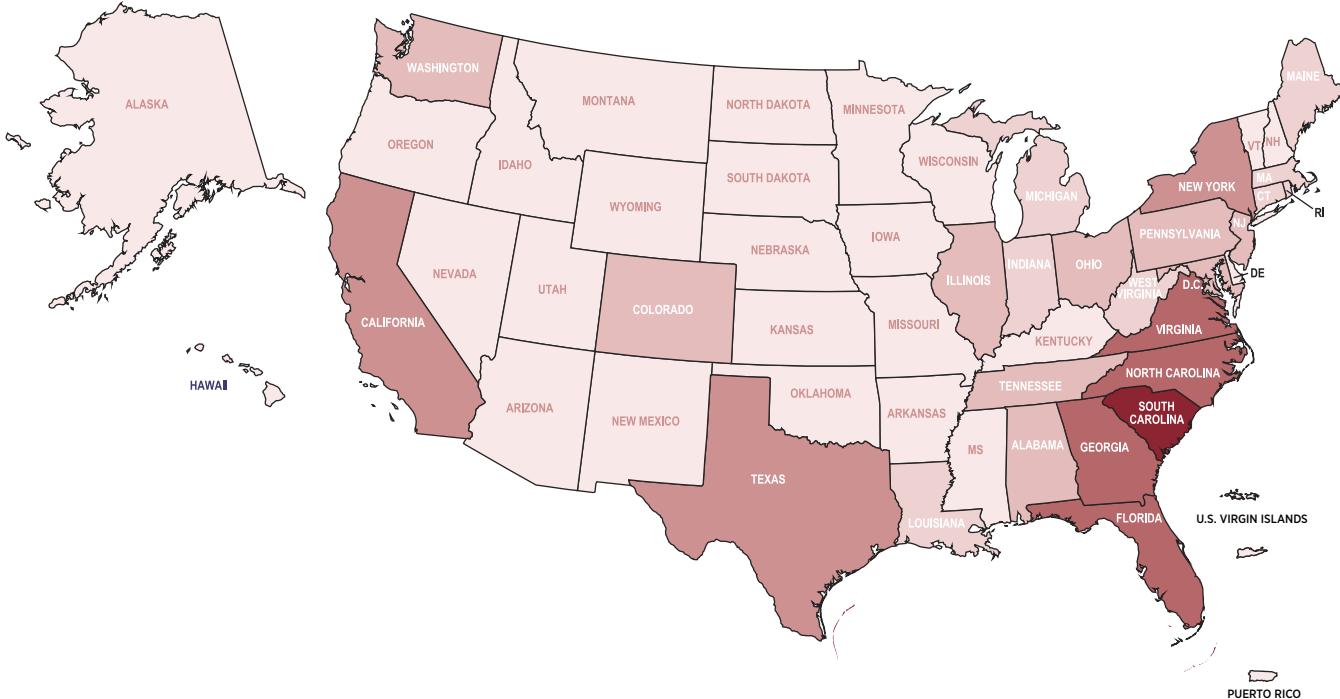

JOURNALS are industry publications run by student editors who select and edit articles submitted by legal scholars. Consider joining one of our four scholarly journals:

South Carolina Law Review
American Bar Association Real Property, Trust & Estate Law Journal
South Carolina Journal of International Law & Business
Journal of Law & Education

LAW STUDENT ORGANIZATIONS connect you with like-minded members of the law and university communities, strengthening your interpersonal and leadership skills. We have more than 30 student organizations, allowing you to explore any aspect of the law that interests you.

Alumni Connections

Although most of our 12,000-plus alumni are based in the United States, South Carolina Law graduates can be found throughout the world, mentoring and employing students long after earning their J.D. The shades of garnet on the map correspond to the concentration of our alumni across the United States.

South Carolina Law prepares lawyer-leaders to serve their communities through hands-on, experiential learning. Our graduates transition seamlessly into successful careers in business, government, and private practice around the country.

Apply for Admission to South Carolina Law

All applications are submitted through the Law School Admission Council's website, lsac.org. Applicants must create an account, take the LSAT or submit your scores on the GRE or GMAT – and sign up for LSAC's CAS. Enrollment requirements specific to South Carolina Law are available at law.sc.edu. Please contact the Admissions Office if you need an application fee waiver to apply.

The University of South Carolina does not discriminate in educational or employment opportunities on the basis of race, sex, gender, gender identity, transgender status, age, color, religion, national origin, disability, sexual orientation, genetics, protected veteran status, pregnancy, childbirth or related medical conditions.

USC and Columbia

Columbia is the state capital and one of South Carolina's largest cities, yet it retains a small-town charm. The School of Law anchors Columbia's legal corridor and is located just steps from the State House, the South Carolina Supreme Court, the South Carolina Court of Appeals, the National Advocacy Center, and law firms large and small.

Columbia is rapidly growing into a regional hub for corporate relocation, college and professional students, and tourism. The city is relaxed and friendly, without pretense. Areas like the Vista, Five Points, and Main Street all border campus and provide shopping and entertainment, while nearby lakes, rivers, and parks provide recreational activities to keep you grounded. Local attractions include the Congaree National Park, the Riverbanks Zoo and Botanical Garden, and Lake Murray.

THE UNIVERSITY OF SOUTH CAROLINA IS THE PALMETTO STATE'S FLAGSHIP UNIVERSITY.

The University of South Carolina attracts and retains students from all over the country and the world. The USC system educates more South Carolinians than any other institution in the state. The vibrant university community includes just over 42,000 students – hailing from all 50 states and more than 100 foreign countries – enrolled in highly regarded undergraduate, honors, graduate, and professional programs. South Carolina also has the Carnegie Foundation's top-tier designation for research activity and community engagement, reflecting its dedication to academic excellence.

CAREER AND PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT

A student's success in the job search process is enhanced by self-awareness and active engagement in career exploration activities. South Carolina Law's Office of Career and Professional Development emphasizes individualized career planning to help students discover opportunities, choose satisfying jobs, envision a career pathway, and create strategies to reach their goals. Our team of professionals has years of experience in law practice, in the court system, and in the career and professional development of law students.
