

Rural Health Lecture Series

Rural Poverty: Consequences for Health and Learning

Tuesday, October 25

11 a.m. – Noon

USC Alumni Center 900 Senate Street

Join us for our first in a new series of lectures focused on issues impacting our rural communities. Free and open to the public.

Sponsored by the University of South Carolina and the South Carolina Office of Rural Health

UNIVERSITY OF
SOUTH CAROLINA
Arnold School of Public Health

South Carolina Office of Rural Health

Speaker:

Cynthia "Mil" Duncan, PhD
Director, Carsey Institute
University of New Hampshire
Author of the "Worlds Apart" book series

Parking: Parking in the Park Street garage is $1 for the first 30 minutes then $1 for the 2nd 30 minutes. After that it is a $1 an hour. The Alumni Center entrance is on the 2nd floor of the garage.

For more information: godboldj@mailbox.sc.edu or 803-251-6317