Staff Attorney

The South Carolina Environmental Law Project (SCELP) is now accepting applications for a staff attorney at our main office in Georgetown, SC. The staff attorney will work with SCELP’s team of four attorneys on litigation and legal advocacy in state and federal courts and before state and federal administrative agencies.

SCELP was founded in 1987 to meet the critical need for specialized non-profit legal services for environmental protection in South Carolina. SCELP is a non-profit public interest environmental law firm that utilizes the legal system to ensure protections for and conservation of our state’s natural resources. SCELP has a main office in Georgetown and satellite offices in Greenville and Beaufort.

We are seeking a committed and energetic person with strong analytical, research and interpersonal skills to work with SCELP’s executive director and staff attorneys. The attorney will perform a range of tasks including: conducting strategic case and issue assessments; preparing for and conducting trials; performing legal research, analysis and writing; advocating before state and administrative regulatory agencies; interfacing with public officials and coordinating with other organizations. The attorney will be responsible for working with SCELP attorneys in the Georgetown, Beaufort and Greenville offices on developing, managing and litigating cases in state and federal court, as well as engaging in legal advocacy, interacting with local, state, and federal agencies, other environmental organizations, and the public.

Applicants should have a minimum of 3-5 years of litigation experience, with a strong preference for environmental litigation. Applicants must also have a strong academic background and outstanding writing, analytic, and communication skills. Applicants must have a solid work ethic, as well as the ability to work well independently and with others as part of an effective team. Applicants should have experience with environmental statues, including the Clean Water Act and National Environmental Policy Act. A demonstrated personal commitment to environmental protection is required. A personal connection to South Carolina and experience with non-profit organizations are preferred.

Competitive non-profit salary commensurate with experience, including full benefits and a positive working environment. If you have these qualifications and are seeking a challenging and rewarding environmental litigation position, please send a letter of interest, resume, law school transcript, and at least three references. SCELP is an Equal Opportunity Employer and is continually seeking to diversify its staff. We strongly encourage applications from persons of all racial and ethnic backgrounds.

South Carolina Access to Justice Commission Executive Director

The South Carolina Access to Justice Commission was established by the Supreme Court of South Carolina in 2007. The Commission is part of a national effort, led by the American Bar Association, to expand access to civil legal representation for low-income and disadvantaged people.

The Commission's priorities are to: assess essential civil legal needs of South Carolinians with low income and modest means; foster collaboration and coordination among legal service providers; promote education and outreach on the gap in civil legal services; encourage greater pro bono participation by members of the bar; support increased funding to expand access to justice; support programs and resources to assist self-represented litigants; and recommend new initiatives and technology to expand civil access to justice.

The Executive Director is responsible for:

1. Leading the organization and ensuring the strategic plans and visions of the Commission are achieved;
2. Identifying impediments to access to justice and strategies to overcome them;
3. Developing close relationships with other legal services agencies;
4. Planning Commission meetings, including sending notice of meetings to Commission members, preparing meeting Agendas, and recording meeting minutes;
5. Running and consistently updating the Commission's social media accounts;
6. Writing grants; and
7. Keeping records of receipts and all monies spent by the Commission.

The candidate should have a law degree and substantial legal experience.
