ACTIVE

UG3HD096929-01 (PIs; Iwelunmor/Ezechi/Tucker) 9/1/18 – 8/31/20
 NIH/NICHD $2,329,233

ITEST: Innovative Tools to Expand Youth-Friendly HIV Self-Testing

The goal of this project is to create innovative tools to expand youth-friendly HIV self-testing using crowdsourcing and apprenticeships designed for youth by youth themselves. This work will expand research on implementation science by addressing the role of participation, innovation, and entrepreneurship may play in sustaining youth-led implementation and dissemination of evidenced-based HIV self-testing strategies in Nigeria.

Role: Consultant

R00MH110343 (PI: Conserve) 8/01/18-7/31/21
 NIH/NIMH $746,989

Acceptability and Feasibility of Unsupervised HIV self-testing among Networks of Men in Tanzania

This project aims to develop, implement, and evaluate the efficacy of a peer-led HIV self-testing intervention versus standard of care on HIV testing and linkage to care among social networks of men.

Role: Principal Investigator

R01MH111602 (PI: Thirumurthy) 09/15/16-06/30/21
 NIH/NIMH

Secondary distribution of HIV self-tests by female sex workers: an innovative strategy for promoting male partner testing and reducing HIV risk

Goals: This study is a randomized trial that will assess whether provision of multiple HIV self-tests to female sex workers in Kenya is effective in promoting greater awareness of HIV status in high risk, hard-to-reach segments of the population and also facilitating safer sexual decision-making.

Role: K99/R00 Postdoctoral Fellow

NC TraCS Pilot Program Award (PI: Conserve) 10/1/17-7/31/19
University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill $2,000

Formative Research to Test Acceptability of an HIV Self-Testing Virtual Reality (VR) Intervention among Young Black Heterosexual Men in North Carolina

The objective of the proposed study is to assess the acceptability of an HIV self-testing VR program among young heterosexual black men in North Carolina.

Role: Principal Investigator

COMPLETED

ASPIRE-II Award (PI: Frongillo) 07/2017-06/2018
University of South Carolina $100,000

Positioning USC for Global Prominence in Research on Prevention and Management of Chronic Disease

The goals of this project are to adapt and pilot-test Malawi's intervention RETAIN for engaging male partners in the support and care of HIV-positive women in Haiti receiving antiretroviral treatment.

Role: Co-Investigator

K99MH110343 (PI: Conserve) 8/01/16-7/31/18
NIH/NIMH $166,100

Acceptability and Feasibility of Unsupervised HIV self-testing among Networks of Men in Tanzania

This project aimed to conduct formative research to assess the pilot an unsupervised HIV self-testing acceptability and feasibility intervention among networks of men who socialize in organized social groups referred to as "camps" in Dar es Salaam, Tanzania.

Role: Principal Investigator

USAID FHI360 (UNC PI: Weir) 07/03/14-01/31/19

Linkages across the continuum of HIV services for key populations affected by HIV

This USAID-funded contract drew on resources at the University of North Carolina (UNC), FHI360, and IntraHealth to reduce loss-to-follow-up along the HIV testing, linkage and care cascade in Africa and Southeast Asia and Haiti.

Role: Consultant

1R43MH104102-01 (PIs: Hightow-Weidman/McDaniel) 09/01/14-08/31/16
NIH/NIMH

Tough Talks: A Disclosure Intervention for HIV+ YMSM

In this intervention, the team created a novel prevention tool using virtual reality programming and natural language processing software to support skill building for sexual health communication with intimate partners regarding disclosure of HIV status. My role on this grant was to assist with qualitative data analysis and co-authoring the main research paper from the formative research conducted to inform the design and pilot testing of the intervention.

Role: T32 Postdoctoral Fellow

1R01MH098690-01 (PI: Maman) 07/16/12-03/31/17
NIH/NIMH

A Multilevel Intervention to Reduce HIV Risk among Networks of Men in Tanzania

The goal of this cluster-randomized trial was to evaluate the efficacy of a multilevel intervention to reduce HIV risk and perpetration of gender-based violence among social networks of young men in Dar es Salaam. My role on this grant was to prepare the process evaluation tools, gain intervention development skills, co-author research papers, and secure grant funding from UNC CFAR to conduct formative research to develop an HIV self-testing intervention for men.

Role: T32 Postdoctoral Fellow

Center for AIDS Research (CFAR) Developmental Award 10/2015- 4/31/18

UNC Center for AIDS Research $25,324

Formative Research to Test the Feasibility and Acceptability of Supervised HIV self-testing among Young Men in Dar es Salaam, Tanzania.

The goal of this project was to conduct mixed-methods formative research to inform the development and implementation of an HIV self-testing intervention among networks of men in Tanzania.

Role: Principal Investigator

R01AA018084 (PI: Malow)

09/30/08- 05/31/14

NIH/NIAA

Intervening with Haitian HIV+ Alcohol Users: An Environmental Psychosocial Framework

The goal of this project was to assess a randomized trial of a Cognitive-Behavioral Stress Management intervention for enhancing safer sex practices in a predominantly poor urban area with Haitian HIV+ Alcohol Users. My role on this grant was to conduct secondary analyses using the baseline data to co-author a research paper on factors associated with HIV status disclosure.

Role: Graduate Student Fellow

R21 MH076447 (PI: Mukherjee)

09/30/05 – 08/31/08

NIH/NIMH

Psychosocial Intervention in HIV-affected children in Haiti

The goal of this project was to examine the feasibility of conducting a psychosocial support group intervention with HIV-affected youth and their caregivers in rural Haiti in collaboration between Harvard Medical School researchers and Zanmi Lasante psychosocial and mental health team. My role on this grant was to conduct qualitative data analyses to co-author two research papers on maternal HIV disclosure and the effect of maternal HIV illness on their children's wellbeing and development.

Role: Graduate Student Fellow

Africana Research Award /Hintz Graduate Fellowship 06/1/12 – 12/20/13

Examining the psychosocial, cultural, and sexual experiences of HIV-positive Haitian immigrants in New York.

Pennsylvania State University

The purpose of this project was to examine the psychosocial, cultural, and sexual experience of HIV-positive Haitian immigrants in New York.

Role: Principal Investigator

PENDING RESEARCH GRANTS
