Featuring a leadership session for students and band directors by Dr. Tim Lautzenheiser

JUNE 20-22, 2019

The University of South Carolina Drum Major and Leadership Clinic provides high school drum majors and leaders with three days of instruction in basic conducting technique, score study, advanced musicianship, vocal commands, salutes, music and marching instruction, and dynamic leadership.

Three specialized levels of small-group conducting provide students with hands on experience and optional private lessons give students individual instruction to take back to their school. The clinic is open to all rising 10th-12th grade students.
