CLASS OF 2026 WHITE COAT OATH

OUR GRATITUDE

To our family, the journey to this point is not something that we could have done alone. We are grateful that you gave us the love, support, and encouragement to be standing here today.

To our community and mentors, the guidance you provided is a testament to our success. We were not born knowing how to pursue a career in medicine, yet our community gave us the inspiration and guidance to do so. Our mentors became an imperative part of our development into future physicians, and the life lessons you instilled will be cherished and passed on to the next generation.

To our village, community, mentors, and family, your contributions have never and will never go unnoticed. Thank you.

OUR OATH

To our future selves and the communities, we will serve, we commit to uphold the ideals which have guided us to this point and to grow in the principles we are learning now as we aim to be healers.

We acknowledge that to fulfill this commitment, we must give ourselves to the pursuit of excellence in all aspects of medicine. We vow to adopt a disposition of humility and curiosity. We will maintain this curiosity by promising to adapt to the ever ambiguous and evolving art of medicine.

We will examine the root causes of diseases and remain non-judgmental. As we strive for excellence, we recognize that we will inevitably make mistakes. We vow to always aim towards the good and avoid that which is malevolent.

We recognize that medicine is based on the premise that to be human is to possess a certain dignity and value which must be preserved. We recognize and value our patient's vulnerability and are committed to practicing compassion and empathy. We therefore vow to remember that, beyond a disease, we are treating people, and our role as physicians is to serve others, not ourselves.

We vow to hold ourselves and each other accountable to this oath. To do so, we must continually return to this oath reminding ourselves that medicine is a life-long journey and that the journey itself is the destination.
