Immediate Opening - Gamecock Recovery Coordinator

The University of South Carolina is seeking a Gamecock Recovery Coordinator within Substance Abuse Prevention & Education in the Office of the Dean of Students. This position will work collaboratively to create a safe, healthy learning environment that supports the personal and academic success of all students, particularly those seeking recovery support services. This position will be responsible for developing educational initiatives, providing support for students in recovery, and building a campus environment that supports recovery.

Job duties:
The Gamecock Recovery Coordinator is responsible for promoting a healthy environment and lifestyle for students in recovery by providing tools and support for academic success, professional development, and campus and community support. The Coordinator will develop events, workshops, and other co-curricular programming, education and marketing materials to reduce stigma related to addiction and recovery and to build support for Gamecock Recovery across campus and in the community. The coordinator will also plan, coordinate, implement, and evaluate appropriate support programs for students in recovery, including planning educational, social, and service opportunities that connect students in recovery to each other and the USC experience. In addition, this position will provide direct support to individual students in recovery, including creating recovery support plans as appropriate, and connecting students to a referral network of campus and community resources.

Preferred Qualifications:
The preferred candidate has a Master’s degree in Public Health, Counseling, Psychology or Social Work and excellent public speaking skills. Familiarity with various pathways to recovery and a recovery oriented continuum of care as well as experience in recovery support or student support is preferred. Current certification as a Peer Support Specialist or Recovery Coach or eligible to become certified. Experience in higher education setting or with young adults as well as experience in program development is preferred.

Minimum Qualifications:
Master’s degree in Student Services or related field and 2 years of related experience or bachelor’s degree and 4 years related experience. Strong organization, verbal and written communication skills.

Application process:
Candidates must apply via the University of South Carolina employment system by June 7th:
