

Advanced Mandated Reporter Training

Recognizing and Reporting Child Abuse and Neglect

Who should attend: Professionals who have already completed the Children's Law Center's Recognizing and Reporting Child Abuse and Neglect Training (Mandated Reporter Training) and would like to gain further knowledge related to mandated reporting

Overview: The Advanced Mandated Reporter Training includes a review on the role and responsibilities of the mandated reporter, long-term consequences of child abuse and neglect, and recent legislative changes to the statutes that govern mandated reporting. This training will also introduce a new Children's Law Center publication regarding frequently asked questions, and participants will work through an advanced reporting scenario exercise. This two-hour course is designed for individuals who have already attended a Children's Law Center Mandated Reporter training or Train the Trainer session. The purpose of this training is to enhance existing knowledge on the topic of mandated reporting.
