This Is Public Health

Many of you are already familiar with the This is Public Health campaign which is now found in nearly 50 countries around the world. The TIPH campaign offers opportunities for you to engage others in identifying public health in the world around them and promoting awareness of public health to others. Follow This is Public Health on social media to stay up to date on news and events. You can also share your own public health activities using #ThisIsPublicHealth.

Public Health Jobs

Kick-start your job search, advance your career, or volunteer to help fight the COVID-19 pandemic by visiting publichealthjobs.org. Connect with employers from across the globe, upload your resume and explore all of the incredible opportunities in the public health workforce. Public Health Jobs is a free resource for both job seekers and employers and serves as the recommended search engine for public health job opportunities, from entry to executive level.

Become CPH Certified !

The Certified in Public Health (CPH) Credential is an opportunity to demonstrate your overall understanding of public health knowledge as well as a commitment to advancement in the field. This credential is a valuable next step in your public health career to distinguish your academic success and strengthen the public health workforce. To learn more about eligibility and the credential process, visit nbphe.org.

Student Leadership Institute at APHA

The Student Leadership Institute is an annual skill-building and networking opportunity for student leaders at ASPPH member institutions. The Institute is planned by the ASPPH Student Services Assembly and usually held in conjunction with APHA's Annual Meeting. If you are interested in participating, please speak with your program's student services staff, or visit thisispublichealth.org/events for registration information. Registration opens in early fall for the institute.

This is Public Health Student Ambassadors

ASPPH sponsors the This Is Public Health Ambassadors program. Current graduate students in the program champion public health and graduate education opportunities in their local communities. Students are nominated by the admissions or student services staff at ASPPH member institutions. Contact your program's admissions team to learn more about participating in the program.

ASPPH's Friday Letter is one of the most comprehensive ways to keep a pulse on public health. Subscribe to the (free) Friday Letter for the latest news in public health by visiting <https://www.aspph.org/fridayletter/>.
