

Arnold School of Public Health

University of South Carolina

2017 Faculty Service Award

About the Award

The Faculty Service Award recognizes a faculty member who has provided exceptional outreach to the community; made significant contributions to the public health practice setting; or provided leadership in professional organizations or university governance. The Faculty Service Award, which includes a $1,000 honorarium and a commemorative plaque, is presented annually at the Arnold School of Public Health Hooding Ceremony in May.

Eligibility

All full-time faculty members who have been at the Arnold School of Public Health for at least three years are eligible for the award. However, previous award winners must wait a minimum of five years before being considered again.

Who Can Nominate?

Nominations for this award may be submitted by Arnold School of Public Health faculty, staff, students or alumni, a public health practice partner, or any other community organization.

Note: Self-nomination and self-solicitation of nomination are prohibited. Selection committee members may not nominate faculty members for this award.

Procedure to Nominate a Faculty Member

To nominate a faculty member, complete a nomination form and submit to the Arnold School of Public Health Office of Faculty Affairs and Curriculum.

www.sph.sc.edu

Each nominee may be asked to provide appropriate documentation, so a justification of the nominee's contribution is optional. The nomination form is on the back of this flyer or can be downloaded from www.asph.sc.edu/email/pdf/Research.pdf. The completed nomination should be given to Jane Anderson in the Office of Faculty Affairs and Curriculum, PHRC 422 or anders16@mailbox.sc.edu.

Selection Process

The Faculty Service Award selection committee will consider any combination of the following:

- Community service, including impact on expanding the learning experience of students, establishing community/practice partnerships, and generating activity that will improve the health status of a specific community or target population.
- Professional service, including recognized leadership in appropriate organizations.
- Exceptional service within the university, whether at the department, school, or university level.

Note: The selection committee reserves the right not to make an award.

Selection Committee Members

Award selection will be made by a committee comprised of previous Faculty Service Award recipients from within the Arnold School of Public Health.
