Update on Research Goals
Dr. Spinale reviewed the research goals outlined in the Strategic Plan. He discussed how they need to be modified/updated as we continue to envision the future strategic plan for medical research in the SOM. He shared that the SOM NIH research productivity this year was at a five-year high, exceeding $14 million. Dr. Kevin Bennett provided an overview of the many activities of the Research Center for Transforming Health, which continues to expand its services and impact four years after its creation. Dr. Michael Ryan summarized the growth in research collaboration between the SOM and VA Health System, which will likely continue to grow in the coming years. During the ensuing discussion, planning for upcoming center grant submissions were outlined and plans for enhancing student research opportunities were reviewed.

Feedback from Committee Members
Each committee member was given an opportunity to respond to the question: What do you view as the greatest opportunity to advance research within the School of Medicine Columbia over the next two years?
